Prohibition Bill Over Governor's Veto.

Patterson's Violent Opposition and Carmack Trial Aid State-wideers.

Women Resent Attack on Motives by Chief Executive in Message.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State-wide prohibition bill was passed over Gov. Patterson's savage veto by both houses of the Tennessee Legislature today. The surprise was the seven majority for it in the Senate, which was claimed by the liquor interests.

The Governor's vehement veto and the Carmack murder trial rallied the State-wideers to victory. Directly after the Senate convened today the Governor's veto of the State-wide bill was taken up, and after a long debate was overridden by a vote of 20 to 13, the same vote by which the original bill had been passed.

The crowd which had packed the Senate galleries during the debate on the veto, then surged over into the galleries of the House, where the result was a foregone conclusion. In the House the veto message was at once read and the debate on it taken up. About 5:30 o'clock the vote was taken, being 61 to 36.

Under the bill the sale of liquor is prohibited throughout Tennessee after July 1.

Debate on the prohibition measure was cut short in the Senate, the Committee on Rules interrupting Senator Cox, by [illegible] to the effect that [illegible]

Particularly strong speeches were made in the Senate by Senators Cox, Cummings, Bankers Senter and Pope for the local optionists and by Senator

FINE TO FILL THREE CARS.

Oil Company Will Pay Judgment Obtained by Texas in Silver Dollars.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to a Waters-Pierce attorney here, the judgment of $1,623,000 which was obtained by the State against the oil company, will be paid in silver dollars delivered at the State treasury. The judgment and interest will amount to almost $2,000,000.

If the judgment is paid in silver dollars, the money will weigh 101,425 pounds, amounting to about three carloads and it will take an expert forty days to count the money.

OLD-FANGLED NOTION.

KANSAS WANTS NO AFFINITIES.

LAW WILL MAKE NEW FAD AN UGLY FELONY.

Bill, Providing Penal Sentence for Deserting Wife or Child and for Eloping With Husband or Wife of Another, Will Pass Legislature and Gov. Stubbs Will Sign It.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The "affinity" business will not be popular in Kansas hereafter. It is certain that a law, making it a felony, will pass the Legislature and Gov. Stubbs has promised to sign it. Senator Travis of Iola introduced the bill. It makes it a felony for a married woman to run away with another man and vice versa.

Then a temporary "affinity" is punishable by a jail sentence. Any man who deserts his wife or a legitimate child under 14 years of age, will be guilty of a crime, punishable by a jail or penitentiary sentence. The same punishment is to be meted out to a wife. If a man refuses to support his wife or child, he must go to jail.

Another bill which seems certain of passage provides that brides and [illegible] shall be subjected to strict [illegible] before they are granted license to marry. In addition to the regular questions as to age, consent of parents, etc., they must each give a "family history," dating back through several generations.

ROLL OF HONOR.

REWARDED HEROES.

Carnegie Medals to Life-Savers.

Indians of Needles Placed on the List as First of That Race.

Widows of Those Who Died to Save Lives Are Also Remembered.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] California scored heavily in the awards of the Carnegie hero fund commission today. There were twenty-six new heroes and heroines named, each getting medals or money, in most cases both.

For the first time in history Indians figured in the awards. Peter Dean and George Saltamah, Mojave Indians of Needles, Cal., saved the lives of a Mrs. McCune and her son on the Colorado River in San Bernardino county, California, July 11, 1907. The river was swift, it being at flood height. The Indians jumped from the steamer Hercules, and after a fearful battle Mrs. McCune and her son were saved.

Dean was swept away by the current and lost. His wife gets a silver medal and $25 per month for life. Saltamah gets a silver medal and $1000.

George I. Roberts is given a bronze medal for saving the life of Agnes M. Gettine at Antioch, Cal., March 17, 1908. The young woman had been knocked from a trestle into the San Joaquin River and would have drowned had Roberts not jumped off the train into the water with her and managed to save her.

LITTLE GIRL HEROINE.

Little Florence Whaley, at San Diego, Cal., gets a bronze medal and [illegible] of Parke W. Whaley, a child of seven years, August 25, 1906. The child was drowning in the Pacific Ocean when Florence, who was but 13 years of age, went after him. The girl wants to be a trained nurse and the $2000 will be for her education.

Mrs. Lula V. Barnes, widow of Charles Barnes of Pioneer, Cal., is given a silver medal and $50 per month for life or until she remarries. Barnes lost his life December 23, 1904, in a tank car while trying to rescue some unfortunates who had been overcome by gas while in the cars. In addition to the $50, Mrs. Barnes is allowed an additional $5 monthly for each of her two children until they reach the age of 16 years.

OLD WOMAN REWARDED.

Sarah H. Killikelly of Pittsburgh, who is 70 years of age, received a silver medal and $75 per month for the rest of her life for the remarkable feat of saving the life of a neighbor's servant girl. Miss Killikelly is somewhat famous as a writer. Last September, while she was calling on a neighbor, the clothing of the servant took fire. She grasped the servant and threw her down on the floor, throwing a rug over her, and holding her down and calling to her at the same time to keep her mouth closed so as not to inhale the flames. The aged woman inhaled some of the flames herself and for some time she was laid up, but she has now fully recovered.

Abner L. Kuykendall of Beaumont, Tex., is given a bronze medal for a peculiar feat of life saving. He risked his own life to save that of an unknown tramp at Beaumont, December 21, 1907. He threw the tramp from the rails and rolled over with him. The tramp fled and has never been seen since.

JILTED AGAIN, MARQUIS SEEKS A FORTUNE.

Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt. Marquis of Anglesey.

American Divorcee and Englishman Spurned, but not discouraged, for he sailed yesterday for America to continue search for girl with money who will marry him.

HEIRESS HUNTING.

JILTED BY DIVORCEE, MARQUIS COMES HERE.

Anglesey, Refused by Elsie French Vanderbilt, Sails for New York With Bertie Paget to Look Over Four Hundred's Eligible List.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, divorced wife of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, is reported to have turned a deaf ear to the wooing of the Marquis of Anglesey, and now the young man is going to America in hopes of courting another rich woman with better success. He sailed today for New York with his cousin, Bertie Paget.

Mrs. Vanderbilt is expected at [illegible] the beautiful country seat [illegible] sisters are to go south for a trip [illegible] will return to London to take part in some of the gayeties of the early season.

Before Miss French married Vanderbilt she had many admirers on this side, notably the son of a popular Duke, who is still unmarried.

The romantically inclined are weaving an interesting and circumstantial story anent this fact. In the old days Miss French refused the Scotch nobleman, but her friends think she may now be touched by his constancy, and if his addresses were renewed, as they are sure to be, if she cares to raise her little finger, that she may be disposed to say "yes."

It is announced that the Marquis of Anglesey and Bertie Paget will pass some time in New York, possibly to look over the eligibles of "Gotham's 400," and will then make an extensive tour of the western part of the United States and Canada. His Lordship is [illegible] leaders on this side.

Both Lord Anglesey and young Paget are credited with unfortunate love affairs. Anglesey is said to have aspired to the hand of Princess "Patsey" of Connaught, and she favored his suit, but her parents, as well as the King, nipped the romance in the bud. The Princess is now looking very wearied and bored, and prematurely sedate.

STIRLING DIVORCE CASE.

MRS. ATHERTON MAKES MERRY CO-RESPONDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EDINBURGH, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the Stirling double divorce hearing today, the nurse of Mrs. Stirling's baby caused great amusement by violently denouncing Mr. Stirling for heartlessly deceiving his innocent, truthful wife.

"He ought to be shot," exclaimed the nurse on the witness stand, shaking her fist at Mr. Stirling.

He was sitting, shame-faced, beside the fascinating Mrs. Mabel Louise Atherton, who is named in the wife's petition as co-respondent.

Mrs. Atherton burst into laughter, rippling, musical laughter, which disclosed her exquisite, pearly teeth and made her bewitching eyes gleam with merriment.

The stern judge frowned surlily at the beauty's outburst, giving warning that the court was not a theater, and that he would clear it if such an unbecoming demonstration was repeated.

Mrs. Atherton immediately assumed a pose and expression of mock gravity, which made the throng of smart society listeners in the courtroom titter.

MRS. STIRLING AS WITNESS.

Mrs. Stirling (who, before her marriage, was Miss Clara Elizabeth Taylor of Washington) was a good witness in admitting damaging allegations in regard to Viscount Northland (heir of the Earl of Ranfarly, who is named as co-respondent by her husband, John Alexander Stirling.

Mrs. Stirling had two cardinal difficulties to surmount. The first was to convince the court that, despite her husband's constant attention to the beautiful Mrs. Atherton, and even after he had insisted on occupying a room separate from his wife, she never suspected that anything was wrong until the nurse wrote to her while she was in America last August that Mr. Stirling and Mrs. Atherton proposed to take her baby with them to the Isle of Wight.

The second difficulty was to rebut the suggestion that the real reason she quarreled with her husband was not because of Mrs. Atherton, but because he demanded that she should see Northland no more. Her own letters to Northland contained confessions of love and expressions of remorse at deceiving her husband, and in them she protested that she could not continue always "being a rotter."

NORTHLAND IS COOL.

The presumption was that Mrs. Stirling evidently wanted a divorce so that Northland could marry her. But if that were true, his ardor has cooled, and if she wins her suit she never can become Lady Northland or the Countess of Ranfarly.

Mrs. Atherton's maid is expected to give strong evidence against her mistress and Mr. Stirling, but Mrs. Atherton will seek to nullify it by charging that she had dismissed the maid from her service for stealing seventy-eight pairs of new gloves.

All four parties to the cross-suits had affectionate nicknames for each other, calling Mrs. Atherton "Nancy," Mr. Stirling "Jacky," Lord Northland "Patty" and Mrs. Stirling "Clare Dear."

GATES IN MINING DEAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That John W. Gates, the plunger, known also as "Bet you a million" Gates, now visiting his son Charles at Pasadena, is going to Mexico City on his return trip in connection with mining concessions formerly held by Col. W. C. Greene, was indicated by his plans told to railroad men at this city. Thus far the officials of Mexico have refused to allow filings on the concessions of Col. Greene which expired January 12.

Railroad officials here were apprised of Mr. Gates's intention to go into Mexico early in February with a party of California capitalists. While here yesterday he ascertained that the regular train requires two days to make the trip from El Paso to the City of Mexico, and as he does not like to travel slowly any more than he likes to move slow in business matters, it is believed final arrangements will include a special train from here to the Mexican capital. He has expressed his intention to remain a day in El Paso on his return, to visit his old St. Louis neighbor, E. F. Hammett, who at the present time is in Los Angeles.

LADRONE REPRIEVED.

MANILA, Jan. 20.—Pope Isio, the leader of a band of fanatical ladrones which long dominated a large section of the country, who was sentenced to be hanged next Friday, has been reprieved by Gov.-Gen. Smith. He was convicted of murder and ladronism, but because of his having surrendered, the officers sent to effect his capture suggested a commutation of his sentence.

STORM DAMAGES PEACH CROP.

SILOAM SPRINGS (Ark.) Jan. 20.—Reports made to the Horticultural Association in session here indicate that the peach crop of Arkansas has been damaged to the extent of many thousands of dollars by storms and unusually severe weather.

TAMING OF SAVAGE.

San Pedro Senator Losing Hold.

Los Angeles May Win Fight for Consolidation by Striking Hard.

Anti-Race-track Bill Seems Assured of Winning on Ballot.

Woman's Suffrage Bill Was Reported Favorably by Senate Committee.

BY S. FRANK GREAVES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despite all the smooth tricks of Senator Savage of San Pedro to block any effort of the well-wishers of Los Angeles and San Pedro to bring about the consolidation of the two cities in the interests of better harbor facilities for all of Southern California, it developed today that the wily old fighter, with a name suggestive of the reds who in the early days fought from behind trees, has not succeeded in getting everything to come his way. There are complications this year that did not exist two years ago and it may be that all the clever dodges of Savage will not succeed in their design.

Up to this time it has been almost one way with the San Pedro Senator. He has aligned Senator Leavitt of Oakland on his side, but Leavitt at this session, quite contrary to the conditions that existed two years ago, is leader of a losing element, for he is the chief booster of all legislation friendly to the race tracks, and the sands of that gentry are running low.

Now is the time for Los Angeles to strike and to strike hard for what it wants and there are four more Senators, two from Los Angeles, and nine Assemblymen, who are disposed to be [illegible] Senate Committee on Municipal Corporations, has succeeded in bottling up all consolidation matters in that committee but he cannot keep them there long, for Oakland has a consolidation scheme of its own and its energetic Senators will get some action within a few days, though it remains to be seen whether or not this will affect in any way the Los Angeles-San Pedro plan.

There is hope now that Los Angeles will get some consideration, though Leavitt and Wolfe of the Senate are bitter against the Los Angeles delegation because of its strong stand on the race-track bill.

FLEMING ON SCENE.

A. P. Fleming, secretary of the Los Angeles Harbor Commission, reached here today and has renewed the campaign for the passage of the bills introduced by McCartney and Leeds, which will give Los Angeles and San Pedro what they desire, and the prospects appear brighter today than ever before.

Savage's three bills, aimed to defeat consolidation and a greater water frontage, are for a two-thirds majority in favor of consolidation in both cities, a two-thirds vote in favor of the disincorporation of any part of San Pedro, and the creation of a State harbor commission for San Pedro, the latest development in which is an amendment now that will cause one of the commissioners to be chosen from Long Beach, another from Wilmington, and the third from San Pedro.

RACE TRACKS LOSING.

After a long bitter fight in the Assembly this afternoon, all proposed amendments to the Walker-Otis anti-race-track bill (the Hughes New York bill) were defeated and, despite the desperate efforts of the opponents of the measure to cause delay, it will come up for action by the House at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The temper of the Speaker and of a majority of the members of the House was so evident during the debate that Assemblyman Otis said tonight that he had no doubt that the bill would pass.

The opponents of the bill fought for many amendments, but were beaten by a large majority on each vote taken. Assemblyman Edward T. Butler of Marin county tried to amend the measure so as to incorporate the more drastic restrictions of the bill introduced by Senator Martinelli, which is directed at those who play the races as well as the bookmakers, the bill being designed to stop poolroom gambling. Butler said that his objections to the Walker-Otis bill were that under its provisions it would be necessary to secure the testimony of witnesses showing that races in foreign countries or in other States upon which bets were made actually took place before any action could be brought against the bettors. In presenting the Hughes bill Assemblyman Otis said that if it had served its purpose in New York it would prove just as efficacious in California.

Grove L. Johnson of Sacramento said that the Hughes bill would not hold water in this State and favored the Butler amendment. After that amendment had been voted down, Johnson offered another amendment prohibiting the laying of wagers on automobile contests. This also was voted down.

DROWNED LIKE RATS.

FIFTY-THREE MEN LOST IN LAKE TUNNEL.

Workmen In Crib off Shore of Lake Michigan at Chicago, Roused by Explosion, Have Only Time to Jump into Water and Drown.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—At least fifty-three workmen are included among the list of missing and the majority of these are known to be dead, as the result of a fire that had its origin today in a powder vault attached to the intermediate crib in Lake Michigan, used in the construction of a new water tunnel connecting with the south side of the city at Seventy-third street.

Ninety-five workmen were employed in the crib and in the connecting tunnel at the time of the fire.

The city fire boats, as well as the tugs of the construction company are making frequent trips to the scene of the disaster through the heavy ice floes.

Owing to the difficulty small craft experienced in reaching the crib during the winter, the majority of the workmen employed on the work and particularly those who were without families slept in temporary structures at the crib. Just as these had been awakened for the day's work, the explosion occurred. So far as known the explosion had its origin in a small powder-house about 100 yards from the crib structure proper, but a part of the general structure built on foundations resting on the bottom of the lake.

AROUSED BY HEAT.

In some way the powder and dynamite exploded. It was not until the heat of the flames and the stifling smoke penetrated the so-called "living-room" of the crib and the tunnel beneath the waters of the lake, that the full import of the disaster dawned upon the little colony of workmen cut off almost completely from assistance.

One of the workmen made his way through the smoke to the little inclosure, in which telephone communication had been established with the shore station. The drowsy attendant at this point received this message:

"The crib is on fire. For God's sake send help at once or we will be burned alive. The tug——"

At this point communication ceased, and through the fog an occasional burst of flames and an unmistakable odor of smoke made it known to the watchers on shore that a tragedy was probably being enacted a mile and a half out in the lake. The tug T. T. Morford, anchored within a short distance of the imperiled crib, was early placed in service in the work of rescue.

ICE BLOCKS RESCUE.

The ice made it impossible for the tug to reach the improvised pier, but a small boat was placed in service to carry the injured to the tug and rescue those who had plunged into the lake. After several hours of work thirty-nine workmen were rescued.

When the fire tug Conway had succeeded in quenching the flames, fifty-three bodies had been carried to the shore.

DEAD IN TUNNEL.

The tunnel was being built by the George W. Jackson Company. The first section of the tunnel starts from the shore. The crib, a mile and a half out, marked the beginning of the second section being built still farther into the lake. The two sections had not joined one another yet.

Until such time as the rescuers are able to enter the water tunnel, it will not be known how many perished below the surface of the lake.

Many survivors kept themselves afloat by clinging to the ice after they had jumped from the burning crib. It is known that at least three who sought safety in this manner were drowned, but the majority were taken aboard the tug Norford.

FORBES IN BALLOON RACE.

Secretary of Aero Club Undeterred by Fall of Three Thousand Feet in Berlin Contest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Notwithstanding the thrilling experience when he and his companion, Augustus Post, fell 3000 feet in their balloon Conqueror, in the Berlin race last year, A. H. Forbes of New York, secretary of the Aero Club of America, has entered the Conqueror in the next national balloon race of the Aero Club. He will have as his companion H. Helm Clayton of the Blue Hill Observatory. Forbes recently returned from St. Louis and Indianapolis, where he has been investigating the cities as a starting point for the race. The final decision will be made this week. Forbes says that already ten balloons have been entered for the race.

RIOT TO SHOVEL SNOW.

Frenzied Mob of New York Unemployed Charged by Police, Then Given Work.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After having waited for several hours in the cold for the man who was to employ them to arrive, 3500 men took part in a riot early today when they heard that there would not be work for them all as snow shovelers.

The rioting took place at Second avenue and Second street, and continued until the frenzied mob was charged by the reserves of the East Fifth Street Station with drawn night sticks. After a long battle the men were forced into line and all were given work.

ITALIAN EARTHQUAKE.

AMERICAN AID MOST HELPFUL.

Offer to Construct Sheds Is Gladly Accepted.

Rebuilding of Cities Begun by Distant Nation.

Streets to Be Given Names from United States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME (Italy) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] America's offer to provide and build sheds throughout the earthquake area has elicited the gratitude, admiration and praise of Italy. The conviction prevails that just as American's prompt and practical aid contributed to the feeding and clothing of the survivors, and thus practically saved many lives, in like manner the building of the sheds will constitute the first steps toward the rebuilding of the ruined cities, which in the future will owe their existence in part to the distant and generous people of the New World.

The King has ordered that two of the principal streets in the new Messina and Reggio be given American names, and thus the memory of American assistance will be made lasting.

Italian authorities have been unable to provide, unaided, for the needs of all. The financial assistance of the whole world was most helpful, but it was useless for immediate use, while the practical help given by America is justly considered invaluable.

Distribution of the Celtic's cargo has been begun at Naples, which city is crowded with refugees. The building of sheds in Sicily and Calabria, now interrupted for lack of lumber, will soon be started again with the American contribution. Thousands of survivors are wearing American clothes and shoes and are fed upon American food.

NATURE'S ANGRY MOOD.

VOLCANO IN NEW ERUPTION.

MOUNT COLIMA IN MEXICO BREAKS OUT.

Detonations from Within Crater Followed by Dense Smoke, Fire, Shower of Rocks and Ashes and Danger of Flow of Lava—People Are Calm.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GUADALAJARA (Mexico) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mount Colima volcano, situated about 130 miles south of here, has shown a great increase in activity during the last few days. A violent eruption of fire and lava is now threatened. Slight tremblings of the earth in the vicinity of the volcano began to be felt five days ago.

These were followed by a series of detonations from within its crater. The smoke which it emitted, even when in its most passive state, became denser in volume and an outburst of ashes and rocks occurred yesterday.

The rain of ashes is still falling and occasionally flashes of fire from the crater light up the heavens for many miles around. It is reported that lava is flowing from the lower orifices of the crater.

Situated on the western side of the mountain, during its last violent eruption a few years ago, the summit of the mountain was blown off and openings were formed lower down through which the lava flowed in large streams, running into the deep barrancas which lead toward the sea.

The Manzanillo extension of the Mexican Central Railroad was recently built close around the eastern and southern base of the mountain. Fears are entertained that the present eruption may interfere with the operation of the road. The country adjacent to the mountain on the west is sparsely settled and little damage can result from any overflow of lava.

The people of the towns of Tuxpam and Colima are showing no uneasiness over the present eruption, although these places are close to the base of the mountain.

BATTLESHIPS IN HARBOR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SMYRNA, Jan. 20.—Another earthquake was experienced here at 2:10 this morning, but no damage was done.

More Shocks in Reggio.

REGGIO, Jan. 20.—Several additional earth shocks at short intervals were felt here today.

Ruins Still Smoking.

MESSINA, Jan. 20.—The area swept yesterday by fire in the ruins left by the earthquake is still smoking today. A cordon of troops is maintained about the burned district to be ready in case of emergency.

GOULD TO BUILD MANSION.

Edwin Will Have Fifth Avenue Residence, His First Town House.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edwin Gould will build a mansion on "Millionaire's Row." Mr. Gould has not owned a town house. He has chosen to spend most of his time at his country place on the Hudson. He has leased various houses in town, his latest residence having been the old Kemp mansion, owned by Charles W. Morse, on the northwest corner at Fifth avenue and Fifty-sixth street. The lease ran out recently and the Edwin Goulds have been staying at the Wilmerding house on Seventy-fifth street.

Mr. Gould paid $375,000 today to Mrs. H. W. Rogers for the 20.2x120 southeast corner at Fifth avenue and Seventy-fifth street, as the site for his new home. The construction will cost $100,000. The furnishings may raise his total investment to $1,000,000.

JUDGE IS DEFIANT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Threatened with being transferred and having a record of his mistakes published by Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal Court, Judge Cleland is still defiant and declares he will continue to run his court his own way. Objections to his parole system, the main feature of which is the suspended fine during the good behavior of the prisoner, have been voiced by his associates, and a committee of judges has been appointed to inquire into the legality of some of his actions.

REFORMER THREATENED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Jan. 20.—Within the last thirty days the Rev. W. A. Amis, of Hot Springs, leader of several reform measures pending before the Legislature, has received several anonymous letters which threaten him with personal violence. "I do not know that it is wise on my part to mention this fact," said he, "but the fact remains that I have been the recipient of every sort of letter for the last two years. Within the last thirty days I have received seven anonymous letters, and some of these since my return from Washington."

LACKING IN SENTIMENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Engineers on the Pennsylvania line have come to the conclusion that the residents of Brookline and Park Manor are unesthetic. The people of these suburbs have entered an objection because the engineers living there "whistle their wives" as they pass through in the night. The engineers say they have only been following a little traditional sentiment. It has been the custom of engineers, night or day, to pull a long and loving whistle that the wife may know her husband has piloted his panting behemoth safely home. The objectors say the noise makes the night hideous.

FARMERS OPPOSE SILK HATS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—A society has been launched at West Chicago under the name of the Dupage County Farmers' Protective Association. The object is to give the people of Chicago what they want in the line of milk "and make them pay for it." The sense of the organization is voiced by a member as follows: "Things have come to such a pass that now the farmer is supposed to wear a silk hat when he goes a-milking, and to use china pails in carrying the milk. In addition, our stables must be disinfected and the walks perfumed." A rise in prices is contemplated.

NOTABLES TO GATHER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—An unusual array of orators and men prominent in religious circles will add to the interest in the convention of the Religious Education Association, which convenes in Chicago Lincoln week. Among those in atendance will be Ambassador Bryce, former President Eliot of Harvard, Henry S. Pritchett of the Carnegie Foundation, Miss Jane Addams, Dr. Emil Hirsch, George Stewart, Prof. Francis G. Peabody, Prof. Harry Pratt Judson of Chicago University, and President S. C. Mitchell of the University of South Carolina.

TRICKSTERS GET GEMS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Thieves yesterday secured $1100 worth of precious stones from William Rassweiler, a diamond merchant. A tall man with a black mustache entered Rassweiler's offices and told him he was wanted at a telephone across the hall. Leaving an assistant in the room, Mr. Rassweiler went to the telephone. While Mr. Rassweiler was talking to an accomplice of the first man, the fellow entered the office for the second time and told the assistant that his employer wished to see him immediately. The assistant ran out, and while he was away the thief took two papers of diamonds from an open safe.

ROBBER LANDS IN CREEK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DENVER, Jan. 20.—William Cain, a miner, 50 years old last night, put to rout in a summary fashion a hold-up who attempted to rob him on the Cherry Creek bridge at Fourteenth and Market streets, not a block away from the Police Station. Cain says that when he was in the middle of the bridge, the robber ordered him to throw up his hands. Instead, Cain seized his assailant and tossed him over the railing into the bed of the creek. The police later found footprints in the sand leading from the spot where the miner says he threw the would-be robber.

DRUGGISTS AND DOCTORS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—A code of ethics which will bring closer together the medical and pharmaceutical professions and result in the betterment of public service, has been determined upon by the Chicago Medical Society and the Chicago Retail Druggists' Association. A committee from both organizations will formulate a general code of action.

Why not Use It in Your Homes?

The most perfect tooth wash can be enjoyed by using DENTOL, the famous French dentifrice. To try it is to adopt it.

If a man has that tired feeling, a Bunker Hill will help. Strictly sanitary. All druggists.

TENNESSEE "DRY."

Askew and Baskerville for the State-widers.

Senator Mansfiel, the Republican whom Mr. Fort characterized "the Blucher from McMinn," did not make a speech, although by the original plan he was to have made the motion to pass the bill over the Governor's veto, the opening speech for State-wide being made by Lane of Williamson.

In the House the debate was equally warm, but the result there was a foregone conclusion.

The language in Gov. Patterson's veto which was characterized as most intemperate and uncalled for, was his denunciation of the use of women and children in parades for prohibition. The women of the State, many prominent and influential, who swarmed at the State Capitol all day, resented the Governor's insinuation that they had not voluntarily paraded for temperance, but had been dragged into the processions by professional politicians. Other alleged intemperate statements of the Governor which were resented were the following:

"Vicious and undemocratic as I believe this measure to be, forced upon communities without their consent, it will be my duty as Governor to try to enforce it, and no man who breaks it need expect from me any different treatment than will be accorded other violators; but before you make it the law over my veto, you shall not in the name of morality commit an immoral act, and in the name of the public welfare commit this political crime, without hearing through me the voice of an indignant, protesting and outraged people."

A BRUZZI LETTER TO KING DENIL

ITALIAN ROYALTY IN DARK AS TO DUKE'S RESIGNATION.

Best Friends of His Highness Credit Story That He Intends to Give up Rank and Title in Order to Be Free to Wed Miss Katherine Elkins.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the Italian royal family would make no comment today on the report that the Duke of the Abruzzi intended to resign his rank and title in order to be free to marry Miss Katherine Elkins. A member of the suite of King Victor Emmanuel, the Duke's cousin, denied that the King had received a letter from the Duke in which the latter resigned his naval command.

Friends of the Duke are divided in their opinion, but those who know him best credit the story. These have always contended that the Duke's affair with Miss Elkins was a genuine love match, and that the Duke would let nothing stand in the way of his wooing.

The report was sent to the Petit Parisien by the Turin correspondent of the paper, who is believed to have predicted his story on the fact that the Duke did not accompany the Italian fleet, in which he is a captain, on its trip to the quake region.

LEAVES LONDON FOR TURIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Duke of the Abruzzi, who has been in London incognito, departed for Turin today, declining absolutely to discuss the reports relative to Miss Katherine Elkins and himself. His stay here was for the purpose of equipping an expedition which he will soon make into the Himalayas. He will depart on the journey before the end of the month.

The Italian Embassy today denied all knowledge of the report that the Duke would renounce his title to wed Miss Elkins. Messages from Turin say it is impossible to confirm the report

LAUNCH BURNS, MEN IN WATER.

EXPLOSION SINKS BOAT WHILE OCCUPANTS SWIM.

Three Chicago Business Men Cast Upon an Island Containing Only Convicts, and They Narrowly Escape Being Shot as Jail-breakers. Taken Care of at Prison Stockade.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Three prominent Chicago business men, J. W. Thorne, J. W. Hall and W. M. Townsend, have just returned from a trip down the Mississippi River, which almost cost them their lives.

While thirty-five miles south of Vicksburg, at lunch, Hall detected the odor of gasoline. Thorne, who was in charge of the engine, went back to inspect. He struck a match, and there was a sudden whiff of flame, he says, which knocked him over the side of the boat. The flames shot clear to the bow, setting their clothes on fire. Hall and Townsend leaped into the water.

While they were struggling in the river, there was a loud report, and the entire launch went up in the air. "I was half stranged," said Hall. "I could not swim, and was struggling fiercely to keep above the water. Thorne finally grabbed me, pulled my mouth above water and dragged me until we reached the shore. We heard Townsend calling for aid, and waded into the river and pulled him ashore."

The men had landed on Ursina Island, which is low and marshy, and sixteen miles long. Townsend set off, and finally found a hut.

"When I knocked at the door," he said, "a man with a gun in his hand poked his head from the window and asked me what I wanted. I told him the story. He laughed, and said: 'I know you are from the prison. There's no one else on this island. Git, and do it quick!'

"I got."

The wrecked men eventually reached the prison stockade, where they narrowly escaped being shot, but were finally admitted and taken care of.

At an early hour yesterday fire destroyed the large hay storage house of W. L. Edmundson at Houston, Tex., with 45,000 bales of hay. It is believed that three tramps who entered the building to sleep were incinerated, as they were not seen to emerge and have not since been located.

RAILWAY RECORD.

LANE OPENS BIG HEARING.

Attack on Switching Charge in San Francisco.

Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Defendants.

Case Involves Half-Million Dollars Annually.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Lane began hearing today the switching charge case against the Southern Pacific and Santa Fé railroads, involving half a million dollars in tolls annually collected from shippers and manufacturers of this city.

There were present at the hearing a number of officials of both railroads interested, several attorneys and many large shippers.

The Pacific Coast Jobbers' and Manufacturers' Association is pressing the complaint which has been made against the switching charge of $2.50 that is made on every car set upon a private or industrial side track, and the similar charge for removing it.

Seth Mann, attorney for the manufacturers and jobbers, outlined the case against the railroads. He said the San Francisco shippers contend that the published tariffs of the companies from eastern points to Pacific Coast terminals cover the full charge that may be made for the entire service of delivering a car at its destination. The switching charge of $2.50 for each car moved on and off industrial tracks, he declared, was an unreasonable rate for an insignificant service.

The railroads, he said, must have taken the cost of this switching into consideration before publishing their tariffs. It has been held by the commission that the railroads cannot segregate their rates from the East and apply a certain amount for a special feature of the carrying operation in delivering freight.

But in the case the commission should hold the switching charge legitimate, Mann argued, the present rate is entirely too high and should be reduced to a figure commensurate with the cost of the service.

The chief point of contention, however, is than San Francisco jobbers are discriminated against, as other terminals on the Coast pay no such switching charge, and therefore have a distinct advantage over this city in competing for business.

An immense map, showing the railroad tracks in this city, was introduced in evidence.

E. H. Parker, manager of the Marshall Wells Hardware Company of Portland, Or., was called as the first witness. His testimony went to show that Portland jobbers have their cars delivered to private sidings without cost, and therefore enter into competition for trade in Southern Oregon and Northern California at an advantage over San Francisco shippers.

Attorney Peter Dunne represented the Southern Pacific in the hearing, and frequently consulted with G. W. Luce, general freight agent of that company, who sat beside him.

CLERGY WIN CONCESSION.

Railroads Must Grant Half-Rates to All Ministers Duly Authorized.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatc.] Ordained ministers who have left their pastorates for some other field of religious work and other persons engaged in charitable work who have recently been cut off by the western railroads from the privileges of free or reduced transportation will have these privileges restored to them. This comes as the result of a new ruling, just issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which defines and considerably broadens the regulations under which such privileges may legally be accorded by the provisions of the Hepburn law.

Incidentally the commission takes occasion to criticise the clergy bureau of the Trans-Continental Passenger Association for a circular letter recently issued. This represents that as a result of rulings of the commission special transportation facilities must be withdrawn from many persons to whom they had hitherto been accorded.

The list included ordained clergymen, acting as editors or officially recognized church papers, as college presidents or professors, as financial agents for church, religious, or charitable institutions; brothers of religious orders, sisters of charity devoting their time to religious work, and others.

The commission has received a large number of protests against the restrictions placed upon the Hepburn law by the railroads, and takes occasion in its ruling to state that the position taken by the trans-continental clergy bureau is far in advance of anything required by law or the rulings of the commission.

Charter Subject to Forfeit.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—The Massachusetts charter of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad is declared to be subject to forfeiture in the annual report of Atty.-Gen. Malone to the Legislature, presented today, because of the action of the railroad in merging with the Consolidated Railway Company of Connecticut, and increasing its capital stock.

MRS. READ DECLARED SANE.

Woman Accused of Attempted Extortion from Mrs. Phipps May Stand Trial.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Allen F. Read, who is accused of having attempted to extort $100,000 from Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps by means of dynamite last November, has been declared sane by expert alienists appointed by the criminal court to examine her.

The report was filed with the District Attorney here secretly two days ago by Dr. E. F. Delehanty, who left yesterday for Europe. He declares that Mrs. Read never was insane and probably never will be, that she made no pretense of absent-mindedness during the examination and that there is no reason why she should not now be placed on trial.

Dr. Delehanty and Dr. E. A. Mollen, who also participated in the examination, state that the woman, so far as they can ascertain, never was addicted to the use of drugs, as had been stated by some of her friends in attempting to show that she was irresponsible.

The trial will probably take place in March.

ARIZONA SURE OF STATEHOOD.

Gov. Kibbey Is Confident of Early Action.

Practically no Opposition in Either House.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Instead of being "incensed" at the attitude of Congress on Statehood, as represented in a telegram in The Times yesterday, Gov. Kibbey entertains the very opposite views to those reported. He said today:

"The article absolutely misquotes me and represents me as voicing what evidently are simply the sentiments of the reporter. It would be foolish to show resentment of any opinions expressed by Congressmen, for Congress has yet to take action on the Statehood Bill. Nor am I incensed, as reported, over the attitude of Congress, for everything points toward early and favorable consideration of the Statehood Bill. I have received personal assurance from many Republican members of both houses that if a Statehood bill is reported from committee it will be passed with practically no opposition in either house."

It is well understood in Arizona that Gov. Kibbey remains in office at large financial sacrifice, with the expectation of being the last Territorial Governor. He believes that by retaining office he can the better further the interests of the Territory in the Statehood fight, and he has no intention whatever of resigning in the present emergency, as such action might militate against success. Indeed, he has just accepted reappointment, feeling sure that his term of office will close within this year.

Nor is there general indignation in the Territory over the situation, as reported, for the people feel sure that Statehood never was nearer at hand.

One of the most ardent supporters of enfranchisement for Arizona is Senator Flint of California, who, under date of the 14th, in a letter to Gov. Kibbey, writes in most optimistic vein of the chances for passage of a Statehood bill in the present Congress.

PHOENIX NEWS NOTES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 20.—Many inquiries by eastern papers as to the condition of John B. Moran, District Attorney of Boston, who is spending the winter here for his health, indicate that alarm is felt by his friends. Mr. Moran's health is improving daily.

The last night caused the total loss of the fixtures of the Electric Theater, with no insurance. The loss on the building, owned by E. H. Winsor, was of the same amount, covered by insurance. The loss on stock and fixtures of the Owl Drug Store, by smoke, is hard to estimate, probably $500, fully covered.

A measure introduced in the lower house of the Legislature today, making for Statehood, will probably pass the House tomorrow. A game protection bill was introduced, requiring an annual license for all hunters. For citizens of Arizona, $1; of other States, $5. A bill introduced in the council prohibit all bucket-shops.

Final allotment of $60,000 of Phoenix water works bonds was sold tonight by the City Council to the Provident Savings Bank and Trust Company, Cincinnati, at a premium, $4548 and interest from date of issue, June 1, 1906. The bonds bearing 5 per cent. More than thirty bidders from all over the country were present, indicating the value in which Arizona bonds are held.

WOMAN CURRENT STILL THERE.

Federal Expert Finds That Ocean Stream is not Responsible for Cold.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John McNulty, nautical expert in charge of the Portland hydrographic office of the Navy Department, is making an investigation to determine whether or not the Japan current has been shifted farther off the Pacific Coast as has been reported. On the basis of data so far collected, Mr. McNulty says the current maintains its position and temperatures, making the North Pacific semi-tropic in climate.

"I have a series of observations, taken across the Pacific from Japan to a point south of the Columbia River, Mr. McNulty finds temperatures are low in the middle of the voyage and high at each end. The highest degree noted was about 100 miles off the Columbia, the thermometer was 24 degrees above zero, or about 75 degrees Fahrenheit.

"If that does not show the presence of the Japanese current," said Mr. McNulty, "there never was one. The effects of the case is that the ocean currents, of the nature of the Japan current, of the Gulf stream and such like, of the ocean flow as they do have an unvarying influencing factor operating upon them. They vary slightly with the seasons only."

NEWBURGH BRIBERY CASE.

PROSECUTION CLOSES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—The prosecution closed today in the case of Attorney A. S. Newburgh, accused of attempting to bribe John M. Kelly, a prospective Ruef juror. The last witness called was W. H. Schooler, a lawyer, who was retained by Newburgh and Frank J. Murphy, associated with him in the defense of Ruef, to represent E. A. S. Blake when the latter was tried for the same offense. The object of his testimony was to show Newburgh's interest in Blake, as alleged to have acted as his agent approaching Kelly. It was brought out that Blake had not paid Newburgh for his services.

QUIET AT CARSON.

LEGISLATURE DOES LITTLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CARSON, Jan. 20.—The Nevada Legislature did little today toward lawmaking. The morning session of both houses was put in the time making room for committees, eight bills being introduced creating extra clerkships. The latter have not yet reported. The bills appointed to consider several reduced in the Senate, providing a mine inspector, passed that body. Another measure regulating fencing has been introduced. It is designed to prevent "wild cattling." No house's session both houses adjourned until tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

PHOENIX NEWS NOTES.

[UNITED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 20.—Many inquiries from eastern papers as to the health of John B. Moran, District Attorney of Boston, who is spending the winter here for his health, indicate that alarm is felt by his friends. Moran is improving daily.

Last night caused the total loss of the buildings of the Electric Theater. There is no insurance. The loss, $10,000, is owned by E. H. Winsor, in the same amount, covered the loss on stock and fixtures. The loss on stock and fixtures of the Owl Drug Store, by fire, is hard to estimate, probably $5,000.

A bill was introduced in the lower house of the Legislature today, asking for a bond issue of $1,000,000, which will probably pass the house tomorrow. A game protection bill was introduced, requiring a license fee of $1 for all hunters. For residents of this state, $1; of other States, $5. A bill was introduced in the council to abolish the office of ticket-agent.

The issue of $80,000 of Phoenix school bonds was sold tonight to the City Council to the Provident Savings Bank and Trust Company, Cincinnati, at a premium, $4548 and interest. Date of issue, June 1, 1908. The bonds bear 5 per cent. More than a dozen bidders from all over the country were present, indicating the high esteem in which Arizona bonds are held.

HATPIN IS DANGEROUS.

Oregon Legislator Proposes to Do Away With Feminine Weapon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The jab of the long, wicked hatpin will be a thing of the past in this State if the bill just introduced by Representative Farrell into the Legislature becomes a law at the present session.

Farrell wants to do away with the long skewers used by women to secure their Merry Widows and other types of headgear on their heads. He says people riding in crowded elevators, waiting in dark theater lobbies and elsewhere, are often subjected to serious risk of life and eyesight because of women with fussy headgear buzzing about with these long pins in their hats. They are liable, he declares, to stab the innocent bystander.

He has framed a bill that prohibits any woman from wearing a hatpin longer than ten inches. This limitation, he believes, will do away with the peril of the bonnets, and he is making every effort to have the bill become a law. Street cars will be safer for mere man, he thinks, when hatpins are shorter.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Wilson Charged With Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—At the close of his preliminary examination today, J. Walter Wilson, accused of killing Henry J. Boas by means of poison sent in a letter, was held by Police Judge Conlan to answer a charge of murder in the Superior Court.

Gov. Cosgrove Delayed.

PASO ROBLES, Jan. 20.—Gov. Cosgrove of Washington, who was to have gone north today, has deferred his departure until Friday in order to receive a delegation from his State which will be here on Thursday.

Adoto Is Ashore.

SEATTLE, Jan. 20.—The Merchants' Exchange reports that the British ship Adoto, from Seattle, December 24, for Manila, is ashore on Oshima Island, coast of Japan. The crew is safe. The ship's decks are under water, and it is thought the vessel will be a total loss.

Fell to His Death.

ELY, Jan. 20.—John Davis, a worker employed by the Minneapolis Steel Company, on the new unit of the concentrator at McGill, slipped and fell about fifty-five feet yesterday, and was instantly killed.

National City Delayed.

FORT BRAGG, Jan. 20.—The steamer National City, while making ready to sail from this port for San Francisco during the heavy weather, struck bottom and damaged her rudder, causing the vessel to spring a leak. Her departure has been delayed.

Woman Loses Suit.

STOCKTON, Jan. 20.—The suit of Mrs. Jessye Gillham for $50,000 damages against the Central California Traction Company, because of injuries alleged to have been sustained in a collision in September of 1907, was decided against the plaintiff today by a jury, which found that the plaintiff's condition was due to chronic disease.

WASHINGTON.

FIGHTS NEGRO RE-ENLISTMENT.

Southern Senator Defends Brownsville Verdict.

Frazier of Tennessee Tells of Black's Virtues.

Declares Racial Question Is for South Alone.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Senator Frazier of Tennessee today spoke on the Brownsville affair and opposed the passage of any one of the pending bills for the reenlistment of the negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Regiment who were discharged without honor by the President. Senator Frazier's remarks were of special interest as he was a member of the Committee on Military Affairs which investigated the Brownsville incident, his views being those of a Southerner who had an intimate knowledge of the negro race.

"Whenever," declared Mr. Frazier, "any question arises affecting the negro, there are certain people, including the negro himself who seem to think that he should be dealt with in an unusual and exceptional way; that he is to be treated as the ward of the nation and must be the constant object of its care and solicitude.

"No greater wrong can be done the negro and no greater injury can be inflicted upon the country as a whole than to impress upon the negro such false and erroneous teachings. Those who have been instrumental in placing the entire negro population of the country in the attitude of defending the criminals of their race, because they were of their race, have assumed a grave responsibility indeed. They have inflicted a lasting injury upon the country and upon the negro himself.

LASTING SERVICE.

"If these people in every section of the country who are especially solicitous for the negro's welfare by act or word would teach the negro that he is to be shown no exceptional consideration but must stand or fall on his conduct and merit alone, they would render him incalculable benefit and the country a lasting service."

Analyzing the testimony taken in various investigations, Mr. Frazier said there was no question as to the guilt of the soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Regiment. He justified the President in his discharge of the entire body of troops, speaking of the incentive of the soldiers for the commitment of the crime, he said:

"No one not familiar with the real character of the negro race knows or can fully appreciate the intensity of feeling with which he resents any apparent discrimination against him on account of his race and color. This is strikingly illustrated in the intense opposition of the negro to those laws in effect in some States providing for the separation of the races in railway coaches, even where the accommodations are equal and exactly alike. It was admitted by many of the soldiers in their testimony that this subject, together with the subject of indignities which they claimed had been inflicted upon some of them, were frequent matters of discussion in the barracks of the soldiers."

SALOONS GIVE INCENTIVE.

Their restriction in the saloons of Brownsville, Mr. Frazier said, gave ample incentive for the resentment that was shown among them against the people of the town.

"In the conclusions which I have reached in this matter and in the views I have expressed upon it, I have been influenced by no prejudice against the negro," he said. "I have never favored any policy with reference to the negro that did not recognized his rights as a man, and did not assure him equal and exact justice before the law. I have never failed to condemn every act of lawlessness inflicted upon the negro, and have always demanded for him a fair and impartial trial when he has been charged with the violation of law, it mattered not how atrocious his crime. I know the negro, his faults, and his virtues, and he has many virtues. My knowledge and observation of the negro race covers almost the span of my life, for they nursed me in my infancy, played with me in my boyhood, and I have known and studied them as a lawyer; I have tried and passed sentence upon them as a judge; I have exerted the power of the State to shield and protect them against lawlessness sought to be inflicted upon them for grave crimes when I was Governor of my State, and many times in pity have I reached out to them the hand of executive clemency because of their weakness. I recall with gratitude and I pray God I may never forget their loyalty and fidelity to those whom they served and loved during the turmoil, strife and bitterness of the Civil War."

IN THE SOUTH.

Speaking of the treatment of the negro by the people of the South, Mr. Frazier said:

"I would not be entirely frank if I did not say that upon certain phases of the race question, I, in common with the rest of the South, have stood and I believe will ever stand, firm and unalterable. First: Never again will the negro race be allowed to practically dominate a sovereign State in this Union. Second: The social barrier which separates the races will never be allowed to be lowered.

"For forty years, in patience and kindness, the people of the South have wrestled with this problem," he said in conclusion. "It is still unsolved. What the end will be only God in His infinite wisdom can see.

"Shall it be that the black race will be deported? If feasible, it would remove the last remaining barrier to complete the unity of the American people.

"Shall it be a race war, bloody, fierce, exterminating—a war for the survival of the fittest? God forbid.

"Shall it be amalgamation and the unspeakable horror of a corrupted and inferior race? To allow it would be to destroy that civilization which is our strength and pride.

"Shall it be that the two races will dwell together and yet apart in peace and harmony? To do so without the one race dominating and ruling the other, would be to belie the universal verdict of racial history.

"I do not know. But one thing I do know, that the solution of this problem rests primarily in the hands of the Southern white man and the Southern black man."

FLINT HAS PENSION BILL.

Senator Introduces Measure Making Aged Veterans Double Beneficiaries.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Flint has introduced a bill providing that pensioners on the list on acount of disabilities due to wounds or sickness shall be entitled to old-age pensions of $12, also, on reaching the age of 62, and $15 and $20, at 70. This bill covers enlisted men, soldiers and officers who served in the Civil War and the War with Mexico.

BRYAN TO RUN AGAIN.

Lincoln Banker Says He Will Be in Presidential Election Once More.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Take my word for it, you will have another chance to vote for Bryan for President."

This was the statement today of Silas H. Burnham, president of the First National Bank of Lincoln, Neb., who is in Atlanta. Burnham continued:

"I am not for Bryan politically. I can't agree with his financial views. But he is not dead. He took his recent defeat as he took his other defeats—gracefully. He seems to have hypnotized a great majority of the Democrats of the country with his striking and charming personality.

"He will be nominated again. When first nominated Bryan was penniless. Now he is a rich man, and he is coming again, and coming strong."

LETTING DOWN BARS.

AMENDMENT TO LAND ENTRIES.

CONGRESSMAN MONDELL OFFERS NEW SUGGESTION.

Proposes to Permit Entryman to Change the Description of His Location Should There Prove to Be a Mistake—Must Offer Corroborating Evidence Other Than Oath.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Mondell, chairman of the Committee on Public Lands, introduced a bill today which may effect many entrymen in California, especially in Imperial Valley. It is intended to permit change of entry in case of mistake of the description of the tracts intended to be entered.

The bill amends section 2372, Revised Statutes, to read that an entryman or his legal representatives may file with the register and receiver of a land office an affidavit with such additional evidence as may be secured, showing the mistake as to the numbers of the tract intended to be entered and that every reasonable precaution and exertion was made to avoid the error and that the commissioner of the General Land Office is authorized to carry the entry to some other tract, but other evidence shall be required in corroboration of the oath of the person interested.

LANDS WITHDRAWN.

FOR SAN BERNARDINO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Desiring to withdraw certain lands in California from entry and sale for the purpose of aiding in the conservation of the waters of the San Bernardino Valley, Representative Smith of California has introduced a bill to that effect. In order that waste water may sink into the ground and replenish the underground waters of the land adjacent to the San Bernardino Valley, the bill provides that any one may build engineering works for the purpose of carrying waste or flood waters to and distributing over the said lands under such regulations as the Secretary of the Interior may promulgate.

MUCH TIMBER CUT.

PROFIT TO GOVERNMENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Uncle Sam's purse was fattened by nearly a million dollars in revenue last year from timber cut off the various national forests, the timber yield being 102 per cent. in increase over the preceding year.

Twenty-five per cent. of this amount went back into the State Treasury in which the forests are located in lieu of taxes, in accordance with the law.

The amount of timber cut from all the national forests was 392,792,000 feet, against 194,873,000 feet in 1907.

LAND MAY BE FREED.

TO SETTLE TERRITORIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The House Committee on Public Lands has favorably reported the bill introduced by Mr. Andrews of New Mexico extending to the Territories of Arizona and New Mexico the provisions of the Carey act. In a letter Secretary of the Interior Garfield says that there are in New Mexico and Arizona many opportunities for reclamation under the Carey act, and he urgently recommends the enactment of a bill extending the provisions of that act to the two Territories. The States which have taken advantage of the act are Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. Four of the States have patented over 225,000 acres of land under the act.

In a later letter to the House Committee on Public Lands, Assistant Secretary Pierce of the Interior Department said:

"There is probably a great quantity of arid land in the Territories which may not come within the projects of the Reclamation Service, nor be reclaimed by private parties, but which could be selected, irrigated, and reclaimed by the Territories under the proposed law in large tracts and made to yield some revenue to them by the sale of land to settlers."

The Carey act is for the purpose of aiding the public lands States in the reclaiming of their desert lands and insuring the settlement, cultivation and sale in small tracts to actual settlers.

The United States is bound to donate, grant and patent, free of cost of survey, desert lands not to exceed 1,000,000 acres to each State as the State may cause to be irrigated, reclaimed and occupied. Patents may be obtained on the land as soon as sufficient proof is given that the lands have been irrigated, reclaimed and occupied by actual settlers.

Not more than 160 acres may be disposed of to any one person, and any surplus money derived from the sale of such lands is to be held as a trust fund and be used in reclaiming other desert lands in the State.

MESSINA'S CRY.

MORE SUFFERING; MORE AID NEEDED.

HARROWING details of fire-swept ruins at Messina now add to the terrors following in the wake of the great earthquake. Suffering and distress seem increasing in every direction, and more aid is needed.

A new incentive to increased donations for the relief of the homeless and starving people is the statement that 250,000 laborers are even now laying their plans for emigrating to this country. It will be the part of economy and mercy to enable them to remain in the land of their nativity. Contributions to date:

The Bazaar of All Nations, under the auspices of the Liberal Alliance, will open tonight in Turner Hall, No. 321 South Main street, and will continue for three days. Picturesque booths have been erected by the representatives of many nations, each elaborately draped in its national colors, and will be presided over by ladies in costumes characteristic of the nation represented. Form and feature will also go with each costume, for the ladies will have flowing in their veins the blood and will speak the language of the nation whose banners wave over them.

At tonight's opening of the big attraction, an address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Harper; Mrs. M. G. Gonzales will sing "The Star Spangled Banner," Miss Elsa Grosser will render a violin solo, Mrs. Rosa Zuca will sing "A Song of Dawn," Miss Rosa Mercadante will sing "A Dream," Billy Arlington, the retired minstrel, will give a mirth-producing number, Mrs. Martinez de Politte will sing "La Golandrina," Herr D. E. Jones, formerly of the Royal Operahouse, Copenhagen, will sing. An Italian farce will be presented by C. Porreca, John Zuchelli and Guilermo Camusi. During the evening both the Royal Italian and Liberal Alliance bands will play at frequent intervals.

The second night will be in charge of the German-Americans, and the programme almost entire will be given by different sections of the Turn Verein Germania.

Saturday afternoon will be especially for children of the public schools. In the evening prizes will be awarded to the most popular girls, the donated articles disposed of, and the bazaar will end with a grand ball.

The California Citrus Fruit Growers have made a magnificent donation to the relief fund, through the sale of about five carloads of oranges and lemons, at the various fruit auction markets throughout the country. The reports were just received yesterday, showing the total receipts to have been $14,-012.66. From Pittsburgh, $2961, and from Chicago, $500, were sent direct to the Red Cross Society at Rome, and $10,551.05 to the Italian Ambassador at Washington. The latter sum is made up of the sales at the following markets:

Boston, 312 boxes	$1861.10
Philadelphia, 312 boxes	2562.10
St. Louis, 100 boxes	1500.00
New Orleans, 50 boxes	300.00
New York, 312 boxes	2007.50
Cleveland, 100 boxes	589.25
Baltimore, 100 boxes	1015.10
Cincinnati, 75 boxes	618.00

At the time of the San Francisco disaster, the growers made a donation of the same magnitude, and the sales netted about the same amount of cash for the relief fund. Their generosity is commended from ocean to ocean.

Will Play for Fund.

The youngest performers for the Italian earthquake victims are a charming coterie of young girls, calling themselves the "D.A.S.," who will produce "A Little Princess" at Cumnock Hall Saturday evening. Many rehearsals have taken place, and the young people are preparing to give a really creditable production which will richly repay those who go to see it.

The title role will be taken by Miss Juliet Borden, who has been the leading spirit in the theatrical venture; the other girls include: Misses Edna Bennett, Lucy Sanders, Alice Fleming, Helen Thayer, Carrie Post, Dorothy Leach. The patronesses for the affair are Mmes. Allen Balch, Ernest Bryant, W. E. Dunn, C. C. Carpenter, Willoughby Rodman, Charles Shannon, F. W. Burnett, Fred Griffith, West Hughes, M. A. Coleman, C. W. Sanders, T. A. Eisen, E. W. Fleming, M. C. Burnett, Rose Bullard, M. E. Post, F. E. Thayer.

MILITARY APPROPRIATION.

BILL IS PASSED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The military appropriation bill, approved today by the House Committee on Military Affairs, provided for a general staff corps which shall consist of one chief of staff and two general officers to be detached by the President from the army at large and to be not below the grade of brigadier-general, four colonels, six lieutenant-colonels, and six majors to be detached from corresponding grades in the army under such rules for selection, as the President may prescribe.

The bill carries a total appropriation of $98,925,406, against $104,000,000 asked for and $94,371,000 the present appropriation.

WORRIED ABOUT CALIFORNIA.

DIPLOMATIC SECRETS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—While such assurances as have come from representatives of Pacific Coast men regarding the improbability of legislation in California adverse to the Japanese undoubtedly have done much to relieve the apprehension that exists in administration circles, it is a fact that deepest concern exists as to the future.

Nothing that has occurred recently in Congress or elsewhere has so absorbed the attention of the President and Secretary Root as the threatened Japanese legislation in California. It was impossible for the President in his letter to Gov. Gillett to tell all of the reasons that influenced him in making his unprecedented protest against such action by the California Legislature. He did develop the fact that under the agreement reached two years ago between America and Japan, not only has Japanese immigration into America largely decreased, but there had been an actual reduction in the number of Japanese residents in this country.

He could not say that the projected California legislation would cause the Japanese government to relax the efforts which it was making to restrict coolie immigration to America, yet that thought was in the mind of the administration.

There are other factors which, for diplomatic reasons, could not be mentioned in a letter which was sure to be published, but are well known to the members of the Senate and House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and doubtless influenced conservative Pacific Coast men in Congress in deprecating such action as was proposed.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Repaying Catholic Church.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Senate committee on the Philippines authorized a favorable report on the bill appropriating $80,535 for the benefit of religious orders in the Roman Catholic Church in the Philippines, in satisfaction in full for the use of the property of the orders by the military authorities of the United States, prior to January 23, 1906.

Experimental Mines.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Representative Martin, of South Dakota, thinks the government should establish mining experiment stations in the various States in which there are known to be deposits of precious metals, after the order of the agricultural experiment stations, and he has introduced a bill to this end.

Bill Against Opium.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The bill by Representative Denby, of Michigan, which proposes to prohibit the importation of opium into the United States except for medical purposes, has been favorably acted upon by the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Council of Arts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Roosevelt created today a council of fine arts and directed thereafter the heads of executive departments, bureaus and commissions, before any plans are formulated for public buildings or grounds or for the location or erection of any State building, must submit the matter to the council and follow its advice unless for good and sufficient reason the President directs otherwise.

Lost Seat in House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—George L. Lilley, who was inaugurated Governor of Connecticut on January 5, while occupying a seat in the House, was dropped from membership of that body today.

GRAFT PROSECUTION.

ONE MORE IN CALHOUN JURY.

FOURTH MAN CHOSEN TO HEAR TESTIMONY.

All Four, However, May Be Peremptorily Challenged When the Box Is Filled and It Bids Fair to Be a Long Time Before Twelve Men Are Ready.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—A single talesman ran the gauntlet of inquiry today in the trial of Patrick Calhoun under indictment for bribery, and eleven others, whose examination occupied the entire day, were challenged or excused.

Walter J. Rock, the fourth juror, accepted until the privilege of peremptory challenge is exercised, is a salesman for a stationery house. His examination disclosed that he had taken little interest in the many phases of the bribery graft prosecution in this city. Nevertheless he was subjected to a searching inquiry which included the possibility of the loss of his position if he should remain in attendance upon the trial for any considerable length of time.

A large majority of the men examined were more or less ardent sympathisers with the defendant.

When court adjourned for the day Heney was engaged in a lively debate with a talesman who had criticised the methods of the District Attorney's office and whose private troubles with labor unions were admitted to be of influence in the framing of his opinion.

MANILA MYSTERY.

No Information Can Be Secured as to the Cause of the Trouble in Tayabas.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANILA, Jan. 21.—Brief dispatches received from Tabayas province today give but a very confused idea of the disaster Tuesday night, and still leave undetermined whether it was a volcanic eruption of Mount Lagnas or a cloudburst in that vicinity. One telegram expressed the opinion that a volcanic eruption really occurred, but that it was on Mount Banabao, the principal peak of the Peay Range in the northern part of Tayabas.

According to the telegram a large fissure was made through an old crater, releasing a portion of a large lake. Here the torrents formed of water, which rushed down the mountainside through cañons and ravines and flooded many streams.

Only one casualty, that of a child, has been reported. Full particulars of the disaster and the damage are expected soon, a detachment of constabulary having been sent out to make an investigation.

AGED NEGRESS DIES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Sarah Elizabeth Carter, a negress, aged 106, said to have been the oldest living person in the District of Columbia, died here yesterday. She was born in Marlborough county, Va., February 14, 1803. Before the war set free the slaves, the old woman had been owned by two generations of the Peyton family of Virginia. She is survived by three sons, all old men, and a large number of descendents.

CITY TREASURER GETS BOND.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 20.—City Treasurer J. L. Lightston today secured a surety bond, and his office, closed since the arrest of License Collector J. T. Gately, will be opened in the morning.

COWPUNCHER IS CHIEF.

Rode Sixty-eight Miles With Vice-President Roosevelt and Now Commands in Panama.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Grosvenor A. Porter, who once distinguished himself by keeping up with Theodore Roosevelt in a sixty-eight-mile ride from Laramie City to Cheyenne, when Mr. Roosevelt was Vice-President, sailed for Colon today on the Alliance to take up his duties as chief of the canal-zone police.

Porter received this appointment a few days ago, and will succeed George Shanton, who has been appointed chief of police of Manila.

Porter is 41 years old, and was a Wyoming cowpuncher at the age of 15. Later he became a United States Marshal. He has been in the employ of the government for fifteen years, recently doing secret service work in detecting the sale of liquor on Indian reservations.

COAST STORMS.

PORTLAND IS FLOOD CENTER.

WASHOUTS AND LANDSLIDES ON EVERY RAILROAD.

Train Service Infrequent Into the Northwestern Metropolis and Great Damage Is Done to Bridges and Tracks—Woman Drowned and Husband Injured, Crossing Torrent.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With washouts and landslides on every railroad entering Portland, train service today has been infrequent but prospects for connection with the outside world are better tonight. Bridges and tracks on the O. R. & N. have been washed away in many places, it being estimated by the company that the damage to one division alone will exceed $40,000.

A landslide struck a Southern Pacific freight train on the main line near Ashland today and knocked seven cars off the track. The accident blocked the main line all day.

Rocks falling from a near-by cliff broke the rail on the main line of the O. R. & N. near Squally Hook early this morning, train No. 1, the Chicago passenger, being derailed. Fortunately no one was hurt in either accident.

Washouts have blocked the tracks of the Northern Pacific and O. R. & N. branches as well as the Spokane, Portland and Seattle, the Columbia Southern and the Iiwaco Railroad and Navigation Company. The Willamette at Portland reached a stage of eighteen feet today and is still rising.

Mrs. Laroe Hansen was drowned and her husband seriously injured in a flood that swept down Cold Springs Cañon today. Returning from Pendleton they attempted to cross a gully, dry when they went to town but which had been transformed into a raging torrent during their absence. The lifeless body of Mrs. Hansen was found two miles below, while Hansen brought up against a barbed wire fence, several hundred feet down stream.

MOTORS ARE HU... AT AUTOMOBI...

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE T...

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the big automobile show in Madison Square Garden half way through its run of one week, the prediction was made today by the committee in charge that the volume of business transacted by the time the exhibition closes on Saturday night will far eclipse the total of any previous show ever held in the big building.

The attendance at the three sessions today was large, and was made up for the most part of actual or prospective users of cars, judging from the close inspection given the models in all parts of the garden.

One feature of this year's show that is very much appreciated by the visitors is the somewhat general tendency to show motors in action, enabling the enthusiast to form his ideas of their merits quickly. Gears and other parts of the power plants are also shown, generally in a fashion that practically relieves the demonstrator of the necessity of explanation.

BOXING.

CARD COMPLETED FOR NEXT FIGHT.

DALTON AND PICATO AT HEAD OF M'CAREY'S BILL.

Hobo Dougherty Slated to Fight Frankie Sullivan Instead of Young McGovern—Five Four-Round Bouts Added Which Makes Forty Rounds in All With Fourteen Boxers.

Manager McCarey of the Pacific Athletic Club has completed the card for next Tuesday evening, and the fans are promised plenty of action. The bouts are:

Frank Picato and Kid Dalton, ten rounds, 122 at 4:30.

Frankie Sullivan and Hobo Dougherty, ten rounds, 121 at 2.

Young Sharkey and Kid Adams, four rounds.

Young Kaufman and Dwight Van, four rounds.

Young Turner and Ed Higuar, four rounds.

Chester Moore and Kid Hamilton, four rounds.

Gene Redo and Kid Brady, four rounds.

Dalton and Picato are fighters of the same stamp, each boring in all the time, and there is bound to be a whirlwind battle when the two hook up for their ten-round contest. Dalton has always shown a disposition to fight all the time he is in the ring, and Picato has not been known to back up at any time while he is facing a foe.

The semi-windup between Dougherty and Sullivan has been on the tapis for more than a month, and now that the boys have agreed to the weight mentioned there is nothing to prevent the two from witnessing one of the fastest mills of the near-champion class. Sullivan is a protege of the owners of the Maine stable at this end, and the horsemen who have seen Sullivan in action are with him to a man, and they are willing to back the fighter to beat any of the 118-120 boys in the ring.

If Sullivan will be sent out from the tap of the gong to try for a knockout, but as this thing has not happened to the Hobo since he made his first appearance in Los Angeles, it is not likely that he will let Sullivan do all of the fighting.

Ad Wolgast, who is looking after the interests of Dougherty, says he will have him in fine shape for the battle, and although Hobo is just recovering from the effects of an operation on his ear, Wolgast declares that he will forget all about this handicap once he scents the ring sawdust with Sullivan as his opposite.

The four-round fighters are of more than ordinary ability. They have been selected from the great array of talent which Matchmaker Hancock has had to choose from, and the boys are as evenly matched as possible. Some of them expect to graduate into a higher class Tuesday evening, and it is safe to say that all of them will put up the best battle that is in them.

GANS AND EARNE.

NEGRO RE-ENTERS RING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE (Md.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Gans, former lightweight champion, has started once more, and eastern fans will be given a chance to see him in action. Gans today signed articles for a six-round fight with "Young" Erne of Philadelphia, the contest being set for February 10.

Gans and the promoter of the affair had a lengthy argument over the purse, the promoters offering Gans 35 per cent, but Joe held out for 35-60, win, lose or draw, and finally won.

Scarcely had the argument ceased than the colored man began an exchange of words with Erne. The argument was over weight, Gans sought 133 pounds, but Erne insisted on catchweights. The argument was finally settled by agreeing to make the weight 135 at 3 o'clock.

Offer from the East.

Packy McFarland has received an offer from the Fairmount Athletic Club of New York to meet Leach Cross within the next thirty days, and if he wins, to follow with a match with Jem Driscoll. Manager Gilmore says that a match with Freddie Welsh is not concluded within a week he will accept the offer.

BAD WEATHER AT CAT SHOW.

Rain Holds Back Entries as the Benching Day and the Time Is Extended.

Sixty-nine cats were benched for the Los Angeles National Cat Club's exhibition at Panorama Hall, yesterday afternoon and evening. The rain prevented most of the animals from being brought out as 150 were entered and supposed to be benched yesterday. Entries will be received today and expected that all of the kennels will be filled before noon. The judging has been postponed until Friday so the cats may be benched any time today.

One of the prettiest of the white cats is Mrs. A. Moore's Marcus, the son of Park, one of the best white studs in the West. Mrs. E. Olberfell has entered Lord Lorn, a blue tabby and a Persian baby three months old, the son of Lord Lorin.

Mrs. Neva Strauss will exhibit Bonnie Brooks, which she brought from Montreux, Switzerland, after the training is finished. Bonnie Brooks has been a most unfortunate cat for in every window, breaking his jaw in his legs, and receiving several operations. For several months it was necessary to feed him with a spoon, but he finally recovered and is now thirteen years old.

MOTORS ARE HUMMING AT AUTOMOBILE SHOW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the big automobile show in Madison Square Garden half way through its run of one week, the prediction was made today by the committee in charge that the volume of business transacted by the time the exhibition closes on Saturday night will far eclipse the total of any previous show ever held in the building.

The history of this year's show that is very much appreciated by the visitors is the somewhat general tendency to a freer motore in action, enabling the prospect to form his ideas of their merits quickly. Gears and other parts of the power plants are also shown, running in a fashion that practically makes its demonstrator of the necessity of explanation.

That the New York automobile show will go down in history as one of the greatest ever held in this city is the belief of the committee, which has worked night and day to make it a success. There are more motor cars on exhibition than ever before; there are more people in attendance than ever before, and there is far more interest manifested than there has ever been before.

From the moment the doors were opened the throng began to compare the scores of 1909 models on exhibition. These handsome cars are the center of the attractive display, and there is nothing to detract from the enjoyment of the lines of the many new machines.

The noticeable thing this year is that the large majority of the persons attending the show are those who are either users of motor cars, or are prospective buyers. There is only a limited number of those who do not expect at any time to get cars. Everyone who comes has a purpose, and that purpose is generally to learn more about self-propelled vehicles.

CARD COMPLETED FOR NEXT FIGHT.

DALTON AND PICATO AT HEAD OF M'CAREY'S BILL.

Eddie Dougherty Slated to Fight Frankie Sullivan Instead of Young Erne—Five Four-Round Bouts Will Make Forty Rounds in All With Fourteen Boxers.

Manager McCarey of the Pacific Athletic Club has completed the card for next Tuesday evening, and the fans will be provided plenty of action. The bill will be:

Frank Picato and Kid Dalton, ten rounds, 118 at 4:30.

Young Barkley and Kid Adams, four rounds.

Young Kaufman and Dwight Van, four rounds.

Young Turner and Ed Higuar, four rounds.

Young Meers and Kid Hamilton, four rounds.

Jack Rado and Kid Brady, four rounds.

Dalton and Picato are fighters of the old stamp, each boring in all the time and there is bound to be a whirlwind battle when the two hook up for the ten-round contest. Dalton has never shown a disposition to fight all the time he is in the ring, and Picato has been known to back up at any time he is facing a foe.

The mix-up between Dougherty and Sullivan has been on the tapis for over a month, and now that the fighters have agreed to the weight there is nothing to prevent it, from witnessing one of the best battles of the near-champion class. They are willing to back the Frisco boy against any of the 118-120 boys in the ring.

Sullivan will be sent out from the tap of the gong to try for a knockout, but as yet he has not happened to the scratch to be made his first appearance in Los Angeles, it is not likely that he will let Sullivan do all of the fighting.

Eddie Kid Lavigne, who is looking after the interests of Dougherty, says he will have him in fine shape for the battle. He says Hobo is just recovering from the effects of an operation on his nose and declares that he will forget all about this handicap once he gets into the ring sawdust with Sullivan at his opposite.

NEGRO RE-ENTERS RING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELLEFORTE (Md.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joe Gans, former lightweight champion, has started once more and eastern fans will be given a chance to see him in action. Gans has signed articles for a six-round go with "Young" Erne of Philadelphia, the contest being set for February 8.

Like all the promoter of the affair had a lengthy argument over the matter, the promoters offering Gans $2,000, but Joe held out for $2500, with the result that he got it, and finally won.

Before the argument ceased the battered man began an exchange of words with Erne. The argument was over weight, Gans sought to make, but Erne insisted on catch-weight. The argument was finally settled by agreeing to make the weight at 3 o'clock.

Offer from the East.

Billy McFarland has received an offer from the Fairmount Athletic Club of New York to meet Leach Cross within the next thirty days, and if he fails to follow with a match with Jem Driscoll. Manager Gilmore says that the match with Freddie Welsh is not to be pulled within a week he will accept the other.

BAD WEATHER AT CAT SHOW.

Double Book Entries on the Bench-ing Day and the Time Is Extended.

The Angeles cats were benched for the Southern National Cat Club's exhibition at Panorama Hall, yesterday afternoon and evening. The rain prevented many of the animals from being brought out as 150 were entered and expected to be benched yesterday. Many will be received today and unless the rain continues heavily it is expected that all of the kennels will be filled before noon. The judging which was postponed until Friday so that cats may be benched any time they may be benched any time.

Among the prettiest of the white cats are A. Moore's Marcus, the son and heir of the best white studs owned by Mrs. E. Oberfell has Lord Lon, a blue tabby and a kitten three months old, the image of Lord Lorin.

Mrs. Nora Grange will exhibit Bonnie Brooks, which she brought from Switzerland, after the latter had finished. Bonnie Brooks is a most unfortunate cat for in New Orleans he fell from a high window, breaking his jaw in two, and receiving several other injuries. For several months it was necessary to feed him with a tube, but he finally recovered and is a fine seven years old.

ON THE MAT.

MAURER DEFEATS THE CHAMPION.

ISAACS IS OUTPOINTED IN THE WRESTLING BOUTS.

Welterweight Catches Middleweight Star of Southern California Off His Guard and More Than Holds His Own for Twenty-five Minutes—Cookran Beaten.

Harold Maurer won the middleweight wrestling championship of the Los Angeles Athletic Club last night from George Isaacs, who ran up against an unexpected snag in the annual wrestling bouts of the club. Maurer beat him on points in two bouts of ten minutes each and one of five minutes, neither man securing a fall.

Maurer is really only a welterweight wrestler, but under the conditions in force last night was forced to meet the middleweights, as the two classes were joined. He gave away about fifteen pounds in weight. In the last five minutes he was aggressive, with a half-Nelson that Isaacs only managed to break after great effort. Isaacs was on the defensive most of the time, and did not seem to be in any danger of being rolled over on his shoulders.

This was the most exciting contest of the night, and the 300 spectators gathered in the big gym of the club stood up and cheered wildly when the new man was getting the better of Isaacs. The first bout was all Maurer's; the second was merely a standing wrestling match, and the third was one in which Isaacs tried to be aggressive but could not gain any decided advantage. Both have had the same instruction from the club instructor and showed much fine defensive work, and for this reason the bouts did not appear as good as they really were. Isaacs does not lose the Southern California championship, but may at the contests next month, if Maurer continues to improve, although his friends claim he was not in condition.

The first bout was between Maurer and Price, and after two bouts Maurer was given the decision on his aggressiveness, but he did not show as well against Price as he did against Isaacs. In the heavyweight class Dick Retzer beat Cochran, after ten and five-minute bouts. The third event was between Isaacs and Hincks, the latter a welter, and this was fast and snappy, Isaacs winning a fall in five minutes with an arm and leg hold. The fourth bout was between the lightweights, G. Retzer and Harris, and Retzer got a fall in four minutes with an arm and crotch hold.

In the final of the heavy class R. Retzer threw Clymer in five minutes with a bar and body hold, and the exciting bouts of Maurer and Isaacs brought the fine evening's entertainment to a close.

JACK ATKIN AGAIN WINS.

All Kinds of Weather, Weight, and Going Look Alike to Grand Stake Sprinter.

That good old sprinter, Jack Atkin, shouldered 135 pounds yesterday, and after letting his field set the pace, came on in the stretch and won as he pleased at Santa Anita, yesterday.

Although the track was slow the horses were fast, and the good time of 1:37 3-5 was made by Big Chief in the third race. Proper, French Cook, Smiley Metzner and Charlie Paine were the other winners.

Results:

Seven furlongs: Smiley Metzner, 109 (Archibald,) won; Sebari, 112 (King,) second; Norfolk, 112 (Schilling,) third; time, 1:25 4-5. Taylor George, Mike Jordan, Ed Ball, Jack Witt, Wise Child, Lee Harrison II and Arcourt also ran.

Five and one-half furlongs: French Cook, 112 (Dugan,) won; Ybor, 109 (Page,) second; Harrigan, 112 (Powers,) third; time, 1:06 1-5. Sir Alvescott, Furnace, San Vito, Home Creast, Stendal, Great Heavens, Yankee Tourist, Hickey Daily and Uncle Jim also ran.

One mile: Big Chief, 107 (Powers,) won; King James, 107 (Dugan,) second; Edwin T. Fryer, 112 (Schilling,) third; time, 1:37 3-5. Molesey and Red Gauntlet also ran.

Six furlongs: Jack Atkin, 135 (Powers,) won; Waterbury, 108 (McGee,) second; Glorio, 112 (Butwell,) third; time 1:12. Restigouche, Prince Ahmed and Dominus Arol also ran.

One mile and a quarter: Proper, 114 (Butwell,) won; Merlingo, 114 (McGee,) second; St. Ilario, 109 (Rice,) third; time 2:06 1-5. Lord Stanhope and A. Muskoday also ran.

Seven furlongs: Charley Paine, 109 won; Guiding Star, 112, second; Earl Rogers, 112, third. Biskra, Glaucus, Hazel Thorp, Kuropatkin, Korosllany, Lady Kitty, Orello, Summer Cloud, Translucent, Taby Toss, Town Topics and Taunt also ran.

EMERYVILLE RACES.

THE M'GIBBEN HANDICAP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Jan. 20.—Col. Jack won the McGibben Handicap in clever style from Nadzu and Clamor at Emeryville today. The result was never in doubt. A heavy rain fell all afternoon and the track was very sloppy.

In the fifth, Carroll drew the finish fine and Mitre won by a narrow margin from Prince of Orange. Results:

Six furlongs, selling: Tom Shaw, 111 (Miller,) won; Dargin, 107 (Gilbert,) second; Duke of Orleans, 109 (Keogh,) third. Time, 1:16 2-5. Confessor, Col. White, Tawasentha, Andoche and Pio Pico also ran.

Three furlongs, purse: Coppertown, 109 (Notter,) won; Rezon, 112 (Keogh,) second; Fire, 112 (Goldstein,) third. Time, 0:38 1-5. Lorenzo, Salnotta, English Mail, Wicket, Tube Rose, Fairmont and Matchem also ran.

Mile and twenty yards, selling: Standover, 107 (McIntyre,) won; Derdom, 107 (Van Dusan,) second; St. Avon, 105 (Keogh,) third. Time, 1:49 2-5. Banposal, Gromobol, Graphite, Gene Russell, Mattie Mack and Romanoff also ran.

One mile and one-sixteenth, McGibben Handicap: Col. Jack, 105 (Keogh,) won; Nadzu, 92 (Taplin,) second; Clamor, 100 (Scoville,) third. Time, 1:51 3-5. Red Leaf, Sewell and Fancy also ran.

Mile and twenty yards, selling: Mitre, 107 (Carroll,) won; Prince of Orange, 107 (Keogh,) second; Sainesaw, 100 (Ross,) third. Time, 1:49 3-5. Bellmence, Kogo, Belchamber, Berryessa, Rose Cherry, Sea Lad, Cholk Hedrick and Royal Red also ran.

Futurity course, purse: Bubbling Water, 107 (Keogh,) won; High Private, 114 (Lee,) second; Apto Oro, 102 (Gilbert,) third. Time, 1:12. Little Jane and Waisenkind also ran.

ON THE GREENS.

ANNANDALE WINS IN MIXED GOLF.

MARTIN DEFEATS CLARK IN THE PROFESSIONAL CLASS.

Bad Weather and Drizzling Rain Conspire to Make Conditions Unfavorable for Good Link Work. Frederickson Was Off His Game and Proved Very Erratic.

Dark, cloudy, dismal weather that finally ended in a light drizzle of rain in the latter part of the afternoon, was the best the local golf enthusiasts could get yesterday and for this reason only a small crowd of spectators went out to the beautiful Annandale course to witness the four-ball foursome between William Frederickson and Martin of the Los Angeles Country Club and Paul Hunter and Clark of the Annandale club, Martin and Clark being professionals.

The contest was at match play and yet the scoring was done by points and at the end of the fifteenth hole the score by points showed that the Annandale team had won by 9 up and 6 to play. By strict match play, counting the total number of strokes played by each man, Annandale won at the fourteenth hole by 5 up and 4 to play, and, although the score was a very one-sided one, a return match will doubtless be contested some time this month at the Los Angeles club.

The score would have been much closer, but from the fact that the local amateur, William Frederickson, was entirely off his game. He foozled, cut and sliced the ball in a startling manner and, while he was up to form at driving, his approaches and putts were bad and he did not seem to be able to carry out the first law of golf, which is to "be up." It must be remembered that he was playing on what was to him a practically strange course and, while Annandale does not present any great natural hazards and is what might be called a battleground for drivers, Freddie was plainly bothered. He would start with good drives only to weaken on his approaches and fall down on his putts.

The fair green is heavy and the grass and weeds form a thick mat on the ground. The lies were all bad in a way and in many instances the balls were topped. Frederickson seemed to have the worst luck and only on one or two occasions did he do himself justice, and his fitful high-class work was offset by the steady play of young Hunter at all times.

Some of the gallery thought that Hunter did not show his best form, but his card does not bear this out, for he went out in a bogey score and beat the colonel one coming in. This is good work for a course 3870 yards in length, but still Hunter has played on it all winter and knows its angles. Martin, the local professional, and Clark, the pro of Annandale, played an even game all through, Martin beating Clark one stroke, the totals being 85 and 86.

During the playing of the last five holes a drizzling rain set in and this not only made the course more holding, but ruined fine play on the putting greens, for the ball picked up the oiled sand and was short on what would have been ordinary shots. Hunter was the only one who did not seem to be bothered by this, and his bogey scores show that he was generally up on approaches and putts, while being very accurate in his driving.

The holes, distances in yards, and the scores of Hunter, Clark, Frederickson and Martin were as follows:

Three-Cushion Billiards.

In the three-cushion billiard tournament that opened last night, at Henry Berry's Spring-street rooms, Howard, the Coast champion, beat Clark by a score of 50 to 41, in seventy-nine innings. Howard's high runs were 4, 3, 3, while Clark's were 5, 4, and 3. A fair-sized crowd of sports watched the play and warmly applauded the many good shots.

It seems that Reed is the only man out for the sprints at U.S.C. He has been showing very good form and with a few weeks more consistent training should be as fast a man as is at present scheduled to enter the conference meet.

SACRAMENTO DROPPED

OUTLAWS ABANDON SOUTHERN INVASION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the annual meeting of the California State League that was opened today and will continue tomorrow, plans for the coming season, schedules and other matters of importance were discussed and decided upon.

Because of the inability of A. H. Jarman of San José to attend it was agreed not to approve the schedule until tomorrow afternoon. It was practically agreed there will be six clubs in the league, Sacramento and Alameda being dropped from the roll.

This leaves the following clubs in the league: San Francisco, Oakland, San José, Stockton, Santa Cruz and Fresno. It was announced that grounds will be built in Oakland, but it was also stated the lease for the Eighth and Harrison-street grounds in San Francisco has not been closed. This was because of a condition in the lease that was not altogether satisfactory to Cy Moreing, who will take over the park. If the change is made by the owners as requested, Moreing states he will give his certified check for $5000 to bind the proposition.

A team manager for Oakland has not been announced, but it is expected the club will be controlled by a syndicate and that J. E. Calder, who was interested last year in the Sacramento club, will be the new manager. There were in attendance today President Frank Herman, Cy Moreing of San Francisco, J. E. Calder of Oakland, Danny Shay of Stockton, F. A. Swanton of Santa Cruz and F. W. Toomey of Fresno.

Aside from an agreement to have a six-team circuit, the directors of the State League did nothing except work on a schedule that will not be ready for publication for some days.

F. W. Toomey, the Fresno director, said the fans in the Raisin City have already raised $10,000 for the support of the team. He says in all probability Will Kelly, brother of Mike Kelly, the manager of the St. Paul club, will handle the Raisin Eaters. It is said that Charlie Baum could have the berth if he desired, but that he has explained that he believes he can do better work for the team as a pitcher.

Essences Restore Stomachs

Dyspeptics Everywhere Now Using Them. Cut This Out.

Are you ever "blue?" If before breakfast, dinner and supper you do not feel a hearty-hungry feeling and longing for food of almost any kind, if you feel finicky and want something to eat, but can't say what, then you are most likely bordering on chronic dyspepsia.

If you feel bloated, have heartburn, sour stomach, bad breath and feel languid, dull or nervous and irritable, then you surely have need for the following simple recipe, which it is claimed has cured many famous people. Prescribed for many years with the utmost success, its power over stomach disorders is now well known and probably lies in the peculiar blending properties of concentrated essences. Get two ounces of syrup of ginger, two ounces of essence of pepsin and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix all together, then take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal. To excite appetite, take a spoonful before eating. May be taken freely by adults and children with weak stomachs, as it contains no opiate.

Charcoal Removes Stomach Poisons

Pure Charcoal Will Absorb One Hundred Times Its Volume in Poisonous Gases.

Charcoal was made famous by the old monks of Spain, who cured all manner of stomach, liver, blood and bowel troubles by this simple remedy.

One little nervous Frenchman held forth its virtues before a famous convention of European physicians and surgeons. Secheyron was his name. He was odd, quaint and very determined. His brothers in medicine laughed at his claims. Thereupon he swallowed two grains of strychnine, enough to kill three men, and ate some charcoal. The doctors thought him mad, but he did not even have to go to bed. The charcoal killed the effects of the strychnine and Secheyron was famous. Ever since that day physicians have used it. Run impure water through charcoal and you have a pure, delicious drink.

Bad breath, gastritis, bowel gases, torpid liver, impure blood, etc., give way before the action of charcoal.

It is really a wonderful adjunct to nature and is a most inexhaustible storehouse of health to the man or woman who suffers from gases or impurities of any kind.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made of pure willow charcoal, sweetened to a palatable state with honey.

Two or three of them cure an ordinary case of bad breath. They should be used after every meal, especially if one's breath is prone to be impure.

These little lozenges have nothing to do with medicine. They are just sweet, fresh willow, burned to a nicety for charcoal making and fragrant honey, the product of the bee. Thus every ingredient comes to man from the lap of nature.

The only secret lies in the Stuart process of compressing these simple substances into a hard tablet or lozenge, so that age, evaporation or decay may not assail their curative qualities.

You may take as many of them as you wish and the more you take the quicker will you remove the effects of bad breath and impurities arising from a decayed or decaying meal. They assist digestion, purify the blood and help the intestines and bowels throw off all waste matter.

Go to your druggist at once and buy a package of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, price 25 cents. You will soon be told by your friends that your breath is not so bad as it was. Send us your name and address, and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

THE BETTER CLASS OF HOMESITES

For the better class of people. Full acres providing a wide domain appealing to every nice home-loving instinct. Every convenience of city life, yet every delight of the suburbs.

ONLY 20 MINUTES
FROM SIXT HAND MAIN.

Every lot an acre, and every acre a corner. Broad, smooth streets, cement walks and curbs, a complete and perfect water system. Complete electric light and power circuit. Permanent gas mains. Boulevards connecting with Alhambra, Pasadena, and Los Angeles.

IF YOU WISH THE BEST THAT MONEY CAN BUY
RAMONA ACRES
WILL PLEASE YOU.
$1000 AND UP,
TERMS SO MUCH A MONTH.
OR WE WILL BUILD TO SUIT ON EASY TERMS OF PAYMENT.

It takes only 20 minutes to see this the handsomest, best and most aristocratic tract ever placed before the people. Aside from its home features, an acre or two at Ramona will prove the wisest kind of an investment, as values will surely and rapidly multiply as its many beauties and advantages become better known.

Just two weeks longer in which to buy big 50-foot lots in my new Main, Moneta and Figueroa Tract at the ridiculously low price of $250.

Then they advance $30 per lot. Buy NOW and the PROFIT IS YOURS. All improvements included in the purchase price. Wide cement walks and curbs, streets oiled and graded and water piped to every lot. Five water for two years. Located in the best part of the great Southwest, right in the trend of the city's most rapid growth toward Wilmington Harbor. Just size up these magnificent thoroughfares and think what it means to be able to buy an 80-foot corner 50-foot lot in such a locality for $250.

MAIN STREET BOULEVARD.

A straight line to the harbor. To be macadamized its entire length. It will be the longest improved thoroughfare, as well as the widest, in all of Southern California.

MONETA AVENUE.

The ONE REAL business street of the Southwest, where values have increased more rapidly, during the past four years, than in any other section of the city.

FIGUEROA STREET.

OUR CHOICE OF COURSE.

These lots are "out" of ways now, same as Jefferson street, and even Washington and Pico, a few years ago. If you don't believe in the future growth of Los Angeles, keep away from this property. If you really believe that the city will grow one-half as fast during the next five years as it did the past five, then go to it and buy as many of these lots as you can conveniently handle, for they will soon be WORTH DOUBLE IN VALUE within two years' time, and in five years these same $250 lots will easily sell for $1000. "Listen to the man talk," some of you will say. Some people said worse things than that when I placed my first Moneta Ave. tract on sale, about four years ago. They told the visitors to the tract that they would double in value within five years. Look at it now—they did, you missed, and then go out to my NEWEST Main, Moneta and Figueroa Tract and buy a lot, while you may, at $250. The city will "go to it" much sooner than you think.

TERMS EASY ENOUGH.

NOTICE.

Our client says sell and we are going to deliver the goods undamaged.

A CORNER OF 87½ ft. frontage by 100 ft. depth, on one of our best cross business streets, where all the business men are making big money and if this corner was improved with a one or more story building would bring in a fine rental. We have parties who will lease if owner will build.)

We will deliver this at a price which is at least $150 per front foot less than property can be purchased, this is something that will be snapped up by a shrewd investor. For particulars inquire to be directors of corporations, was delayed for one week by the Assembly this morning at the request of President Roosevelt and Gov. Gillett.

THE LEGISLATURE.

There was a flurry in the Senate when Walker, one of the authors of the Walker-Otis anti-race track bill, arose to a question of personal privilege and made the following statement:

"I have been trying for several days to have Senate bill No. 3 (the race track bill) considered by the Committee on Public Morals, but without avail. This morning I was informed by Senator Weed, chairman of the committee, that he had never received the bill and did not know of its existence as far as his committee was concerned. Neither did he have any committee clerk, to his knowledge. He admitted having signed receipts for other bills, but not for this one."

Senator Leavitt at once got the floor and explained that Frank T. Thompson, clerk of the Committee on Finance, of which Leavitt is chairman, was also accredited as clerk of the Committee on Public Morals. He said he learned last night that Thompson had the bill and had not turned it over to Senator Weed's committee.

Thompson brought the bill into the Senate soon afterward, and Senator Weed gave him a receipt for it.

DESIRE TERMS WITH SERVIA.

Austrian Emperor and His Foreign Minister Both Opposed to Hostilities.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA (Austria) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although there is a possibility that there will be no war with Servia, some conflicting opinions prevail here regarding the situation.

The correspondent of The Times learns from a high authority that the Emperor and Foreign Minister Aehrenthal are both opposed to hostilities and desire to come to terms with Servia, but that other influential persons would not be unwilling to take this opportunity to crush Servia and make an end of the Pan-Servia agitation.

Meanwhile, Servia is asking a good deal in the way of compensation in the hope of getting something.

MATRIMONY AID TO SWINDLE, IS CHARGE.

Alleged King of Bigamists Uncovered in Chicago Said to Have Married at Least Three Women to Get Their Money.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A "king of bigamists," known to have married three women and then deserted them, after getting their money, and thought to have married twelve others, was revealed in Judge Clifford's court by Detective Woolridge. The man is Harry J. Bauman, alias Dr. Herman Brandt, who was placed on trial on a charge of swindling. He is accused of having stolen $804 from Agnes Russell, a widow, who formerly conducted a restaurant at No. 2364 Cottage Grove avenue.

When the local police are through with him, Woolridge said, Bauman would be sent to one of three other cities to answer one of the three charges of bigamy.

Bauman, according to Woolridge, posed as the scion of a noble house of Austria. He deserted a wife in his native country in 1899, the detective said, and, coming to America, married Miss Elva Brindel, a daughter of a wealthy resident of Mahony City, Pa. He brought this girl to Chicago and for a time lived in grand style in the Auditorium Annex. He was associated with E. P. Barrett in the insurance business. Leaving the Annex, Bauman went to live in sumptuous apartments at No. 4905 Grand Boulevard, paying $200 a month rent.

After four years in this city, during which he is charged with having realized thousands of dollars by illegal transactions, Bauman returned to New York, and, according to Woolridge, was confronted there with the wife he had deserted. The Brindel girl went home when convinced that she was not his legal wife. In 1905, Bauman, posing as a duke, married Miss Catherine C. Turney, daughter of a wealthy retired merchant in Waterford, Conn., it is alleged.

Gambling houses and secret societies the officer said, were swindled out of thousands of dollars by Bauman. Several department stores in State street also lost heavily through dealing with him, it is charged.

Mrs. Russell, who is 35 years old, became acquainted with Bauman last summer, when he opened a cigar store adjoining her place of business. He immediately borrowed $250 from her. Later, she gave him a draft to deposit in the bank for her, but she says he placed it to his own account.

SCIENTIFIC TEST.

MEN GROW FAT ON SULPHURED FRUITS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Far from having any injurious effects, California dried fruit that has been treated with sulphur is beneficial to the human system, according to statements made today by Dr. Albert J. Atkinson, in announcing the result of experiments recently conducted by him. For thirty days, December 17 to January 17, Dr. Atkinson fed a health squad of men quantities of sulphured, dried fruit daily.

Several of these men gained from one to nine pounds in weight. One man lost three pounds, but this is attributed to loss of sleep. Seven of these men are tailors. They were given four ounces of sulphured dried fruit, stewed or in pies or puddings, at noon every day.

In his experiments Dr. Atkinson was assisted by Drs. M. Herststein, J. H. Barbat, Alfred Ehrensburger, W. H. Hunsaker, Ergo A. Majors, Charles Clark and Prof. Elmer Gates of Washington, D. C. All of the physicians examined the men in the squad thoroughly before, after and during the test. They all reported to Dr. Atkinson that they could find no bad effects from eating the fruit, but noted improvements. Dr. Atkinson will submit a report of his experiments to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and the California delegation in Congress.

LEADERS PACIFIC.

JAPANESE PARLIAMENT IS NOW IN SESSION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOKIO, Jan. 21.—Marquis Katsura, the Premier, opened the House of Lords at noon today, and in his speech dwelt upon the cordial foreign relations existing at present between Japan and other powers. It was, he declared, especially favorable at this time.

He said it behooved Japan to use her best efforts toward the development of the nation's internal resources, that the alliance with Great Britain had resulted in strengthening the bonds of friendship and mutual good will with that country and that a satisfactory exchange of notes with America had removed all misunderstandings between Japan and the United States, whereby peace in the Far East is absolutely insured.

Referring to the finances of the empire, Marquis Katsura said that special attention was being paid toward balancing the expenditures of the nation with the known receipts and that it was the intention of the department of finance to devote a large share of its attention to national development. The Premier closed with asking the coöperation of the members of the House of Lords. The lower house opened at 1 o'clock and Premier Katsura made a similar speech before the representatives.

"I purchased a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and immediately commenced to improve. In all, I think I took 14 bottles, and my weight increased from 133 pounds to 184 pounds in less than six months. I know from personal results the efficacy of Scott's Emulsion."—FRED. R. STRONGMAN, 417 Bathurst St., London, Ont.

MILLION HER DOWERY.

Miss Frances Stotesbury Given Big Sum by Father on Her Wedding Day.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just before Miss Frances Stotesbury, the last unmarried daughter of E. T. Stotesbury, of the firm of Drexel & Co., the Philadelphia branch of J. P. Morgan & Co., was married to John Kearsley Mitchell, third, nephew of Dr. S. W. Mitchell, the noted naturalist and author, her father presented her with a check for $1,000,000, as a wedding present.

Philadelphia society is still gasping at the size of this present, the largest wedding gift any Philadelphia girl has ever had. Mr. Stotesbury's munificence is the topic of conversation in drawing-rooms and club lobbies.

Mr. Stotesbury also gave his daughter a diamond tiara, a diamond necklace and a string of pearls, the three said to be worth about $500,000.

THAW MAKES STATEMENT.

Seeks to Explain Why Latest Habeas Corpus Was Withdrawn by Counsel.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To correct a misapprehension regarding the reasons for withdrawing the latest habeas corpus in his case, Harry K. Thaw tonight gave out the following statement:

"I am not seeking to avoid a hearing in New York City and if assured a jury trial there my counsel would gladly suffer the inconvenience of trying my case so far from his home.

"The habeas corpus writ obtained by my order was withdrawn because we refuse to allow the transfer to be put practically in Mr. Jerome's hands.

"It is pertinent to add that yesterday the District Attorney of an up-State county and his assistant came to White Plains to have a case transferred to Albany.

"They presented the identical argument advanced ten days ago by Mr. Jerome, but the judge refused to permit the case to go out of this district at their dictation.

[Signed] "H. K. THAW."

FRATERNITY ARRESTED.

Thirty Students Taken in Custody for Offense of Keeping Vicious Canine.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KIRKVILLE, (Mo.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A whole fraternity, consisting of about thirty students of the American School of Osteopathy, was arrested here today for the offense of keeping one vicious dog.

For several years 'Bowser,' a fine, blooded, bulldog mascot, has ruled Theta Psi fraternity. Sunday afternoon he bit Dr. E. S. Quinn of this city as he was walking near the chapel house. Quinn reported to Chief of Police S. T. Hull, the sworn enemy of dogs. Chief Hull quizzed the members of the fraternity but could never locate the rightful owner.

He thereupon arrested the entire fraternity, charging them with keeping a dangerous dog. The whole crowd was taken to court, where the judge informed them that the minimum fines and costs would be $10.60 each.

DUBLIN POLITICS LIVELY.

Town Clerk Disqualifies Candidates and Is Attacked as Free Mason.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DUBLIN (Ireland) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Local politics is exciting the Sinn Fein party, which is now aiming to capture the Dublin corporation. In the municipal elections the party has lost one seat and gained one, but it shows substantial minorities wherever beaten. It had not a fair chance at the polls, as the Dublin Town Clerk disqualified it from starting three of its candidates on the technical ground that their Christian names did not appear in full on the nomination papers.

Accordingly, the Sinn Fein party has its knife out for the Town Clerk and has begun by exposing him as a Free Mason. This official, Henry Campbell, was once an Irish member of Parliament and acted as private secretary to Mr. Parnell. Since he is a Catholic the revelation, supported by documentary evidence, that he is secretly a Free Mason has caused a great sensation. The office of Dublin Town Clerk is a fat post, with a salary of $11,000 a year.

SENATORIAL FIGHT.

CHAMBERLAIN WINS ELECTION.

OREGON'S GOVERNOR MAY NOT SIT IN SENATE.

Effort Will Be Made to Reject Him as Senator to Prevent Spread of Method by Which He Was Elected to Other States—Statement No. 1 May Be Made Misdemeanor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALEM (Or.) Jan. 20.—In joint session at noon today Speaker Bowerman declared George E. Chamberlain elected United States Senator from Oregon.

The record of the vote in the separate houses of yesterday were read, and Bowerman declared that Chamberlain, having received a majority in each house, was duly elected.

No joint vote was taken. Opponents of Chamberlain assert that he will not be seated. They allege they have positive assurance that the Committee on Elections will not seat him. This will be done, they aver, because Oregon's method of electing Senators is now being advocated by New York and other States, and the only way to prevent the spread of the Oregon idea is to reject Chamberlain when he presents his credentials.

A measure was introduced in the House today making it a misdemeanor to take Statement No. 1, or to make any pledge on the Senatorship, when a candidate for the Legislature. It provides a fine and imprisonment as a penalty, and also provides that any one elected after taking the pledge shall not be seated.

MORE IMMIGRANTS COMING.

Steerage Passengers from German Ports Indicate That Tide Has Set in Again.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The number of passengers booked for steerage accommodation on the steamships leaving German ports this week indicates that the tide of emigration to America is again setting in. The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, left Bremen today with all the berths taken and 1000 steerage passengers will leave later in the week for Galveston and Baltimore, to be followed by 1500 emigrants bound for New York.

The total for the week on one line alone will be 5100 passengers, who intend to make their homes in America. Steamship officials are elated and hope that the volume of emigration during the spring and summer will tend to make up to a considerable extent for the slack traffic of 1908, when the number of persons leaving Europe for America fell nearly 1,000,000 below records for the previous year, a decrease affecting profits disastrously.

SCIENTIST AND ROBBER.

Young Doctor Says He Was Caught Red-handed and Will Take Punishment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Today I am a criminal, caught red-handed, an associate of evil persons, a bandit, robber, enemy of society. Tomorrow, I shall be a scientific recluse, deeply studious, interested in psychopathic literature, an analyist of the human mind and a neurologist.

"It is fate. Highly nervous and over studious in these recent years, I have overstrained. Whiskey is my Nemesis, but I am not a drunkard. Without it, I am a gentleman, with it, I am the fighting, adventure-seeking, dangerous character the police have captured."

This statement was offered today by Dr. Paul Trotter, a young physician, graduate of Tulane University and of Washington University Medical Department at St. Louis, Mo., who is held on charges of highway robbery.

Dr. Trotter admits he joined two switchmen employed by the Northwestern Railroad in a scheme whereby they held up and robbed other employees, knowing their payday and when they could be found alone. This plan was so successful they began robbing stores and cars.

ROMANCE OF THE HOSPITAL.

Couple Meet in Eastern Institution, Wed in Los Angeles and Live in Santa Barbara.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVERHILL, (Mass.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A romance of the Waverly Hospital is revealed by an announcement from Santa Barbara, Cal., of the marriage of Florence Bradford Leighton of this city, and James Watson Chalmers of Santa Barbara, whither the bride journeyed to meet her affianced.

Their wedding arrangements were completed by mail. The couple met for the first time while employed as attendants in the Waverly Hospital, friendship ripening into love. When Mr. Chalmers's term of service was completed, he received a call from the Far West. His sweetheart remained at Waverly for some time, but in the meantime love missives passed frequently in the mail.

They were married in Los Angeles and there passed their honeymoon, later going to Santa Barbara, where they will make their home.

JOHN A. INCE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—John A. Ince, the veteran comedian, died, Monday, at his home at Sheepshead Bay. Mr. Ince was 63 years old and was born in England. When a boy, he got employment in an English battleship as "powder monkey" and landed in California when the gold craze was at its height, and by carrying tools for the miners, made enough money to enable him to attend the Jesuit College at San Francisco.

Let Out on Bail.

Frank J. Ernst, accused of having counterfeiting molds in his possession, was released from the County Jail yesterday on $500 bail. He is awaiting the disposition of his case in the United States District Court.

To Serve Soldiers' Mess.

Roosevelt Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, will hold an open meeting this evening in Odd Fellows' Hall. The G.A.R. Orchestra and Drum Corps will furnish music. Beans, coffee and hard tack will be served, and all ex-soldiers and their friends are invited.

For Distinguished Physician.

Thrown and Severely Injured.

Morris Greeley of No. 941 Jefferson street was severely injured yesterday morning while catching a Central-avenue car at Jefferson street. The motorman was making up lost time and did not stop in answer to Greeley's signal. The latter jumped for the car and was thrown. He sustained a concussion of the brain, bruises on the head and face and abrasions about the body and limbs. He was removed to a drug store and later taken to his home.

Bank Clerks' Meeting.

A 'cello solo by Prof. Hans Mettke has been arranged for by the programme committee of the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Institute of Banking, for its monthly meeting this evening. The members will gather in the chapter rooms, in the Pacific Mutual building. John F. Roche, vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, will talk on life insurance. George S. Green, president of the chapter, will deliver an address on political economy.

Two Deaths Accidental.

Verdicts of accidental death were returned yesterday by the Coroner's juries called to investigate the cases of Yashimo Takabashi and L. A. McKenzie. In the case of the Japanese it was found that the crew of the Pico Heights car of the Los Angeles Railway Company had done everything in their power to avoid running over him. McKenzie, a laborer, was stealing a ride at the time of the accident which caused his death on the Southern Pacific, which was held blameless.

PRESS AND PUBLIC.

Talk by Newspaper Man to Students of University of Southern California.

At the request of the faculty a talk was given to the students in civics of the University of Southern California yesterday morning by Harry E. Andrews, managing editor of The Times, on the subject of "The Relation of the Press to the Public."

The speaker divided newspapers into two classes: one represented by the old Skowhegan Clarion and its "porringer"—mercenary, petty, seeking only to get much from the public for little; the other class purposeful, ambitious and in some instances dictatorial, undertaking not only to edit the town and run the country, but to manage the planet, to cause wars, to promote earthquakes and to teach an Emperor the rudiments of his job.

Again the speaker subdivided the ambitious and purposeful newspapers into two classes: the volcanic and radical press, taking up any proposed change, be it labeled "reform," joining with every hue and cry temporarily raised by an excited populace, giving its indorsement without hesitation to any old agitation in the form of a "new" movement; and then the conservative press which insists upon weighing the merits and demerits of every proposition, looking into the antecedents and qualifications of self-announced deliverers of the people and other Loud Noises, and disposed to stand firmly by and on the old foundations.

The most difficult problem of the journalist today, it seemed to the speaker, is to decide between the worthy motive and the unworthy, the substantial project and the adventitious, the genuine thing and the false—so numerous are the schemes, fads, isms and cults presented to his notice, so many the victims of the great American disease, Publicityitis, bent upon forcing themselves upon the public by getting elected as presidents and secretaries of multifarious organizations and demanding that the editor either surrender his space to them and fall in with their ideas, or be set down as a reactionary, an old fogy, an unfeeling wretch, an undesirable citizen and a tool of corporations.

The speaker instanced the busybody all on fire with his plans for a new organization "for the Amelioration of the Condition of Unfortunate and Neglected Cats," who gets up on the roof to be seen of all men, and insists that editorial attention be given to the crying needs of these cats, some of whom are "treated with absolute disrespect," by an unfeeling public. And mention was made of the visit to the sanctum of Miss Straightlace, a very earnest maiden, who exhorts Mr. Editor to become a member and an advocate of her new "Parliament for the Promotion of the Proper Mothering of Children," although Mr. Editor, as Eugene Field said, "never was a mother and never can hope to be."

In conclusion the speaker declared that the most useful service that a newspaper can render to the public in this day and generation is to exercise a conserving influence—especially to restrain the revolutionary forces which have been so perniciously active of late. The difference between a democracy and a republic was explained and it was impressed upon the minds of the students that the founders of this Nation gave us a republican form of government, the most successful government known in the history of the nations. The speaker deplored the attempts to transform this representative government into a democracy; and he criticised at length the initiative and referendum, the recall and the direct primary as un-republican, un-American, impracticable and mischievous.

DOCTORS DISCUSS LEPROSY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Three persons afflicted with leprosy were exhibited last night before members of the New York Academy of Medicine. A fourth of the interested spectators were women. Dr. H. L. Shively, in a paper entitled "Leprosy in Norway," said that references to the disease could be found in books as far back as the eleventh century. The excellent campaign against the disease in that century, he said, had so stamped it out that the total number of cases would not exceed 500. One bit of information of particular interest to medical men in this country was the assertion that in a certain hospital in Norway he found a number of returned emigrants who were suffering from the disease while in the United States, but who had not been discovered. Out of 180 lepers who had come to this country from Norway, he said, only one had been deported.

Obituary.

After a useful life covering a period of seventy-eight years, yesterday the mortal remains of Tiburcio Flores were laid to rest on Calvary Mount. Disease grappled with him, and in accord with inexorable law he passed away—carried hence to that unknown shore whence no traveler ever returns. His memory still lives to be emulated by those who survive him, for as long as the human heart shall be rocked by the sweet songs of charity as exemplified by the life of the lowly Nazarene, so long will the record of his deeds be emblazoned in the hearts of those who have known him in this last half century.

His martial deeds are not to be recorded in the splendid pages of the world's history, but his chivalry, his courage, his kindness and his magnanimity will stand the test of time, and when those whose fame depends upon the material things of life shall have vanished and been swept away, his deeds and his memory will be enshrined in garlands of green, imperishable and undying. Tiburcio Flores was chivalrous, hospitable and kind. The Americans of early date can attest to his true friendship, and those of them who are now residents of Kern county, Cal., will remember his generous and kindly deeds.

DOWNPOUR.

ORM'S EDGE REACHES CITY.

Angeles on Rim of Gale That Sweeps State.

Again Threaten the Northern Section.

rim of a Coast-long gale reached Angeles shortly after 5 o'clock last t and by 1 a.m. this morning e than half an inch of rain had n hereabouts.

e storm whose outer edge reached ar, south as this city, was central h of San Francisco, and according reports which reached here late one of the worst in the history of city. Telegraph and telephone unications were reported down in rections and the residents of the mento Valley are fearful that the ed downpour in the mountains orth of the State Capital, will n a recurrence of the disasfloods which have been inundat- section.

towns and cities lying close to ngeles come reports of the ar- f the storm, but the rainfall in oints has been a reason of hness, instead of foreboding. nchmen and orchardists have glad to see the rain, and from ne of the southern points has any complaint been made.

n Los Angeles the rain did no damage, beyond flooding the streets and setting those who had been caught out in it unprepared.

The mist and fog of Tuesday night at Long Beach developed early yesterday morning into a drizzling rain, which added .26 of an inch to the precipitation for the season, bringing the total of the rainfall to date to 4.93.

A mild rain began falling at Riverside about 8 o'clock tonight. At 10 o'clock .05 of an inch had fallen, with indications of continued showers throughout the night. The total rainfall for the season is 3.70 inches, which is slightly above the average at this date.

Rain began falling at San Diego shortly after midnight and about .05 of an inch had fallen at 1 o'clock a.m. Nothing but a trace of rain had been recorded in San Diego during the day. The measurement in the back country at Escondido today was but .05 of an inch, but late at night the rain was still falling. Indications point to a heavier rain tomorrow.

Rain commenced along the summit of the San Bernardino Mountains at 7 o'clock tonight, and showed no indication of abating. San Bernardino, Colton, Redlands and Highland since 5 o'clock this afternoon have been treated to a light drizzle, hardly sufficient to dampen the roads.

Word from Pine Crest, on the mountains, at 8:30, states that the temperature is unusually warm, which is generally a token of a prolonged storm, and a generous downpour is due here before morning.

A slow drizzle that promises to develop into a shower before morning commenced at Santa Ana at 6:30 o'clock tonight. Rain would interfere with plowing.

Half an inch of rain has fallen in the San Joaquin Valley points. The total for season is five inches.

CITY GALE-SWEPT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Accompanied by a gale that at times reached a velocity of sixty-five miles an hour here, a tremendous rainstorm, reaching from the Oregon coast to a considerable distance south of the Golden Gate, broke over this city and the whole central portion of the State tonight. Rain fell all day, but the wind came up in the afternoon, continuing for several hours.

Telegraph and telephone wires were blown down and communication in all directions was practically shut off for several hours. The storm abated somewhat late tonight, but the barometer, which recorded a remarkable drop here, falling nearly one-third of an inch in six hours, remains very low and more storms is predicted. The weather bureau officials classify the storm as one of the most severe known along the coast in many years.

FLOODS THREATENED.

Outside of the demoralization of telegraph and telephone wires, and at some points the suspension of street car traffic, owing to the failure of power circuits, no damage of any extent has been reported from the interior tonight.

The most critical time will come tomorrow, when the floods poured into every river and stream by the foothill country, reach the lowlands.

At Dunsmuir, at the mouth of Sacramento Canon, the river marked the highest point tonight, it has ever reached in the memory of the old residents. When this volume of water reached the levees of Sacramento and Yolo counties, it is possible that those barriers will be carried away.

At Modesto nearly an inch of rain fell in twelve hours and the resulting damage to the power ditch of the light company, left the town in darkness for some hours. The same condition obtained at Woodland and Marysville which report the worst storm in the history of those sections. The Yuba River rose two feet in 24 hours and the Feather, which is already high, is rising.

Railroad traffic about Marysville is badly crippled, and passengers are getting in and out only by means of the electric roads.

Oroville is in the same predicament, but one train having succeeded in getting out in a week. The storm did considerable damage around Sacramento, cutting the capital off from the rest of the State, and only one telegraph wire was working into the city. The light service was suspended and car lines were stalled for some hours, owing to the carrying away of the power wires.

SLOOP ADRIFT.

In this city the high wind created great uneasiness in shipping circles, and tugs were kept ready along the water front to go to the rescue of any vessel which might drag its anchors. One small sloop got adrift and was driven down the bay, but was recaptured before it had done any damage. Over the heads the waters over the bar were exceedingly rough, and the pilot boat was compelled to remain inside. The rainfall up to 5 o'clock was 1.29 inches and the downpour continued late the night, though with less violence.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company reports tonight that its routes from Sacramento are in bad shape and conditions are growing worse. The wind added to the flood waters along the line is to fury and the waves constantly beating against the right of way

CITY GALE-SWEPT.

ROM COAST WIDE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Accom- anied by a gale that at times reached a velocity of sixty-five miles an hour here, a tremendous rainstorm, reaching from the ocean coast to a considerable distance south of the Golden Gate, has swept this city and the whole northern portion of the State tonight. It has set in all day, but the wind came up in the afternoon, continuing for several hours.

Telegraph and telephone wires were blown down and communication in all directions was practically shut off for several hours. The storm abated somewhat late tonight, but the barometer, which recorded a remarkable drop here, falling nearly one-third of an inch in six hours, remains very low and more storm is predicted. The weather bureau officials classify the storm as one of the most severe known to the coast in many years.

FLOODS THREATENED.

Outside of the demoralization of tele- graph and telephone wires, and at points the suspension of street cars, owing to the failure of pow- er, no damage of any extent has been reported from the interior valleys.

The most critical time will come however, when the floods poured into every river and stream by the foothill rains reach the lowlands. Suisun, at the mouth of Sacra- mento Cañon, the river marked the high point tonight, it has ever reached in the memory of the old resi- dents. When this volume of water reaches the levees of Sacramento and Yolo counties, it is possible that those levees will be carried away.

Fully three inches of rain in twelve hours and the resulting rush to the power ditch of the light company left the town in darkness for many hours. The same condition prevailed at Woodland and Marysville and reports report the worst storm in the history of those sections. The Yuba River rose two feet in 24 hours and the Feather, which is already high, is rising.

Railroad traffic about Marysville is badly crippled, and passengers are get- ting in and out only by means of the launch service.

Stockton is in the same predicament, only one train having succeeded in getting out in a week. The storm did considerable damage around Sacra- mento, cutting the capital off from the rest of the State, and only one tele- graph wire was working into the city. Telephone service was suspended and trains were stalled for some hours, owing to the carrying away of the telegraph wires.

SLOOP ADRIFT.

In this city the high wind created considerable uneasiness in shipping circles, and tugs were kept ready along the water front to go to the rescue of any craft which might drag its anchors. A small sloop got adrift and was driven down the bay, but was recap- tured before it had done any damage. Further down the waters over the bar are exceedingly rough, and the pilot boat was compelled to remain inside. The rainfall up to 5 o'clock was 1.29 inches, and the downpour continued through the night, though with less vio- lence.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Com- pany reports tonight that its routes in this section are in bad shape and conditions are growing worse. The wind is driving the flood waters along the coast to fury and the waves constant- ly beating against the right of way have gradually washed out the ballast in many places. Trains that get over do so at slow speed.

STORM AT CAPITAL.

HAVOC IN THE CITY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20.—This valley was swept by the most severe rain and wind storm in its history tonight. The wind played havoc in this city, wreck- ing the telegraph and telephone wires and creating waves along the river on the Yolo side, which is already flooded.

The situation is extremely dangerous for the residents of the unprotected lowlands. Street car service in Sac- ramento was suspended for six hours tonight, owing to the failure of the power wires of the Yuba and Folsom Power Company. The wires were thrown down by the wind, which at times reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour.

The Sacramento River registered 26.3 at 10 o'clock this morning, and was falling. It was raining in the north- ern section of the valley, but from the fact that there is practically no snow in the mountains, it was not expected the downpour will have any percepti- ble effect on the river.

The down-river islands are safe. Re- ports from them this morning are that the danger point has passed, and that the river is falling beyond Grand Isl- and. All the levees stood the test.

From the San Joaquin comes the re- port that the Venice Island levees went out and that the island is flooded.

Railroad traffic will be resumed on the regular schedules by tomorrow. The break in the roadbed on the South- ern Pacific between this city and Da- visville will be repaired today, and trains will be run over the line to- morrow. Eastern trains are running without delay.

TORRENTS AT CHICO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICO, Jan. 21.—A torrential rain been falling all day in the northern part of the Sacramento Valley, and in some places it rained hard all last night. Word from Dunsmuir tonight is to the effect that the Sacramento River at 8 o'clock this morning was higher than ever known before at that point. When the crest of the high wa- ters from the north reach here tomor- row, one of the worst floods ever ex- perienced here is looked for.

News from Feather River points is that it has been storming hard all day in that section and that even higher water than was experienced a few days ago is expected.

It cleared in the vicinity of Chico to- night, but indications are that more rain will fall before morning.

LEVEES HOLD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, Jan. 20.—There has been no confirmation of the report that Venice Island is flooded, and the belief here is that the levees have held and that the island is safe. The San Joaquin continues to fall, having gone down more than half a foot last night. There is considerable wind, however, and this is a source of much concern, as it may result in high waves, which are dangerous to levees.

The rainfall last night was .42 with more coming.

ESPEE BLOCKADED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

REDDING, Jan. 20.—The Southern Pacific blockade in the Sacramento Cañon was lifted this morning, and passenger trains which had been held all night at Redding and Dunsmuir, moved forward at 8 o'clock. The washout at Coram again caused some trouble, and there were small land- slides at Gregory and Kennett during the night.

RAIN AT FRESNO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

FRESNO, Jan. 20.—Up to 5 o'clock this evening .33 of an inch of rain fell here, and the precipitation continues tonight. The rainfall to date is below the normal, but Weather Observer Bolton expects the storm to bring it up to the average.

FAMILY MAROONED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COLUSA, Jan. 20.—Pouring rain ac- companied by a heavy wind began here this morning, the storm continuing with unabated violence throughout the day. The rain has ceased, but indications are for more. The real time of danger will come tomorrow, when the water accumulated in the foothills during the day's storm comes down the rivers. Several members of the family of a farmer named Coughlan and three other men, are marooned in their homes a few miles south of this city. At- tempts to rescue them were made dur- ing the day without success.

TWO SUSPECTED SHOOTERS.

Louis Schmidt and Bert J. Smith were arrested yesterday by Patrol- man Hickey and McClarey and locked up at the City Jail on suspicion of be- ing the men who engaged in a pistol duel with Deputy Sheriff Leonard, Monday night. Leonard identified the men yesterday, but not thoroughly, and they will be held until the case is further investigated.

AFFAIR OF HONOR.

MANAGER KNOCKS OUT ARNOLD DALY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dis- patch.] Arnold Daly, theatrical re- former, and knon for his willing- ness to take up a real or fancied af- front, is tonight nursing one discolored eye, a sprained wrist, and several other bruises. They were given to Mr. Daly tonight during a strictly private bout in a room at the Sherman House by Hamilton Mott, who until 2 o'clock this afternoon was Mr. Daly's stage manager.

Details of the affair were kept secret tonight, and word of it only leaked out when Dr. Cavanaugh, house physician for the hotel, was called to attend the actor.

Daly and Mott fell out because the actor, who is starring in the "Pick- pockets," sent all his orders to him by his valet. Mr. Mott objected, and asked that the orders be given in per- son or not at all. Words followed, and this afternoon, during the course of the matinée, Daly and the manager clashed in the former's dressing-room. Ambrose Miller, manager of the com- pany, interfered before there was any damage done, but Mr. Daly announced that Mr. Mott was "fired."

The latter retorted by calling the actor a "four-flusher," and a few other like terms of endearment.

The sallies flew back and forth, un- til there came a challenge from Mott which Daly accepted.

They were to have met tonight at the Mentone Hotel, where Mr. Mott is rooming, but after the theater Daly went to the Sherman House and tele- phoned—through his valet—for the for- mer manager to come downtown and "get a beating." Mott jumped into a taxicab and hurried to the hotel.

He went to the room of Emmett Cor- rigan of the same company, where Miller, Daly and Corrigan were wait- ing. There the men stripped to the waist. They started to fight with bare knuckles, but Daly stopped.

"We must have on gloves, at least walking gloves," he said. "I don't want to soil my hands with this fellow."

Mott said nothing, but put on the walking gloves, and the two went at it. Mott is smaller than Daly, and the latter is more scientific, but the better condition of the stage manager told, and after fighting for about twenty minutes, Daly was in distress.

Four times the actor was knocked to the floor, and four times he got up. Again he went down. This time he stayed down.

A physician was called to attend to Daly, and Motf says he is still wait- ing for that licking.

LIBEL SUIT.

WORLD EMPLOYEES SUMMONED TODAY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A new move by the government was made to- day in the libel proceedings in the Federal Court, growing out of criti- cisms by the New York World of the Panama Canal purchase. Two em- ployés of the World, the publishers of which, The Press Publishing Company, have been named as the defendants in the proceedings, were today served with subpoenaes in which they are summoned to appear and testify in the case of "The United States against The Press Publishing Company, and oth- ers."

Who the other defendants are was not specified. The two men so served are Thomas Corcoran and William Gull. Gull's name appears for the first time in the list of those served with sub- poenaes, but Corcoran is one of the World's employés served in the first instance under the indefinite form to which attorneys for the World regis- tered objection and contested in the courts.

The validity of his original sub- poenaes with that of the four other World employés subpoenaed at the same time, is still awaiting a decision by United States Judge Ward of the Federal Circuit Court.

Under his new subpoena Corcoran appeared today in readiness to testify, but with Gull was excused until to- morrow afternoon.

This afternoon William Dempsey, head of the World's mailing depart- ment, testified before the grand jury. He remained only a short time, but it was an hour after, before the grand jury adjourned until tomorrow.

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

YOUTH SAYS ROBBED BANK.

Tells of Stealing Ten Thous- and Dollars.

Arrested in St. Louis With a Large Sum.

Carefully Covered up His Tracks Since.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dis- patch.] Carlton Carlos Wiseley, 20- year-old financier, confessed to the po- lice tonight that he robbed the old Na- tional Bank of Spokane, Wash., of $10,- 000, and that $8000 is in a safety deposit vault in that city.

He says:

"I was first employed as paying tel- ler's blotting clerk in August, 1907. My first theft was of $1000 from the vault. Then I held out a check from a Wash- ington, D. C., bank for $10,000. That day our clearing sheet showed $4000 shortage.

"The following morning I made it appear $14,000 short. I took the cash- ier's check to cover it to the Bank of Montreal and got $10,000 in clearing- house certificates. Then I made good with my $10,000 Washington check and kept the certificates. These I disposed of. The last one was in November, 1908, after I had been discharged."

Wiseley first rented a safety deposit box in Spokane under the name of Gale Paul. He deposited his cash there and ten days later went to Portland, Or., and rented a box under the alias of Harry Moore and opened a savings account with the bank. He left Spo- kane in December, coming direct to St. Louis, where he has been attend- ing a plumbing school. Eighteen hun- dred dollars was found on him.

TRUNK'S PRESCRIPTION

RHEUMATISM

Cannot possibly exist in any form if you will take Trunk's Prescription for Rheu- matism and Gout and use the Adecta Liniment, and use them strictly accord- ing to the directions.

Inflammatory, Sciatic, Muscular, Lum- bago, Gout or any other form of Rheu- matism. It is positively absurd, ridicu- lous and preposterous—it is really a pity and a shame to talk about Rheumatism, much less to suffer with it, when you can get Trunk's Prescription for Rheumatism and Gout for $1.50.

This prescription does not ruin the Stomach and it does not depress the Heart. It does not contain any Salicylate of Soda, Salicylic Acid, Oil of Winter- green, Opium, Morphine or Bromides in any form. It cannot harm you, but it will remove Rheumatism in any and all forms.

QUAKERS LEAD IN BASKETBALL.

Beat Pomona in Conference Championship Game.

Whittier Scores Victory in a Decisive Fashion.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WHITTIER, Jan. 20.—Whittier, 21; Pomona, 6.

In the first conference basketball game of the season played in Whittier, Pomona went down to defeat at the hands of the Quakers by the one-sided score of 21 to 6.

Pomona was unable to score in the first half, while Whittier rolled up fourteen points.

In the second half Pomona took a brace and held the "champs" down to seven points and secured six to their credit.

Nisbet was the only man on the Pomona team who secured a field goal. Mills, Renneker, and Crites each threw two field goals and Short made one for Whittier. Capt. Mills of Whittier threw seven out of thirteen tries at free throws, and Neuls secured four out of nine attempts.

Neuls, Shutt and Lorbeer played a good game for Pomona, Lorbeer being especially strong in breaking up the team work of the Quakers. Neuls and Shutt played a desperate game during the second half, but were unable to secure a field goal.

The victory for Whittier was largely due to the close guarding of Todd and Short. The work of Todd was the best ever seen on a local court. He broke up the team work of Pomona again and again. Short played a brilliant game, allowing Shutt but few chances at field goals and secured one goal from a very difficult throw.

Capt. Mills played his usual steady game, being especially strong in getting the ball to the forwards. His free throwing was not up to the showing he made against Occidental, but he succeeded in outjumping his opponent.

Renneker and Crites played great team work, the former succeeding in getting the locals out of tight places by quick and accurate passing.

The entire Whittier student body filled the bleachers and cheered their team on to victory.

This victory gives Whittier a lead in the championship race, as every other team in the conference has lost one or more games. If the leaders hold to their present gait, they should be able to bring home the championship again.

The line-up was as follows:

Whittier.		Pomona.
N. W. Renneker	forward	Neuls
Mills	center	Gore
		Repuer
Todd	guard	Nisbet
Short	guard	Lorbeer

Referee—Williams, U. S. C. Law School.

Umpire—Weed, Whittier Athletic Association.

Timer—Marshburn; scorer, N. B. Stenneker.

GREAT CONTEST.

TEAM WORK COUNTS.

U.S.C., 29; Occidental College, 16.

In a hard-fought contest, replete with clean basket throwing and flashes of clever team work, the strong basketball team of the University of Southern California defeated Occidental at the university court yesterday afternoon by the score of 29 to 16.

The result of the game was a surprise to the rooters of both schools, as the recent defeat of the Methodists by Pomona placed them on an equal footing with the Highlanders and the decisive defeat of the visitors yesterday is attributed to the marked improvement in the team work of the home team.

The first half of the game was devoid of any startling features save a single one-handed throw to a basket by Coloneus from the center of the court. The play was slow, the opposing men guarded each other with remarkable monotony, and the forwards had but slight opportunity to work their scoring combinations.

Fouls were numerous, the visiting players being the greater offenders. Hall and Baer, the respective forwards, were able to convert only half of the free throws, and neither team gained any advantage through the penalties.

In the final period the Methodists opened the play with noticeable aggressiveness, and the Highlanders were none the less quick to put ginger into their play. With the score 11 to 9 in favor of the university at the opening of the second half the home players began to execute a triple-pass combination that netted three baskets before the Presbyterians could break the play.

Hall found his sights on the foul throws, and penalties for holding and overguarding by the visiting back gave the university forward the chance to ring up four points in a few minutes of play. Toward the middle of the period Hollister of Occidental threw two field goals from a difficult angle, and the Occidental forwards played with desperation in an attempt to even the count.

Coloneus, the star player of the Methodists, was unable to overcome the persistent guarding of McPeak, and it remained for Guard Hatch to elude his forward long enough to ring two easy baskets. Coloneus followed with two additional baskets, and after an easy basket by Hillery, Gower threw two more baskets, and the Methodists gained 18 points to 5 for Occidental before the close of the game.

Hall, Hatch and Coloneus shared the honors of the winning five, Coloneus shooting five field baskets and Hall making a total of seven baskets from the foul line. Baer and Hollister showed up especially strong for the Highlanders. McPeak did not make any points, but guarded Coloneus so closely as to prevent a larger opposing score.

The line-up of the teams was:

U.S.C.		Occidental.
Hall	forward	Baer (c.)
Carroll	forward	Hollister
Gower
Coloneus (c.)	center	McPeak
Hatch	guard	McKenney
Henderson	guard	Hillery

Summary—Field goals, Coloneus 5, Hatch 4, Gower 2, Hollister 3, Baer 2, Hillery 1; foul goals, Hall 7, Baer 4; fouls, on U.S.C. 13, on Occidental 15; referee, Braden; umpire, Goodsell; timers, Bovard, Johnson; time of halves, twenty minutes.

GAME AT HARVARD.

SAINTS TO VISIT CADETS.

The Harvard Military School and St. Vincent's College basketball teams are billed to meet in a practice game on the former's outdoor court this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This is to be the Saints' first game this season.

Harvard school has but one more game to play in the County League, which is scheduled for Saturday afternoon. After this game the military lads intend to disband for the season.

Coach Moores of the St. Vincent's five has decided to change the Saints' line-up, as Deitricks has shown a marked improvement at forward over his last year's work, and will take Reynolds's position, and the latter will work at guard. Van Orshoven has also taken a spurt during the week's practice, and will assist Reynolds at guard. The teams will line-up as follows:

Harvard.		St. Vincent's.
Fowler	forward	Deitricks
Mitchell	forward	Holleran
Schneider	guard	Van Orshoven
Levy	guard	Reynolds
Whitman	center	McNeil

Referee, Spencer.

IN BUNCHES.

WOULD WRESTLE SIX MEN IN HALF HOUR.

CHARLES FENGLER, known on the mat as Roeber II, has issued an extraordinary challenge to any wrestlers in Los Angeles. He agrees to take on any six men in the city and throw them one after another in thirty minutes without stopping, at any style the men may choose—catch-as-catch-can, Graeco-Roman, Cornish, or any other, no holds barred if so desired.

The men especially challenged are Starr Roberts, Fred Gustafson, Jack Hogan, Billy Biel, Jack Lee, William Vander Priem, and any others.

Manager J. B. Lehigh of Chutes Park has agreed to stage the match, and has set Sunday afternoon, January 31, as the date for the bouts, to take place in the baseball park, if in fair weather, or in the Chutes Theater if raining.

Fengler has been in Los Angeles for several days, and is seeking a match, with an especial desire to meet Dr. Roller of Seattle and barring neither Fred Beell or Frank Gotch. He believes that the way to get recognition here is to perform some such stunt as his challenge indicates.

There are a number of very good wrestlers in Los Angeles and it hardly seems possible for Fengler to accomplish the feat. Such men as Billy Biel, Jack Hogan, and Fred Gustafson would probably try the trick by themselves, as they have enough confidence to believe they can put up a good bout against any man.

Fengler is a giant in size, weighing 235 at this time, and able to train down to about 207 to 210. He wrestled for six years in Europe, and for four years was sparring and wrestling partner to Bob Fitzsimmons. Because of what he has learned in the latter instance, he is willing to fight any heavyweight in Los Angeles and has so expressed himself to Manager McCarey of the Pacific Athletic Club, but the latter has not found a man large enough to go against him.

The big wrestler proposes to visit Chutes Park next Sunday and personally issue his challenge and meet any man who desires to try him out in the Chutes Pavilion.

IN A DRIZZLE.

HILLTOP GIRLS DEFEAT POLYS.

FIERCE BASKETBALL GAME ON WASHINGTON COURT.

Los Angeles Team Scores All the Points in First Third, but Poly Takes Brace in the Second and High Clinches Game in Third. Desperate Struggle.

The girls' basketball team of Los Angeles High School defeated Polytechnic High yesterday afternoon on the Polytechnic court, by a score of 13 to 7.

The game was hard fought and full of furious playing and there was not a field goal thrown but what was preceded by a hard struggle under the basket. The court was slippery, making fast work almost impossible and most of the game was played in a drizzling rain.

The hill team won the contest in the first third by gaining a lead of nine points with three field and three foul goals. Poly did not make a basket in this third and was unable to overcome the advantage gained by its opponent in the last two thirds.

The Washington-street girls did the best playing in the second third and scored five points by three foul and one field goal, allowing Los Angeles High only one point on a foul.

In the last third both teams played harder than in either of the preceding ones. Polytechnic, encouraged by its gain in the second, felt confident of closing the gap in the score. Anabel Buchanan of L. A. started the scoring by throwing a foul, and was followed by two field baskets by Hazel Franklin for Poly. Hazel's second basket was not counted as Hattie Gilmore was injured in the struggle under the goal. The final score was made for Los Angeles High and Miss Buchanon, who threw a pretty field goal in the last few minutes of play.

Sally Riley and Anabel Buchanon were the stars for high school, all of the points for the victors being made by Miss Buchanon. Edith White and Rose and Hazel Franklin did good work for Polytechnic.

The following is the line-up:

Los Angeles.		Polytechnic.
Buchanon	forward	H. Franklin
Rosenthal
Sweet	center	Welhelmi
Riley	O. center	White
Johnston	guard	R. Franklin
Gilmore	guard	Haines

Length of thirds, ten minutes; referee, Osborne; umpire, Miss Upton; scorers, Miss Rogers and Miss Evans; timers, Clarke and Skinner. Field goals: Anabel Buchanon 4, Hazel Franklin 2; scores on fouls: Anabel Buchanon 5, Hazel Franklin 2, Mary Brown 1.

BASEBALL.

SAINTS ANNEX THE FIRST ONE.

DEFEAT L. A. HIGH IN PRACTICE BALL GAME.

Shute Is the Star Hitter, Getting Three Safe Ones Out of as Many Times up—Ten Days of Practice Will Be Followed by Second Contest at Chutes Park.

The baseball game between Los Angeles High School and St. Vincent's College at Chutes Park yesterday afternoon resulted in a victory for the Saints by a score of 7 to 1. The game was slow throughout, and it lacked features save for the heavy stick work of Eugene Shute, the Vincentians' second-sacker, who connected with the High School pitchers for three hits out of three times at bat.

The coaches of both teams tried out several new men, most of whom were used on the slab. High School used Beach, Ewing and Taylor in the aforesaid order. Coach McCay o fthe Grand-avenue school sent Foster Couts in to open the game, and later he was relieved by Kerfoot. Kelsey and Miller alternated behind the mask for High School, both showing fairly good form. O'Connor and West caught for the Saints.

In the first inning Capt. Ybarrando of St. Vincents collided with Catcher Kelsey while running to the plate, receiving a badly sprained wrist which necessitated his leaving the game. Rollette took his place at shortstop. The gritty little captain after having his wrist bandaged, returned to the Chutes and requested McCay to put him back on the job.

St. Vincents and L. A. High School will practice for another ten days, when they are scheduled to meet in a return game January 30. Both teams showed lack of practice in yesterday's contest.

Shute of St. Vincent's did the first scoring of the day, romping home on Ybarrando's two-bagger. The hill school lads failed to find Couts for a hit. In the second Callahan crossed the pan on a wild pitch by Beach, who in the same inning squared himself by placing a neat hit over shortstop which gave the preps their only run, which was made by Wingett. Neither team scored in the third inning. In the fourth with three men on bases the ever-faithful Shute came to the plate and drove the ball to the fence, which netted three runs for the Saints. In the fifth inning Workman and Shute made two more runs for the Vincentians, the former scoring on a fly which went to deep center, and Workman on another wild pitch by Beach.

The line-up was as follows:

St. Vincents.		L. A. High.
Couts, Kerfoot	p.	Beach, Ewing Taylor
O'Connor, West	c.	Kelsey, Miller
Workman	1b.	Halbriter
Shute	2b.	Rollin
Ybarrando	s.s.	Howard
Rollette
J. Kennedy	3b.	Wilson
Callahan	l.f.	Wurtz
G. Kennedy	c.f.	Wingett
Rollette, Davidson	r.f.	Hirsn

PREPS ARE OUT.

The St. Vincent's High School baseball squad to the number of fourteen men answered the first call of Coach Moores for material with which to form the Prep team. Moores put the lads to hard work yesterday, after a fifteen-minute talk in the gym. For the first night the young Saints did remarkably well.

Mr. Moores put Lee and Foster Couts to work, warming up with West, who at present looks to be the only man out for the catcher's position. Foster Couts lead the Saints on the mound last season and made quite a name for himself as a pitcher. His brother is also something of a slabster, and thinks he will be able to deliver a few slants himself. The infield will be in doubt for some time, as there are so many trying for positions.

San Lafferty will assist Moores with the Preps, as the head coach is much too busy with the Varsity ball team and the basketball five to devote a great deal of time to the High School nine. Lafferty will give out a few words of advice to the pitchers, and will have charge of the infield.

The election of a captain for the Saints's Prep nine has been put off until Thursday afternoon. Hickson, who lead the youngsters last season, is back at school, and is trying out for the position at the third sack.

HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASTICS.

Dr. Beach and Miss Rogers to Show First Work of Year With Athletic Pupils.

Folk dancing, tumbling and pyramid building by the girls are new features arranged for the annual exhibition of the combined boys and girls' gymnasium clubs, this afternoon at 1:45 o'clock, in the Los Angeles High assembly hall.

Miss F. E. Rogers is directing the girls and their work will be more complicated than is usual, especially in the tumbling and pyramid building. Dr. Beach has charge of the boys, and has arranged an interesting programme. It is expected that nearly 2000 students will attend the performance.

The following is the programme: Folk dancing by girls; jiu jitsu wrestling, M. Shibata and M. Kasai; bucket exercises by boys, pyramids by girls; Japanese fencing, I. Areaka and M. Shibata; Scottish dancing, Meikeljohn brothers (twins;) tumbling by the boys; wrestling, catch-as-catch-can; pyramid building by boys; tumbling by girls; burlesque, Prof. Jason; pyramids by combined clubs.

U.S.C. Track Work.

Trackwork at U.S.C. is progressing rapidly since the cinders have hardened under the warm weather. More than forty men are on the training list, and the candidates have settled down to a steady grind preliminary to the heavy schedule of the season. The first practice met will be held with Polytechnic High School a week from Saturday.

Reardon Has Shade.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Patsy Reardon of Nicetown, shaded Jimmy Dolan of Trenton in the wind-up at the Wayne Athletic Club this evening. Abe Herman of New York was to have met the Nicetown boxer, but he injured his hand with Dolan on Sunday evening.

Young Otto and Cross.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The lightweight championship of the East Side will be decided tomorrow night in the ring of the Fairmont Athletic Club, when Leach Cross, the present title holder, and Young Otto, the aspirant, clash in a ten-round session. From every angle the battle promises to be a hummer.

Nelson Beats Sieger.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Fighting" Dick Nelson made a punching-bag of "Irog Man" Charlie Sieger, the little fighter who hails from Hoboken, in the star bout at the Sharkey Athletic Club tonight. From the first gong until the bell ended the tenth round, Nelson punched and battered his opponent around the ring at will, and the result was never in doubt.

Ross and Temple.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tony Ross and Larry Temple fought six vicious rounds here tonight before the National Athletic Club. The negro was knocked down three times, each time taking the count of eight. Ross, who is in good condition, has decided to go to Philadelphia and New York to get on a fight with some good welters if possible.

Brooklands Races.

Doubts expressed by British racing enthusiasts as to whether there would be any meets at the Brooklands automobile race track next season have been set at rest by the official announcement that it has been decided that the two day meetings on the bank holidays and the Saturdays which precede them, Easter, Whitsun and in August, shall be repeated.

SPEEDY BIRDS.

MANY CRACKS IN TRAINING.

More Than Hundred Horses at Agricultural Park.

Best Are Velox, Inferlatto and Carlokin.

Some unthinking persons often imagine that because the automobile has become such a common means of transportation and the electric car reaches so many sections of Southern California, that the harness horse has become a thing of the dead past and that it is never seen except on a delivery wagon. It is true that the French even eat horses but the fanciers of Southern California consider them too valuable for such a purpose.

In fact they are so valuable that the bunch of harness racers now stabled at Agricultural Park alone is estimated to be worth from $175,000 to $200,000 and while these figures may be considered a trifle high, it is believed that the 200 horses at the park are worth much more than $250,000, considering their probable winning and their breeding value.

It is doubtful if there is another city in the world that has so many high-class harness horses as Los Angeles and there is no question but that those here now could more than hold their own with any similar number in any city, in a series of races. Six or seven of them were on the Grand Circuit last year and twelve or fifteen will make the rounds this year.

SOME FAST ONES.

In the list are Walter Barker, a 2:09 pacer by the same sire as the sensational Minor Heir; Copo de Oro, a pacer with a record of 2:03 1-4; Carlokin, winner of the Empire $10,000 stakes at Buffalo and with a pacing mark of 2:08 1-4; a yearling by Audubon Boy, 1:59 3-4; Richie Baron, with a mark of 2:09; the pacer Hal McKinney, with a trial of a half mile in 1:02¼; three Bon Voyage colts that could probably not be purchased for less than $10,000, and a dozen others with records of 2:10 or better.

The star of the local collection, or the one that the majority of the horsemen think the most of, is Carlokin. The real value of this bird is problematical for all horses are merely bargambles at best. Some months ago he was sold for $11,500 and a percentage of his winnings, which would make his price about $14,000. His winnings on the Grand Circuit last season were about $20,000 and aside from his worth as a racer he should prove valuable in the stud, for he is bred in the purple. He is by McKinney (2:11 1-4, dam Carlotta Wilkes, which produced Inferlatto (2:04¼) and two others with marks better than 2:10. His feet are not in the best of condition at present but he has been turned out and it is believed that when the summer racing season opens he will be ready again to do his part.

Carlokin is in the string of "Billy" Durfee, one of the best trainers and drivers in the country, who at present has charge of twenty-three head. In his list are the pacer Copo de Oro (2:0[illegible]) the trotters Del Coronado (2:09¼,) Zomalto (2:09¼,) Directum Peun, with a trial of 2:08¼, the pacer Boton de Oro (2:11¼,) and the trotter Goldennut (2:11¼.)

ANOTHER BIG STRING.

Walter Maben, another famous trainer, has twenty-five in his string and the best of these is probably the pacing stallion Walter Barker with a record of 2:09. He is by Heir at Law, the sire of Minor Heir, which won so many good races on the Grand Circuit last year. Other cracks are Romeo (2:10½,) Ida Millerton (2:10,) Rapidan Dillon (2:10¼,) a gray pacing stallion with a trial of 2:09; Queer Knight with a trial in 2:09¼, three Bon Voyage colts and three equally good ones by Walter Barker.

Ted Hayes has five in his stable, the best one being Velox, with a record of 2:04¼ and recently sold for $5000. Other cracks are Will Clark's Bon Voyage (2:12¾,) Richie Baron (2:09,) the two-year-old Viaticum and Alsandra (2:12.)

Twelve are in the stalls of Fred Ward and the best ones are the pacer Joe McGregor (2:08,) Miglad (2:08¼,) Siegfried, the 2:09½ pacer; Explosion (2:10,) Emily W, a 2:11½ trotter, and Escabardo (2:15.) Joe McGregor and Escabardo are from Salt Lake.

G. M. Vail has three; William Morgan, six; J. H. Vance, five; W. C. McCully, three; N. I. McKaughan, eight; D. G. Stewart, Chris Edwards and J. W. Edwards, three and Mrs. C. S. Hastings, four. Among these are Judge Dillon, Princess Louise and McGregor Patrol. A. E. Heller has three and his two stars are Zoe and the 2:12 pacer, Hal McKinney. This bird has stepped a half mile in 1:02¼ and he is being saved to go against the 2:05½ world's pacing record for a three-year-old made by Klatawah in 1898.

Eight racers are in charge of C. T. Hewitt and his best are Don Z, with a mark of 2:11¼ as a trotter and Inferlatto, with a pacing record of 2:04¼. I. C. Mosher has three and G. A. Pounder also has three, his pride being a full sister to Sonoma Girl. Seven are in Henry Delaney's stalls, the best one being the trotter, Thomas M, with a trial of 2:07. Jim Stewart has nine; O. O. Jonas, four, and Joe Williams, six, the latter string including Limenero, Diracho and a yearling by Audubon Boy (1:59¾.)

These are the principal horses of class stabled and trained at the park and there is a large number not so much in the public eye, which can step fast miles. The majority of these horses belong to members of the Los Angeles Driving Club.

WISE TALKS
By the "Office Boy"

"I just love cake," said Johnnie, feelingly. "It's awful nice." "You should not say 'love cake,' corrected his mother. "You should say 'like.' And do not say 'awful, say 'very.' And say 'good' instead of 'nice.' Now see if you can repeat the sentence correctly." "I like cake very much," repeated Johnnie, "It's very good." "That's better." "I know, Ma," complained Johnnie, "it sounds just as if I was talkin' 'bout bread."

When I get to talking about Silverwood hats, shirts, neckwear, suits and things I am liable to get a little word in here and there that does not sound quite to some of you folks who have put in more time at school than I was allotted, but the Silverwood goods are different from the ordinary goods. The difference is full of common sense, not common advertisements, and it's about them. Our goods are not advertisements. You'll like our goods when you see our advertisements. In fact we think you'll like them more than our advertisements because we have them made well and watch every thread to the tail. You see every piece of merchandise made for us bears the Old Man's name on it, and if you know him and know how conscientious he is, you'd never think of buying an article with any other name on it. The name "Silverwood" means the best in style and honest wear. It also means you are requested to return any article and get all you paid for it in real money or a new article if it fails to give its full value in honest wear. We think the Old Man would tell you twice what you paid for it rather than have you dissatisfied.

RESISTLESS.

CAN'T BREAK LOVE'S HOLD.

Pastor Starts for Orient, Falters, Returns.

Now "Girl I Left Behind Me" Goes Along.

Romance and Wedding and no More Tears.

A romantic marriage which was solemnized in Monrovia last evening furnished the richest sensation that the foothill region has known for many a long day. Rev. Clark H. Marsh was united to Miss Florence Best at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rader.

The wedding might have been the denouement in a drama entitled "The Triumph of Love," for the popular pastor of the First Christian Church was to have sailed on the 14th inst., from San Francisco for a three-years' tour around the world.

Good-bys had been said, and the members of the church and the many friends of Rev. Mr. Marsh had bidden him Godspeed with tears in their eye, for they did not think to see his face again until he had accomplished the remarkable trip mapped out, which was to include a career as teacher in the Orient, commercial traveler in the Holy Land, and theological student at the University of Leipsic.

But the love of a splendid girl was tugging at his heart strings. The fair face and dark eyes of the "Girl I left behind me" came between him and his vaulting ambition. It was a war between love and wanderlust, and love won.

TURNS GIRLWARD.

When the minister stood on the wharf at the Golden Gate and looked at the decks of the China, which was to carry him away from the woman that he loved, his unwilling feet would not take him aboard. The China sailed away into the sunset, but the Rev. Mr. Marsh was not among the passengers.

"Many waters cannot quench love, neither can floods drown it," was the scripture that was quickened to his memory, sounding in his ears like a refrain, but he decided that he would feel safer about those floods and those waters if he could carry along that dear captain of his soul.

Yesterday afternoon, to the astonishment of his friends, who could not know at first whether they beheld him in the flesh or not, he returned to Monrovia, and arrangements were hurriedly completed for a wedding.

The beautiful dark-eyed girl who had promised to wait until his three years of wandering were over, consented to become his bride last evening without even the formality of making a wedding gown.

EVERYONE INTERESTED.

The romantic interest in the affair appealed to every man, woman and child, and the wedding was one of the most beautiful ever seen in spite of its hurried preparations.

It was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rader, the Rev. J. J. White of San Francisco officiating. The bride's brother, M. H. Best, gave her away. Mrs. H. C. Rader acted as matron of honor, and Mr. Rader was best man. The bride was attired in white net over white silk. The ceremony was performed under a boat of pink and white carnations, typical of the voyage with which the wedding journey of three years would begin.

Mrs. Marsh will accompany her husband on the trip originally planned. She possesses considerable means of her own and comes of a fine West Virginia family, now living in Southern California. Mr. Marsh has been the pastor of the First Christian Church in Monrovia for several years, and has built it up to a large membership.

The newly-wedded couple left last evening for San Francisco, and will sail on Saturday to explore together the wonder lands of "that new world which is the old."

DIES, FALLS DOWN STAIRS.

Woman Starts to Call a Physician, Drop Is Heard, and Her Lifeless Body Found.

Mrs. Elizabeth White, No. 921½ West Fifth street, fell down a flight of stairs last night, and was dead when found a few seconds later, by those who heard the drop. According to a physician who examined the body, she was not killed by the fall, but died of heart failure or apoplexy before.

The body was discovered by Mrs. E. M. Coleman, the landlady of the apartments. Mrs. White lived alone on the top floor, and had been busy all day caring for Mrs. J. A. Lemboeck, the occupant of the next apartment, who has been ill.

About 6:30 o'clock she started for a neighbor's to telephone for a physician. A moment after she left the room a heavy fall was heard, and her body was found huddled at the foot of the flight of stairs leading from the third to the second floor.

According to Mrs. Coleman, the deceased has no relatives nearer than some village in Eastern Canada.

When the undertaker arrived to remove the body, a protest was made by women living in the apartments, on the ground that Mrs. White might still be alive. He conferred with the Coroner, who issued an order that the body be allowed to remain at the apartment all night.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh,

INVITES JAPANESE.

Chamber of Commerce Resolution for Invitation of Oriental Delegation of Merchants.

At the Chamber of Commerce directorate meeting, yesterday, a joint resolution of all the commercial organizations of the Coast was adopted. It provides that an urgent invitation be sent to the Japanese business associations to send a delegation to this country in the fall. It is planned to entertain the visitors in all the principal cities on the Coast, and incidentally to foster commercial relations between the two countries.

President Stewart was authorized to appoint delegates to the National Tariff Commission meeting, which convenes at Indianapolis, Ind., February 16.

The following were admitted to membership: St. Elmo Cigar Company, Mrs. Lillie T. Webb, W. S. Cross, Morris & Co., Barrel & Co., McDonald's College of Beauty, J. E. Franklin, W. W. Richardson, E. A. Featherstone Company, V. V. Messer and Sunset Paint Company.

NIFTY!

BLOOD FLOWS FOR CHARITY.

Gentle Dames Applaud Bouts in Prize Ring.

Society and Church Women Are Enthusiastic.

Boxing Match for Sufferers by Earthquake.

Fifty women, some of whom are well known in local society and in church circles, braved the rain and mud last night and mingled with 500 sports and clubmen at the pugilistic fun-fest for the benefit of the Sicily earthquake sufferers, which was held at Jeffries' Vernon pavilion last night.

The opportunity to help a worthy cause and at the same time get a glimpse of real prize fighters in action was probably the cause of the large feminine turn-out, and the women seemed to enjoy the greater part of the programme. The net receipts of the benefit amount to $4050.

Streams of water found their way through large cracks in the roof, and the floor was covered with pools, but the women were so interested in the bouts that they did not seem to notice the disagreeable surroundings. The battle royal among five husky negroes was the big feature in the opinion of the women, and their laughter was heard above the shouting of the men. The terrific blows that laid low the dusky contestants one by one were not appreciated by the fair spectators, who were looking only at the funny side.

Although many of the men drifted out before the end of the show was over, the women stayed the limit. Blood was drawn two or three times as the contestants waxed hot, but the sight of the claret did not seem to bother the members of the softer sex.

FIRST BLOOD.

The only real fight on the programme came early in the exhibition. Jimmy Jones, said to be a stable boy at Arcadia, tried to "slip one over" on Young McGovern, and the old-timer came back strong and gave his opponent a beating. Jones was bleeding from the nose before the end of the first round, and although McGovern continued to jab him hard, he kept "coming back," and at the end of the three-round bout was still absorbing punishment that he could have easily avoided by not trying to outfight his cleverer opponent.

Charlie McHugh, who promoted the benefit and refereed the bouts, received almost as much punishment as the fighters. The men frequently jabbed him as he endeavored to "break" them, and at the end of each "go" both boxers usually turned on McHugh and battered him out of the ring. Packy McFarland unintentionally gave him a hard blow in the solar plexus that threatened for a moment to end the show on the spot.

Packy McFarland boxed three fast rounds with Maurice Sayers, and Freddie Welsh was put on with Clarence English. Welsh gave a clever exhibition of boxing. The prominent lightweights were given an ovation when they entered the ring, and their exhibition of boxing was roundly cheered.

Eddie Robinson and Billing Manning, old-time fighters, both of whom are said to be more than 50 years of age—and they looked it—boxed three rounds. The men began to fight so fiercely at the beginning of the bout that the first round was cut in half to avoid imminent slaughter.

The men are very active for their advanced years and are clever boxers. In the third round, Robinson scored a fake knock-down and then permitted Manning to return the compliment. Of course, McHugh received a pummeling before the fighters left the ring.

HARD FIGHTING.

Fred Corbett and Dick Givens fought hard during part of their bout, and Corbett acted as Given's trainer in the interval between the first and second rounds, but he showed that his courteous act was insincere when, at the beginning of the third round, he blew a mouthful of water into Given's face as they came to the center of the ring and then gave him a gentle jolt when his eyes were shut.

Charley Aislinger and Johnny O'Keefe opened the show by boxing three hard rounds. Abdo the Turk and Charles Dalton gave a clever exhibition of vicious burlesque fighting, the men frequently slipping to the floor as a result of their terrific, but fortunately misdirected, lunges and swings. Abdo's seconds threw a handkerchief into the ring as a symbol of defeat just before the final gong rang.

Walter Campbell, 44 years of age, was introduced as an exponent of the old school of fighting and the rounds were shortened to permit him to stay the limit with George Blake.

Packy McFarland and Maurice Sayers indulged in some strong "in-fighting" on several occasions that smacked of the real article and caused the true sports to howl with glee. Welsh and English also frequently broke loose.

IN CRITICAL CONDITION.

General Manager of an Oil Company Injured While Getting Off a Car.

E. E. Henderson, a wealthy oil dealer of Santa Maria, is at the Good Samaritan Hospital in a critical condition as the result of injuries sustained Saturday night.

Mr. Henderson, who is general manager of the Palmer & Henderson Oil Company, came to Los Angeles Saturday, intending to spend several days. While getting off a car at Fifteenth and Figueroa streets he was thrown violently to the gutter. He was removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where for a time his life was despaired of. Yesterday his condition was slightly improved.

WEDDED FAR FROM HOME.

Edward E. Brown, a fruit commission merchant of Grand Island, Neb., was married to Miss Kathleen Erskino of St. Paul, Neb., at the Hotel Alexandria last night, by the Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker. The bride has been staying in Southern California for some months, in company with friends, Mrs. E. M. Chadwick and her daughter, Miss F. Winnefred Chadwick of Kearney, Neb. The bride wore a handsome ivory satin gown, trimmed with real thread lace, and carried a shower of lilies of the valley and orchids. She was attended by Miss Chadwick, as maid of honor. The best man was W. E. Schourup of Grand Island, Neb.

Pathetic Legacy.

One of the two photographs of Miss Susie Bowen, for possession of which her mother, sweetheart and aunt are engaged in controversy.

WHO SHALL HAVE THEM?

Mother, Lover and Aunt Want Dead Girl's Pictures, and There Are but Two.

When Miss Susie Bowen, 20 years of age, died in the California Hospital a week ago she left a trifling legacy that has now led to a strange controversy between the man she loved and her mother. There are but two pictures of the girl in existence. The mother, Mrs. Robert Bowen, of Tempe, Ariz., wants one of these, her aunt, Mrs. Lena Roth, of No. 2842 South Grand avenue, with whom Miss Bowen lived for five years, claims one and naturally her former sweetheart, Samuel Demkick, wants one.

Miss Bowen knew nothing of the coming trouble when she died. Her thoughts were with her sweetheart, who is employed in Ocean Park, and she frequently talked with her mother about him. The two pictures never entered the thoughts of either until after heart disease had taken the girl from them.

Then the fact that only two portraits of her could be found came to the fore. Her mother, who had come here from her home in Tempe, Ariz., took one, as of right. Mrs. Roth asked for the other, and found that Demkick had it.

An appeal was made to him, but he refused to give it up. None of the three wishes a reproduction for sentimental reasons. So the matter stands at present. Some one will have to yield—the girl's own mother, her aunt, who was like a mother to her, or the man she loved best in all the world.

Miss Bowen was but slightly over 20 years old. She was born near the famous Silver King Mine, Arizona, while her father was superintendent. She came to Los Angeles five years ago to study music and was a member of St. Vincent's Catholic Church choir. Here she met Demkick and fell in love with him, and here she became ill and died. The funeral was held at her church on Friday, and the body was interred at Calvary Cemetery. She leaves a father, mother, two brothers, and a younger sister, all living at Tempe.

PROOF OF THE PUDDING.

Educational Committee of Young Woman's Christian Association Will Exhibit Class Work.

The largest public demonstration and educational exhibition ever made by the Young Women's Christian Association, will be held next week. The entire seven days will be marked by features which will show the people what is being accomplish by the 1700 young women entered in the various classes this year.

This humming university of women includes classes in Bible study, domestic arts, physical training, cookery, English, elementary branches, arts and artistic crafts, commercial branches, parliamentary law, expression, languages and music. The Educational Committee, headed by Mrs. E. J. Marshall, has this big educational exhibit in charge. The members of the committee include: Mmes. James G. Warren, D. E. Luther, W. S. Bartlett, J. C. McCoy, D. M. Welsh, George Wadleigh, William Horace Day, Lee Phillips, and Misses Frances Clarke and Rose Smith, and Dr. Rose T. Bullard.

The programme for the week is as follows:

Monday, 3 p.m.—Recital by pupils of the expression classes. Music by Guitar and Mandolin Club.

Tuesday, 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.—Demonstration lecture in the school of cookery, "A Dinner for Six."

Friday, 8 p.m.—Programme by Choral Club and orchestras.

Sunday, 4 p.m.—Special service in the interest of the Bible department. Address by Prof. Lorin A. Handley, instructor in Bible, Occidental College.

APPRECIATES QUICK SERVICE.

Because of prompt response to a burglar alarm sent in from the Hellman residence at No. 958 South Hill street late Tuesday night the police received a check for $25 from Irving H. Hellman yesterday. It was sent by mail, with a note saying: "Herewith inclosed you will find $25 for the Police Department Relief Association, this being a donation given as an appreciation of the quick service rendered by the police department on the evening of January 19. You deserve a great deal of credit, for hardly had the message been sent to the Police Station before four officers arrived at our residence." Two men attempted to burglarize the Hellman residence, but were frustrated by the quick wit of Miss Amy Hellman, who seized a dinner bell and rang it while her brother went after his gun. The thieves became frightened and escaped in an automobile.

POLITICAL CUDGEL.

VOTE TO TRY THE RECALL.

Municipal Leaguers Join in Earl-Gibbon Game.

Harper Says He Welcomes an Appeal to People.

By a majority vote of those present, the Municipal Leaguers decided yesterday afternoon to circulate petitions for the recall of Mayor Harper, who has refused to take orders from them in making appointments. It was asserted that it would be easy to secure 10,000 signatures, more than enough to invoke a special election. Several citizens desired Chairman J. O. Koepfli to name the probable candidate who will be pitted against the Mayor, but he stated that it was not the intention of the league to bring forward any candidate, but to do all in its power to defeat the incumbent. It is said that J. A. Anderson or A. J. Wallace is likely to be selected to make the run.

Mr. Koepfli read a statement of the purposes of the league and said that an occasion had arisen when it became the duty of its members to bring about the recall of the executive head of the municipality, because of his unfaithfulness to the people.

SPEECHES.

Speeches in favor of the recall were made by A. M. Stephens, O. T. Johnson and Henry T. Lee, but Frank G. Tyrrell cautioned the members against hasty proceedings. He said that the principal complaint against the Mayor seemed to be his appointment of Edward Kern on the Board of Public Works. He said he had been informed that the appointment had been approved by Gen. Chaffee, Engineer William Mulholland and Attorney W. B. Mathews, and that it might be well to make more of an investigation before committing the league to an action that might injure the name of the city.

T. E. Gibbon contradicted the statement of this speaker and asserted that Kern had never been indorsed by any reputable citizen.

John D. Works read from a copy of a letter he had once written to the Mayor, urging him to give the city a business administration and warning him against political appointments. He declared that his advice had been disregarded and that it was time to recall Harper. [Of course. Huh!]

Former Judge McNutt asserted that it was unsafe for girls upon the streets and that many were being lured into infamous places. This is due, he claimed, to the laxity of the Mayor.

On a motion of Mr. Johnson, calling upon the league to work for the recall, a majority voted in the affirmative.

The chairman stated that inasmuch as nearly 240 votes had been registered in favor of recall, the other 350 members of the league would be counted in favor of the motion, without canvassing their opinions.

OPPOSITION.

John G. Byrne asked to have his vote recorded in the negative. He said he had heard nothing that connected the Mayor in any way with alleged abuses, and that it seemed unfair to attempt to remove a city official without some sort of a public hearing.

W. H. Workman stated that he was opposed to the contemplated action of the league. United States Dist.-Atty. Oscar Lawler said that the proceeding appeared against American principles as it gave the accused no opportunity to defend himself. He advocated that committees from the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and Municipal League be appointed to make a thorough investigation before attempting the recall.

John Kahn declared that the whole thing appeared one-sided to him and he desired to vote in opposition.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT.
PACKED MEETING.

Mayor Harper last evening issued the following statement:

Today's meeting at Symphony Hall was packed. Entrance thereto could only be had by presentation of a special invitation, in the first instance, and then by passing the careful scrutiny of several doorkeepers, for fear some of the "common people" might by accident get in. The invitations thereto were issued by my personal and political enemies. Its action is the result of the activities of E. T. Earl, the proprietor of the Express, his employés, T. E. Gibbon of the Herald, and some other persons who unsuccessfully attempted to dictate to me the making of certain appointments. Following such attempted dictation the city administration was falsely charged by the Express with "protecting vice," and said paper also published other libelous matter concerning me. In consequence said charge has recently been "thoroughly investigated by the grand jury, whose report, according to public rumor, is in preparation; and it would seem that ordinary decency would suggest that the grand jury's action be first waited upon.

But the Evening Express and Mr. Earl have been sued for libel in connection with said charges, and it must be obvious to any one that a desperate attempt is being made—first—to unduly and improperly influence this grand jury's action, and—secondly—to excite public opinion, if possible, to such an extent as to affect, adversely to me, the result of the libel cases.

So far as a recall is concerned I shall in due season submit my case to the electors of this city, and will then confidently await their sober judgment in the premises. Their verdict will decide whether a coterie of self-appointed, disgruntled, and disappointed self-seekers are to control the Mayor of this city, and hold him as a "chattel," or whether the duly elected representative of the whole people is to discharge his charter duties as in his judgment seems best. As far as I am informed one of the issues to be made in the threatened recall election campaign is my appointment of Edward Kern as member of the Board of Public Works. Mr. Kern has been repeatedly elected to public office in this city, and has been in public life for many years, in most trying positions, and has "made good," to the satisfaction of the electors. He had the indorsement of some of the highest class of our citizenship, and I am sure he will make a valuable, fear-

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor asked the repeal of one section of the inspector of licenses ordinance which he signed Monday, and which went into effect only yesterday, in order to prevent police conflict.

George A. Smith pleaded guilty yesterday to burglarizing the Burbank State Bank and was given twelve years at San Quentin by Judge Willis. His partner, D. W. Moore, Jr., was sent to the Reformatory at Ione until he is of age.

The marriage of A. P. Rheinschild was annulled on the ground that Mrs. Rheinschild had already been married and not divorced.

Judge Bordwell gave a verdict in favor of James F. and Nannie Wood, who invested in a concern proposing to make sugar out of charcoal and water.

Judge Rives refused to probate a will where all the heirs are satisfied with its provisions, finding the testator was of unsound mind.

Suit was brought by Melissa Markham, widow of Charles A. Markham, who was murdered by his brother, Fred Markham, for recovery of the insurance on his life.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NO AUTHORITY FOR INSPECTOR.

STEP TO STRIP A PROPOSED POLICE OFFICIAL.

Provision of Ordinance Making Appointment of Craig for License Supervision Possible to Be Repealed Because of Fear of Conflict With the Chief—Opposition.

After over a week of conference, the ordinance creating the office of Police Inspector of Licenses, is a law. The Mayor signed it Monday, and it was officially published yesterday. The Police Commission will appoint James A. Craig at its next meeting.

As originally passed the ordinance contained this provision: "The Police License Inspector shall assist and supervise the regular police officers of the city in the performance of the duties imposed upon them by the provision of section 11 of ordinance 14,-00."

When this provision greeted the Police Commission and the new Chief, they could only see in it a subtle means of giving Craig, who was a candidate against Broadhead for Chief, an opportunity to vie with him in "boning" the force. Besides, the provision alluded to is one which makes it the duty of each policeman to inspect his beat for license purposes every month and to make a report to the City Clerk. The Police Commission and the police are against this provision of the license ordinance, and as a result no policeman has ever inspected his beat and thousands of dollars have been lost to the City Treasury. The license ordinance makes failure to inspect and report cause for dismissal from the force, but the commission stands between the men and their punishment on this score. In other cities the police enforce license ordinances. Here the complaint is made that there are too few patrolmen to burden them with such work.

It was because of this loss to the city that the ordinance was passed. The City Auditor wanted the police to perform their legal duty. But the Police Commission, it is understood, would not make an appointment until the Council agreed to repeal the section that was deemed a source of conflict between the inspector and the Chief, and with this end in view the Mayor sent a communication to the Council yesterday asking the repeal.

It is understood that Craig will "enforce" the license ordinance—somehow. He will visit office buildings and the regular police will look after all ground floors. But if the section is repealed that gives him some real power there is much guessing among Councilmen as to what he will be able to do. If there is too much work in the license business for 200 policemen they do not see how one inspector can possibly cover the ground without some real authority. Councilman Dromgold is still hostile to the inspectorship scheme and may attempt the repeal of the whole ordinance but the probability of his success is not great.

And before Craig is finally put into office another momentous question must be determined. Shall he, as Police Inspector of Licenses, whatever that is, wear a uniform? If so, what kind?

"Yellow," says Commissioner Woodill.

"Green," says Commissioner Tufts.

"Blue," says Commissioner Lewis.

The Mayor says he cannot make up his mind as to the color. Craig, who hasn't been consulted officially, declares he will not wear any uniform.

START IMPROVEMENTS.

ADAMS AND HOBART BOULEVARD

Adams street, from Vermont avenue to the eastern city boundaries, is to be improved with asphalt, and at the same time Hobart boulevard, between Adams street and Twenty-seventh street, is to be improved with the same material. This is the recommendation of City Engineer Hamlin, and was approved by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

The petitions for Hobart boulevards asked for macadam paving, but as this street is to be used for the drainage of Adams street, the engineer recommended that macadam be used only in the middle of the roadway to a width of thirty feet, leaving a wide gutter of brick and asphalt. The ordinance of intention to pave Adams street will be sent to the Council next week.

The engineer reports that the protest against paving Pico street between Main and Central avenue contains signatures of only 3896 feet out of 8663 feet of property frontage, and is insufficient.

Recovering City Lands.

Councilman Dromgold and the City Attorney spent two hours yesterday looking into the alleged appropriation of city land by Cal Forrester and others, and the result may be a number of suits to oust squatters. The land Forrester's tract included is found to have been particularly dedicated many years ago for park purposes, and any trespasser may be ejected. This will not only affect Forrester, but several others.

The Egineer's office has completed its map of the riverbed lands owned by the city, a large part of which has been claimed under quit-claim deeds by adverse interests, and it will be filed with the Assessor soon. Following that, those occupying alleged city lands will be ousted, through the courts, if not otherwise.

Road to San Pedro.

The city engineer has investigated the request of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce for a highway in the shoe string strip alongside Wilmington, and he recommends that he be authorized to prepare plans and secure rights of way. The Chamber of Commerce promises to obtain the rights needed. The new road will run from Weston avenue to Pacific avenue, along the west line of Wilmington, parallel with the Los Angeles interurban line, and the city engineer urges, for the convenience of transportation to San Pedro, that a roadway twenty feet wide be constructed as soon as possible. The Board of Public Works directed him to proceed. The road will be about three miles long.

Aqueduct Inspection.

Mayor Harper, Gen. Chaffee and Mr. Kern, of the Board of Public Works, Chief Engineer Mulholland and others will leave Saturday night for a five days' trip over the Los Angeles aqueduct work.

Against Homing Pigeons.

"Are homing pigeons as dirty as any other kind?" asked Commissioner Newell, at a meeting of the health board yesterday. The health officer said they are, and Mr. Newell proposed that the ordinance regulating pigeons, which now exempts homers, be amended so that they may not be kept within fifty feet of a residence. The board will ask the Council to make the change. The board cited the officers of the Children's Home Society of California to appear and show cause why the society's permit for the Victoria home on Griffith avenue should not be revoked. The home has refused to furnish the health board a list of adoptions from its home as required by the ordinance.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

HIS PLEA FOR MERCY IS LATE.

BANK ROBBER GIVEN TWELVE YEARS IN PRISON.

Prisoner Asks Judge to Be Light as Possible, for Sake of His Dead Mother—Says His Boy Confederate not Really Responsible, but Latter Gets Four Years in Reform School.

George A. Smith, the self-confessed burglar, who robbed the State Bank at Burbank, on the night of the 12th inst., was sentenced to Folsom for twelve years yesterday, by Judge Willis. After judgment had been pronounced Smith asked the court if he would send him to San Quentin instead, and the change was made. It developed later that Smith had served a term of ten years at San Quentin, less his good time, from Sonoma county, and as no doubt desirous of returning to his former "home." He was taken north by Deputy Sheriff Crowley, last night.

When arraigned, Smith said he had no attorney, neither did he want any. He was ready to plead guilty immediately. Asked what he had to say why the sentence of the court should not be passed upon him, the prisoner made a grandiloquent little address, evidently learned by rote, in which he said:

"I am not a criminal by birth or instinct, but by the force of circumstances. I would not wilfully injure one of my fellowmen, and I hope the court will show me mercy and compassion in my hour of trouble. I am an orphan, and have not for years had the benefit of the good advice of a mother. When she died about four years ago, I was called to her bedside, and she asked me to pray that I might be able to avoid the snares and pitfalls of life.

"As to the boy Moore, charged with me in the commission of the crime at Burbank, I take all of the responsibility for the matter. He is straightforward and honest, only 17 years of age, and has never before committed a crime. I hope you will all forgive me. I will work hard when released from prison to pay every cent I owe in the bank, my crime. In the name of my dead mother, and in the name of God, I hope, your honor, you will be as light as possible in the infliction of the penalty."

Judge Willis remarked that the prisoner was a little late in his protestations of good intentions. He should have thought of his admonition some time ago. He then passed sentence.

D. W. Moore, Jr., the partner of Smith in the Burbank job, was sent to the Reformatory at Ione, until he had reached legal age, or for the period of four years. Moore had no attorney, neither did he want any. He said his home was in Omaha, Neb., and that he had come as far west as San Francisco several months ago in search of work. It is said the boy was employed as a news "butcher" on the overland trains. Moore said he had been in this vicinity but a short time when he met Smith and took part in the Burbank robbery.

W. H. Dean, secretary of the Mt. Whitney Mining Company of San Francisco charged with embezzling $100, was admitted to bail in $1500, to answer the charge at the April term of court.

SERIOUS CHARGE.

MANY BOYS INVOLVED.

Before Justice Summerfield yesterday, Henry Lloyd, Hubert Lloyd, J. W. Parsons and William Robertson, all Long Beach boys under age, were arraigned on the charge of mistreating Cordelia Brower, a thirteen-year-old girl of that place. All gave bond in $2500 each to answer, with the exception of Robertson, who went to jail.

It is claimed there will be other arrests made in connection with this case. The Brower girl is now in the Juvenile Detention Home, where she is being cared for. Her case came under the observation of the Long Beach police department.

WANTS INSURANCE.

MARKHAM MURDER RECALLED.

An echo of the killing of Charles A. Markham at San Fernando September 20, 1908, by his brother, Fred Markham, was heard in the Superior Court yesterday when M. Melissa Markham, widow of Charles A. Markham, filed a complaint against the Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation, Limited, of London, Eng., asking a judgment for $1500, the amount of the policy held by the deceased insuring him against loss of life from accident or bodily injury.

The policy was taken out January 11, 1908, about eight months previous to the murder. It is a feature of the complaint that Mrs. Markham declares her husband came to his death from a gunshot wound given "by some person unknown." Fred Markham was found guilty of the crime, and sentenced by Judge Wilbur to ten years at Folsom. He is still in jail pending a decision on the question of an appeal.

PROBATE REFUSED.

HEIRS WERE SATISFIED.

A case of considerable public importance was decided by Judge Rives yesterday. On December 23 last, Stefano Cuneo of this city, died, leaving property valued at $18,000. The larger part of his estate consists of about 200 acres of land in the vicinity of Newhall. Eight children survived, and by the terms of the will, made November 12, 1890, there was to be an equal division of the property.

All of the heirs were satisfied with the arrangement, but during the course of the hearing of the application of John Cuneo, a son, for probate of the will, the fact became known that the elder Cuneo was not of sound mind and disposing memory, in the opinion of some of the witnesses.

John DeCamp, who said he had known Cuneo intimately since 1876, testified that he did not think he had been sane at any time since that date. The court appointed John Cuneo administrator of the estate and the probate of the will was denied.

ONE GLASS TOO MUCH.

NOW SUES HIS JAILOR.

George A. Mills filed a complaint in the Superior Court yesterday, against John W. McCauley, jailer of the City Bastile, and a member of the Los Angeles police department, asking $5000 damages, for defendant's refusal to communicate to the plaintiff's friends when he was in jail.

Mills says that on June 29, 1908, being a sickly man, he ventured from his home, No. 252 North Flower street, for the purpose of securing medicine. He suddenly became ill and faint, and almost unconscious, after taking a single glass of sherry. He asserts he was arrested, taken to the City Jail and locked up on a charge of drunkenness.

He wanted to send word to his sister, but defendant would not do so or allow him to, and he was taken before the police justice, where he pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was fined $5 and five days; that he was sent to the chain gang, where defendant again refused to send for his sister, who was able to pay his fine, with the result that he became quite sick and enfeebled.

PLAINTIFF WINS.

DEAL BITTER SUGAR.

Judge Bordwell yesterday found in favor of the plaintiffs in the case brought by James F. and Mamie Wood against Franklin H. Johnston and James E. Bryce. The plaintiffs, in August, 1907, purchased 1000 shares of stock in the National Sugar Company, a concern it was alleged that held a secret of manufacturing sugar from charcoal and water, for which they gave their joint note for $750, secured by a mortgage on their property.

They resisted payment of the note, alleging they had been imposed on by representations made by the defendants, and the court sided with their contention. It was testified that Wood paid a visit to the plant of the sugar company, where he saw charcoal and water placed in a mysterious machine, and near by a steady stream of sugar was running out. This looked good to him, and he invested his money.

TOO MUCH WEDDED.

WIFE IS ALSO A CONVICT.

Judge James yesterday anulled the marriage of A. P. Rheinschild and Dorothy Rheinschild, married in San Diego September 6, 1907, Percy J. McCabe of Dale, Cal., testified that he had married Mrs. Rheinschild under the name of Adelina Dorothy Edelman, in that place, in 1902, and they had never been divorced, although he had not lived with her for some time previous to her marriage to Rheinschild.

Mrs. Rheinschild was sent to San Quentin about a year ago for seven years on the charge of writing a false check in this city.

Rheinschild testified that he did not know anything about the former marriage of his wife until he found the certificate in her trunk, and McCabe identified the instrument.

MOVES STOVES.

TAKES A CARLOAD.

A complaint charging A. S. Newby with grand larceny has been issued by the District Attorney's office. It is alleged that about a year ago Newby, with C. L. Metsler and J. D. Pitts, organized the Perfection Light and Stove Company, doing business at No. 344 West Tenth street, and Newby was chosen president of the corporation. He went on the road in the interest of the business and sold goods.

Recently he was removed as president on account of alleged irregularities. It is asserted that the firm one month ago ordered a bill of goods from Chicago, amounting to $170, and $85 was sent with the order; that the bill of lading was sent to the Merchants' National Bank of this city; that Newby went to the bank and by misrepresentations secured the shipping receipt, enabling him to get the goods at the railway depot, and he disappeared with the merchandise.

In the complaint he is charged with the larceny of the goods, valued at $170. Newby is supposed to be in Fresno.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

GRAND JURY REPORT. The grand jury committee held a meeting yesterday morning, but there was no session of the regular body. The whole jury will again convene next Tuesday, when it is expected the report will be given to the public.

BAD INTERPRETER. Ex-Banker W. H. Carlson was in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, to defend himself against claims of two Japanese cooks to collect wages. S. Ogitu claimed Carlson owed him $112.23, and Y. Yoshutomi demanded $162.35. The interpreter, a Japanese, had so much trouble translating the testimony, that the court postponed the case for a further hearing.

CAINE ESTATE. Judge Rives will hear the petition of C. White Mortimer, British Vice-Consul, for the distribution of the estate of John Caine, next Saturday morning. Caine, who left an estate of about $4000, died in Long Beach in September, 1907. The British representative appears for the children of Philip Caine of Durham, Eng., who, it is claimed, was a brother of the deceased.

A DOG CASE. R. M. Adams, secretary of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, filed a complaint yesterday before Justice Summerfield, charging Theodore Miller with cruelty to animals. It is claimed Miller and two other members of his family, killed a valuable dog belonging to Adams. The animal was a blooded Boston bull terrier.

HELD TO ANSWER. Frank James Fairs, a colored man, 19 years old, was held in $1500 bail by Justice Summerfield, yesterday, on the charge of burglary. Fairs, it is alleged, stole some barley sacks from the warehouse of J. M. Tanner.

CASE THROWN OUT. The Robert Mitchell Co.'s suit against the Los Angeles Realty Board, for reinstatement and damages amounting to $25,-000, brought on account of the suspension of the firm last June for failure to comply with the ruling of the board over a certain transaction, was quashed yesterday. The realty board came forward with a demurrer on the filing of the suit and the argument was heard by Judge Monroe, who sustained the realty board in its contention and threw the case out of court without leave to amend. The Mitchell side was argued by Robert Mitchell in person, who is said to be studying law since his triumph in the vote repeating case of the State vs. himself.

MINOR MATTERS. Robert Depew and Rolla Fryer, charged with cruelty to animals, were fined $25 each by Justice Summerfield, acting for Justice Selph. J. C. Dysart, who, it was charged, attempted to kill John P. Roehe, had his case set for trial for the 29th inst., meantime giving bond in $500.

JURIES DRAWN. Juries for the coming term of court were drawn in Departments one and five, yesterday. Service is returnable in No. 1, on February 4; in No. 5, on February 2.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday by the Western Cement Brick Company, capital stock $250,000; Wholesale Produce Dealers' Association, no capital stock; Pratt Eucalyptus Investment Company, capital stock $250,000; California Development Company, capital stock $250,000; Foothills Orchards Company, capital stock $100,000; San Francisco Foothills Association, capital stock $10,000. A certificate for the amendment of articles of incorporation was filed by the California Grape Land Company.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

UNWRITTEN LAW IS NOT CITED.

SLAYER OF MESSENGER BOY IS HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

Boy Who Shot to Avenge Wayward Sister Takes Little Interest, Apparently, in His Examination. Witness Tells of Trip by Boys and Girls to Lonely Schoolhouse.

Following his preliminary examination before Justice Chambers in the Police Court yesterday, William Mitchell, charged with the murder of Cecil Thayer, a messenger boy, was held for trial in the Superior Court. No bail was allowed and the accused man was sent to the tanks and later transported to the County Jail.

The hearing was colorless, the defense offering no testimony of any kind and paying little or no attention to the alleged unwritten law, which, it is understood, they will adopt when the case comes to hearing before a jury.

George K. Coulter, who was with young Thayer at the time of the murder, was the chief witness for the prosecution at the examination. He told of Mitchell's approach on the fatal night and the shooting of the boy. Thayer's clothes were then produced in evidence and identified by Dr. Campbell. The shirt and undershirt bore the powder burns, showing that the first bullet had torn straight into the heart of the unfortunate boy.

Mitchell, for the most part, looked on in a sort of unemotional manner. He is a small man of insignificant appearance. His complexion is sallow and his features thin and sharp. He has surrounded himself with a sort of improvised halo of self-glorification and seems to take little or no interest in the recital of the murder, in which he took another man's life.

The officer who made the arrest and a few minor witnesses were examined, but Attorney Rogers spent most of the day upon George Coulter. Through this boy the attorney tried to establish the relationship between young Thayer and Ethel Mitchell. He tried to show that the boys had planned to help her escape from the Door of Hope home in which she had been placed by the courts.

Coulter admitted having been one of a party of six who, on Christmas Day, walked to a schoolhouse in the country and remained there for more than two hours. There were three girls and three boys in the party, Ethel Mitchell and Cecil Thayer being present.

To all questions put by the attorney regarding any plans to aid Ethel Mitchell in her escape from the home, Coulter denied that there had ever been any such plans to his knowledge.

AT THE FEDERAL BAR.

William I. Traeger and P. B. Dougherty were admitted to the United States Circuit and District Courts, yesterday, on motion. The young attorneys passed the bar examination the previous day.

Sensational Price Schedule on Pianos Will Continue In Effect Few Days More

No better evidence of the fact that piano prices have been cut to an unheard-of point by the Wiley B. Allen Co. could be had than the dozens of buyers who are daily purchasing instruments at our temporary quarters, 428 South Broadway, and in spite of the rain, too.

When do you expect to buy the family that piano, that must be bought sooner or later, if you don't do it now? Now, when a first-class house with its first-class line, including Knabe, Mason & Hamlin, Fischer, Hardman, Ludwig, Wellington, Rembrandt, etc., is cutting prices.

Even if we had a legitimate reason for conducting another sale like this during the year, we could not afford to.

You must act now. We have received damages from the insurance companies and apportioned this amount in such a way that every piano, injured by moving or not, has been reduced—and further reduced to save moving again and paying emergency insurance rates.

Can you afford to be indifferent? Even if you have not planned heretofore to purchase for six months or so, you will surely be the loser—as we will sell all our bargain pianos, anyway, within the next few days.

Remember, pianos can be had now—good ones—as low as $151, $167, $198, etc., and among our bargains will be found Chickering, Steinway, Willard, Fairbanks, Knabe, Wheelock and others. Space will not allow us to describe them, but if you get any one of these you will be indeed fortunate.

Full exchange privilege.

Pianos guaranteed not to be injured internally by water.

Settle the piano question today.

AMALGAMATED WELL BETTER.

Latest Gusher Is Increasing Production.

Adjoining Bore Will Now Be Made Deeper.

Progress of Development on the Coast.

The Amalgamated's new well, the Pacific Petroleum No. 23, on the Wolfskill, is increasing its output. Those who saw it on Monday and Tuesday declare it was flowing harder at noon yesterday. About 700 barrels daily is estimated by some, others make it higher and others less. This is, of course, guesswork, but the output is great. The oil poured from the end of a good-sized pipe in a steady, heavy stream when the writer was at the scene and everything showed a powerful gas pressure.

Sump holes are being prepared and a sink has been erected at the railroad siding and connected with the well by pipes. Before being brought under control the oil shot up over the derrick several times on Sunday and Monday. The site is only a few hundred feet south of well No. 1. This strike has changed the aspect of affairs at the Wolfskill wells. No. 2 is deeper than No. 1 by a few hundred feet, and No. 1 is being drilled to the level of the other. First, cementing was resorted to for shutting off the water that had rendered the product a mere emulsion of water, oil and sand, then the cable tools were sent in. The string is now drilling.

No. 3, which is west of No. 1 a few hundred feet, is just ready to start a cable string today. It was bored about 2000 feet with a rotary.

These wells are about a mile and a half east of the West Coast's, which is the nearest to the Amalgamated's. There are five of these in course of drilling. The Wolfskill wells practically prove the intervening land.

Sherman Development.

Around Sherman Junction the Meier, one of the Doheny companies, has its two wells suspended, owing to losing tools, and is fishing. The Sherman Petroleum, on the edge of Sherman, was down 2195 feet on Monday and had a showing of oil, but not enough to be of value. Mrs. E. A. Summers and a Mr. Tarbell are the chief owners. The Western Consolidated near Houser station is shut down temporarily.

Santa Maria Busy.

The outlook for 1909 at Santa Maria is excellent. Cat Cañon and the oil field alike show up better. The Palmer well is flowing above 5000 barrels a day by actual measurement. The Union's pipe line is laid to the edge of the land and will soon be taken up. Palmer No. 2 is down 1700 feet, a similar formation to No. 1. Union No. 1 is distant about 800 feet. The Union's Nos. 1 and 2 on the Cook ranch are at 1900 and 1700, respectively, and have similar formation to the Palmer so far, to the south of which they are situated. The Associated is down 1700 feet east of the Palmer. Dome has started its two wells there. Owners in Cat Cañon are, the Henderson, 1400; Brooks, 1250; West, 600; Sendel (Palmer,) 3100; Reed, 1000. All drilling is slow, but these should be completed early in the year and add a million or more barrels to 1909's output. If the Palmer keeps up at even a quarter of what it is doing, after others come in, the output will be more than this.

During December there was an increase in the shipments and the year's total is close to 9,000,000 barrels. There were forty wells finished during 1908. Fifteen are drilling in Cat Cañon and three east and forty in the old field. The producers number over 100.

The Lucerne is the only company at work in the north end. This is down 3000 feet and has favorable formation. Its location is a mile and a quarter west of the Hobbs No. 10, now down over 2000 feet. It is three-quarters of a mile south of where the Central Union attempted to drill last year and had gone through the surface sands, but have blocked several others. It is believed that future work here and around the Central Union will have to be done with a combination rotary and cable, the first to be used for the sand and the second to finish.

San Luis Obispo County.

The Western Pacific, near Port Harford, is still drilling and has not yet struck oil, although the company asserts it has been found. Development in this county has been slight.

Nothing New at Los Alamos.

The Buell Ranch Oil Company (Associated) is having very little luck at Los Alamos, so far there has been but a barrel of production. The Santa Rosa Development Company, now owned by the Federal, yields a small quantity of 35 gravity, but there is no transportation. While a fine refining oil it is so remote from the Standard's line—and the Associated has no use for the higher gravities—that its value is now small.

Movements of Oil Men.

A. P. St. Clair, president of the Bakersfield agency, S. W. Morehead, president of the Coalinga organization, and W. E. Welch of Fresno are in the city.

Frank E. Jones is a visitor from Bakersfield.

R. B. Guthrie has gone to New York on business.

E. E. Blochman, secretary of the Santa Maria Chamber of Commerce, is in the city.

Officers and directors of the Union met last night for Oleum to attend the annual meeting at the company's principal office.

Petroleum Odds and Ends.

R. Woolner, who is handling the location of the local producers, is sending them to call on him if possible, as it is very difficult for him to see each one.

The Standard is removing the standard erected by E. E. Jones on section 4 in Midway, and replacing it by a new one.

Notwithstanding the approach of the annual meeting and the undisputed fact that the company was never better in as good a condition as Associated continues low. It is due, however, to the inability of speculators to get any definite tip as to the time of a dividend. Some think the stock is being manipulated by those who seek to buy all before the meeting in anticipation of a dividend. Others profess to believe there will not be any payment.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

AMALGAMATED WELL BETTER.

Great Gusher Is Increasing Production.

Casing Bore Will Now Be Made Deeper.

Progress of Development on the Coast.

The Amalgamated's new well, the Union Petroleum No. 2, on the Wolfskill, is increasing its output. Those who saw it on Monday and Tuesday report that it was flowing harder at noon yesterday. About 700 barrels daily is estimated by some, others make it more and others less. Gauging is, of course, guesswork, but the output is large. The oil poured from the end of the 10-inch casing pipe in a steady, unbroken stream when the writer was at the well, and everything showed a strong gas pressure.

Derricks are being prepared and machinery has been erected at the rail-road siding and connected with the temporary pipes. Before being brought under control the oil shot up over the derrick several times on Sunday and Monday. The site is only a few hundred feet south of well No. 1.

The situation has changed the aspect of affairs at the Wolfskill wells. No. 2 is larger than No. 1 by a few hundred feet, and No. 1 is being drilled to a level of the other. The Sherman Petroleum, on the edge of Sherman, has been 2155 feet; on Monday it had a showing of oil, but not enough to be of value. Mrs. E. A. Sherman and a Mr. Tarbell are the owners. The Western Consolidated Exeter station is shut down temporarily.

Santa Maria Busy.

Permits for 1909 at Santa Maria, the oil resident, Cat Cañon and the Orcutt will show up better. The Orcutt is drawing above 5000 barrels by actual measurement. The 10-inch pipe line is laid to the north end and will soon be taken up. Union's No. 2 is down 1700 feet in similar formation to No. 1, which is distant about 800 feet. Union's Nos. 1 and 2 on the Orcutt are at 1900 and 1700, respectively, and have similar formation so far, to the south of Orcutt situated. The Associated's 1700 feet east of the Orcutt Dome has started its pump. Others in Cat Cañon are: Hanson, 1400; Brooks, 1250; Orcutt-Sundel (Palmer,) 3100; Hanson's drilling is slow, but will be completed early in the year at a million or more barrels output. If the Palmer proves even a quarter of what the others come in, the output will be more than this.

It is remembered there was an increase in the shipments and the year's output was 5,000,000 barrels. There were 1400 wells finished during 1908. There is no drilling in Cat Cañon and only forty in the old field. Orcutt number over 100.

Orcutt is the only company at the north end. This is down structure and has favorable formation. Orcutt No. 9 is a mile and a quarter south of the Hobbs No. 10, now down 2000 feet. It is three-quarters of a mile south of where the Central Union started to drill last year and abandoned through the surface sands after having passed several others. It is believed that future work here and on the Central Union will have to be done with a combination rotary and cable, the first to be used for the top sand and the second to finish.

San Luis Obispo County.

The Pacific Pacific, near Port Harford, is drilling and has not yet struck oil, although the company says it has been found. Development in this county has been slow.

Drilling Now at Los Alamos.

The Los Alamos Ranch Oil Company (Associated) is having very little luck at Los Alamos, so far there have been no barrel of production. The Associated, on behalf of the Los Alamos Oil and Development Company, now owned by the Associated, yields a small quantity of 30 gravity, but there is no production. While a fine refining oil, it is so remote from the Standard and the Associated has no use for the higher gravities—that its value is small.

Movements of Oil Men.

H. E. Jones is a visitor from Ventura.

W. Guthrie has gone to New York on business.

J. Blackman, secretary of the Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce, is in the city.

The officers and directors of the Union Oil met for Olema to attend the annual meeting at the company's principal office.

Petroleum Odds and Ends.

J. Bonner, who is handling the affairs of the local producers, is sending letters to all local men requesting it is very difficult for him to call on them personally.

The Standard is removing the standard used by E. E. Jones on section 30 to Midway, and replacing it by a derrick.

Notwithstanding the approach of the annual meeting and the undisputed fact that the company was never better in a financial condition Associated stock is very low. It is due, undoubtedly, to the inability of speculators to get any definite tip as to the amount of a dividend. Some think the stock is being manipulated by those who want to buy all before the meeting, in anticipation of a dividend. Others refuse to believe there will not be one declared.

Mid-Continent and East.

As a result of Missouri litigation it is said the Standard will abandon its line from Sugar Creek and move its pipe line across Missouri and build another through Arkansas and Louisiana to the Gulf, to move Oklahoma and Kansas oil. By this both Missouri and Texas will be avoided. The big company recently bought property at New Orleans.

Kind Hearts.

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

The power of kindness in taming and, so to speak, "humanizing" the lower animals is well illustrated in the following true story:

About two years ago Mr. B., who lives in one of the quieter, semi-suburban sections of Los Angeles, discovered a tramp cat in his back yard. It was a pitiable object, all bones and mangy skin. Its jaw had been broken by some cruel persecutor of the weak and helpless, and its tongue lolled out in a way which would have been ludicrous had it not been so pathetic. When it saw Mr. B. it scaled the picket fence near by, its eyes wild and frightened, and disappeared.

Mr. B. filled a saucer with milk, and placed it where the cat would be likely to find it. The next morning the saucer was empty. Every day a fresh saucer of milk was placed in the back yard, but the cat always hastened away when it saw its benefactor. Poor animal—in all its short life it had never met with kindness before, and it did not know what it meant.

After a time—some weeks, in fact—it did not scale the fence when B. approached, but only withdrew to the bushes. Mr. B. always spoke kindly and gently to it, and at last, reassured by the tones of his voice, it would come, though tremblingly, and drink while he stood only a few feet away. Later, Mr. B. tried to stroke it, but weeks passed before it dared to let his hand touch its back.

All this was two years ago. The cat had suffered so much through fear and malnutrition that only within the last few months has it grown fat and sleek. Even now it would not take a prize for beauty in a cat show. But it is happy and content—which, after all, is the main thing in the life of any one, man or animal.

Alexander Marsden, a 12-year-old lad of Wilkesbarre, Pa., was recently arrested on a charge of stealing. Burgess Parry, before whom the boy was brought for trial, gave him a ticket to a turkey supper in a church, told him to eat all he wanted, have a good time and report later. The boy obeyed implicitly and turned up at the appointed time, and the Burgess has placed him on probation.

An investigation by F. H. Ream, religious director of the Helping Hand Institute of Kansas City, into the case of Henry Moore, arrested on the charge of picking pockets, led to a stay of a $50 fine in the Municipal Court yesterday and his discharge after a night in the holdover. Moore was arrested at the Union Depot by a patrolman. Moore told the officer he had a job as cook in a restaurant at No. 1634 Union avenue, and was waiting in the depot for 7 o'clock when he was to go to work. Mr. Ream went to the Union-avenue restaurant, and the proprietor corroborated Moore's story. The new evidence was presented to the judge, and Moore was released.

"I cannot find the heart to punish a man guilty of taking a loaf of bread when he is suffering the pangs of hunger," said Police Judge Conlan of San Francisco a few days ago.

Famished, wet with the drenching rain and shivering in the freezing wind that swept the city, Robert Gibson, 21 years of age, a laborer and a stranger, was tempted by a loaf of bread lying on a Sixth-street doorstep at daybreak a few mornings since. Although he had never stolen in his life before, he was unable to resist the temptation, and, taking up the loaf, began to eat it greedily.

He was observed by Policemen Gallatin and McGuire, who arrested him and locked him up on a charge of petty larceny at the City Prison.

Gibson told Sergt. Coogan, in charge of the prison, a pathetic story of his wandering through the streets of the city for many days in a fruitless search for work, how he had gone without eating for nearly two days, and walked about without shelter. He said he was too proud to beg, and had always been hard-working and honest. He declared he simply could not resist the temptation of burying his teeth in the warm loaf just left on the doorstep by the baker.

Sergt. Coogan set him out a hearty meal, and he ate it ravenously. He appeared later before Police Judge Conlan, who dismissed the case.

Col. and Mrs. Charles C. Bogardus have made the University of Michigan a gift of 1500 acres of land in Cheboygan county for a permanent site for the summer camp of the engineering students of the university. This land has an estimated value of $25,000, and is situated on Douglas Lake, with a shore line of almost three miles, allowing a fine opportunity for triangulation surveys.

Matthew Aronson, a human wreck, was last week sentenced to the House of Correction at Chicago by Federal Judge K. M. Landis of Standard Oil fine notoriety. The prisoner turned away from the bench and pulled his coat up around his throat.

"Aronson," exclaimed the court sharply, "where's your overcoat?"

"Your Honor," said the prisoner, "I ain't got none. That was one of the first things I soaked when I came to Chicago."

"Bailiff," said the judge, "get mine and give it to him. Now, gentlemen," he added, "we'll proceed with the next case."

Aronson's crime had consisted of breaking into a hallway that he might sleep out of reach of the bitter cold and wind of the night.

ALL FOR SWEET CHARITY.

Al Malaikah Temple, Which Gives Thousands to Unfortunate, Will Raise Fund With Ball.

The charity ball at the Shrine Auditorium next Wednesday night promises to be one of the most brilliant social functions of the mid-winter season. Al Malaikah Temple, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, is determined upon raising a large sum of money to form the nucleus of a charity fund to be used for assisting unfortunate individuals when necessity arises.

Although the Temple maintains a large fund in its treasury for current expenses, the trustees decided it advisable to have a separate fund, not only to meet the expense of the Christmas giving of presents, but also for any emergency that may arise.

The Shrine Santa Claus, impersonated by Postmaster Flint, has proved so popular an individual that the Shriners have determined to perpetuate him as one of the standing benevolences of the order. The Temple has always had an enviable reputation for its splendid work among the poor and unfortunate, but the Christmas giving has seemed to eclipse all forms of charitable effort.

During the holiday season just passed many families were visited by representatives of the Shriners and many substantial gifts were bestowed in addition to the toys and candy for the children. In all, 500 guests were investigated and all worthy cases received aid, whether the applicants lived in this city or in some of the adjacent towns.

In a large number of cases it was found that sickness had prevented the heads of families from earning anything for their support. Many families were found where there were five or six children with no clothing, shoes or other necessities and where there were scanty supplies of bed clothing, food and fuel.

Postmaster Flint states that the total expenditure last Christmas approximated $2000. Citizens have thus far contributed $789.40, leaving more than $1200 to be raised.

The price of tickets for the charity ball has been fixed at $1 each. Every dollar received will be placed in the special charity fund. Before the dancing, L. E. Behymer and Perry W. Weidner will present an "interesting programme of music. Mr. Flint will be in charge of the ball.

SIX DEAD; EIGHT INJURED.

Miner Carries Torch Into Room in Stone Canyon Property and Fatal Explosion Follows.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Jan. 20.—Six miners were killed, and eight seriously, if not fatally injured, by an explosion in the Stone Cañon coal mine, last night. One of the miners entered room No. 27 with a lighted torch. The room was full of gas and the explosion followed.

Most of the men were Italians. Two of them leave wives and families in San Francisco.

EXPECTED HOME SATURDAY.

Gen. Robert Wankowski's mother has received a telegram from her son, who went to New York last Tuesday to meet his wife on her return from Paris, bringing the remains of her mother, Mrs. J. M. Davies, announcing the safe arrival at New York of Mrs. Wankowski. The general and his wife are expected to reach home Saturday night. Arrangements are being made for the funeral of Mrs. Davies at No. 2711 Ellendale Place about Monday.

Selling Noise.

"You know, of course," said a watch factory foreman, "how Lynn captured the African shoe trade? making shoes that squeaked loudly. The native considers the discomfort and expense of American shoes quite futile if they don't squeak, as he walks, like an ill-greased cart wheel.

"We have now hogged the African cheap watch trade by turning out a dollar watch that ticks like a boiler factory. You could hear this tick through a feather mattress. In fact, natives wearing our watches tick audibly. As they swagger along, their American shoes squeaking and their American watches ticking, they give out as much noise as a brass band."—[Exchange.

Pure Bread
Demands Pure Materials

All the bread-making science and carefulness in the world could never make pure bread without pure materials. But purity is not all. You must have the right materials to give the bread the right flavor—you must have the right recipe.

BRADFORD'S BREAD "The Secret's In The Recipe"

Is made from that famous old Pennsylvania Dutch recipe—a real home recipe which makes real, wholesome, home-made bread—as different from the ordinary baker's bread as day from night.

Here's the recipe—No. 1 Dakota hard white wheat flour—the finest bread flour that can be bought. Pure sweet milk—olive oil—and old fashioned potato and hop yeast. Add to this, all the skill and care that goes to the making of Bradford's bread—and follows it till it reaches your table—then—do you wonder it's so pure and so good?

Chemical Extract of Smoke.

"Extract of smoke," said the canner, dipping his brush into a pot of brown fluid.

"Extract of smoke?" repeated the dazed reporter.

"Smoke extract," said the canner. He took up a fresh herring, painted it with the dark mixture, and laid it on a board beside a long, long line of brother herrings. "Now, in the past," he explained, "you smoked herrings by hanging them up for days in smokehouses, wherein smoldered fires of costly aromatic woods. That process was slow and expensive; we have quite improved it out of existence. We paint our herring now with this really quite harmless chemical extract of smoke—a coal tar product—and as soon as he is dry he is ready for the market."

The reporter tasted one of the herrings. "But this isn't half as good as the smoked herring of my boyhood," he protested.

"Not as good, perhaps," agreed the canner, "but even so much more profitable."—[New York Press.

Editorial Pros and Points

We believe the fame of Congressman Willett will pass away quite as quickly as it came.

The fun is just beginning at Sacramento. The knock-down-and-drag-out stage is not far ahead.

President Roosevelt, at least, seems to have a strong influence with the California Legislature.

Councilmen-at-large simply means that they will be bunched from the districts that have the most votes.

"Let well enough alone," exclaims the New York Herald anent the tariff. But the tinkers will still keep at it.

Perhaps what anti-Japanese feeling there is in California is sufficient without framing the sentiments into laws.

No wonder New York is a big town. The outpourings of Southern Europe land there first, and then stay wedged.

Not much is heard from Mr. Taft these days, but we suppose he is enjoying himself right along somewhere at a dance.

The old maxim that a man must be regarded as innocent until he is proved guilty has let many a man out of a tight hole.

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that California will have the finest roads as well as the finest climate in the world.

In olden times the fashion in clothes did not change, sometimes, for a long period of years. Now it is a mere matter of weeks.

It has been stated that 85,000 innocent persons are arrested in New York every year. They must outnumber those who are guilty.

The silence that prevails in the quarter where Gen. Castro is located at present indicates that it was probably his voice that the surgeons cut out.

A German princess is familiarly known by the name of "Daisy." And yet she may be anything but a daisy in the American understanding of the word.

The enormous influx of European emigrants to the Atlantic seaboard of the United States is bound to have the usual effect of driving Americans farther west.

It is doubtful if even the oldest timer will have the hardihood to say that Los Angeles ever saw a finer winter for the right kind of weather than we are having now.

Flame and earthquake are still busy at Messina. Surely only those who love the spot and those who cannot get away are all who will remain amid its horrors.

From all we have read in connection with the recent centennial anniversary of his birth, we get the impression that Edgar Allan Poe lived a hard life, even for a poet.

Still, the President of the United States, with a salary of $100,000 a year, doesn't cut much figure in that respect beside the Kaiser, on an income of $10,000,000 a year.

According to a missionary, there are 9,000,000 negroes in the South who have no religious creed. Now, who ever saw a negro who wasn't either a Baptist or a Methodist?

We notice that Sven Hedin, the Swedish explorer, is returning from Thibet. We also note with pain that he still goes around short that one letter in his front name.

As far as can be learned, Col. Roosevelt is not worrying concerning the success of the Panama Canal. And when the ships sail through it the colonel has a real shout coming.

There appears to be no disposition to build the State's proposed system of highways with convict labor. It is better to build them with the labor of good citizens who need the jobs.

On every hand we hear predictions of enormous tides of emigration from Italy to the United States. The office-seeker of the future will have to reckon with Giuseppe and Giovanni.

The probabilities are that Mr. Taft will be compelled to give the difference in the pay to entertainment expenses. We believe there has been but one President who was able to save anything from his salary.

The attempt to make a Populist town out of Los Angeles will fail, one way or the other, you may be sure of that. If the attempt succeeds, the failure following will be worse than though it had not succeeded.

We are informed that the Kaiser is now living the simple life. Which is to say, we suppose, that he changes his uniform only about six times a day, as against a change every forty minutes, which was formerly the case.

Under the new salary law the Chief Justice of the United States receives only twice as much salary as a Congressman. According to the relative importance of the two, the Chief Justice isn't getting a square deal.

A farmer in one of the Eastern States asserts that he has a cat that runs errands for him. Is the gentleman aware that a certain foe of nature fakers has a few weeks still remaining in a place where things like this are likely to get to his ears?

THE "RECALL" AGAIN.

It seems that the Municipal League has decided to start recall petitions against Mayor Harper.

It is also in evidence that a number of estimable citizens have been drawn into the movement, apparently oblivious of the fact that it is a scheme engineered by the owner of the Express to offset the civil libel suits brought against him by the Mayor and the Police Commissioners, and the criminal actions probably to be prosecuted.

The Times has never been a supporter or defender of Mayor Harper; but its position with regard to the recall is well known. The Times holds it to be an unconstitutional and un-American device to aid the malicious in the gratification of grudges and to enable a disaffected minority to usurp the functions conferred upon a majority of voters by the supreme law of the land.

Twenty-five per cent. of the voters, under our freak charter provision, can undo the work of any majority and put a duly-elected officer of the city to the trouble, chagrin and expense of submitting his case to the citizens at the polls for a second time. The mere statement of the fact demonstrates the injustice of the provision. If the charter required a petition of 51 per cent. in order to institute a recall, there would be some semblance of equity in it.

The recall is a revolutionary innovation in our American methods of government. The laws of the land provide ample means of getting rid of a Mayor or other official guilty of infractions of his oath of office. Moreover, the frequency of regular elections makes recall elections entirely unnecessary, the usual reason for this form of attack upon an office-holder being a malicious desire for revenge or for political or personal advantage. The recall is an importation. It was unrecognised by the framers of our wonderfully-effective and well-nigh perfect Constitution and was given no place in our system. It is needless, worthless and subversive of majority rule and representative government. It is injurious to the orderly conduct of public affairs and tends to keep the best men out of office. What self-respecting, successful citizen wishes to be Mayor when it is possible for any disgruntled office-seeker or heeler to start the recall against him and subject him to taunts and mortification—perhaps financial ruin?

It is idle to say that only good citizens make use of the recall. It is just as available to bad citizens. The dance hall and saloon interests, if opposed or disappointed by a Mayor or Councilman, can resort to the recall quite as readily as can the Municipal League, and get signatures to their petitions just as easily. With the recall in fashion, it will be almost impossible to get a first-rate man to take the office of Mayor of Los Angeles.

As for Mayor Harper, let him fight his own battles. The Times has never indorsed his administration or policies. However, it applauds his nerve and firmness in standing out against the would-be bosses who have sought to put a ring in his nose. The prerogatives of appointment are his own; but because he would not surrender them and let a little clique make his nominations for him, the recall is sprung upon him.

The Times protested against the election of Harper. It declared over and over again that his election would mean a wide-open town in many respects. Los Angeles insisted on electing him—and a practically wide-open town in these respects has been the result. Why should he be recalled? He has stood at all times on the "liberal" platform on which he was elected. The voters have got just what they voted for. Wherein lies the sense of trying to put him out of office by the back-door route now?

Pish! By the time the recall petitions are in and verified and the election can be ordered, Mayor Harper's term will nearly have expired. Tush! There is no sincerity in the campaign of the prime movers for this needless recall election. They want to make capital out of it—and at the people's expense. They have drawn some upright men into it, but they, the leaders in the movement, are grinding axes of their own, as will duly appear.

Let us see if the voters of Los Angeles can be fooled by this ruse. Is it not written that verily the trap is baited in vain in the sight of the bird?

BY ITS FRUITS.

By the fruits of the ground the soil of a district is known. Speaking in parable, the Great Teacher said people must be judged by the fruits they bear in deeds. When we get on middle ground, half way between the soil of the earth and the deeds of men, political, ethical and other measures should be judged by their fruits. So they are judged in the end.

If the "machine" members of the California Legislature (we are assuming there are some such there) do not push the direct primary bill and all the cognate legislation that goes with it, they are poor machinists. They do not know political tares from wheat in the blade, in the milk nor in the ear. They will have to wait until the loaf is baked and learn by eating the bread.

Right under our nose in Oregon the people are eating of the fruit of this forbidden tree. We believe it is forbidden in the Constitution of the United States. The loaf is sodden, sour, disagreeable to the taste and hard to digest. This wonderful "reform" measure is sending to the United States Senate a Populistic politician, a poor specimen of the variety. True, it is keeping an organization man at home. But there is not an unbiased voter in Oregon, knowing the two men, who will not say Senator Fulton is superior mentally, morally and politically, to Gov. Chamberlain. The fruit of this nomination in Oregon is to send to the Senate a rank party man, a trained, skilled organization man, a smallish man mentally and one of no great devotion to principle. None of the "down-trodden" people got the toga by means of this great "reform." No "independent" got the toga when the people "took the reins of government in their own hands."

Jump across the continent to Wisconsin. The old "Badger" State is as "progressive" as her "Web-foot" sister. The people had full swing there in a direct primary, and they had "the chance of their life" at choosing a United States Senator. Who gets the prize from the multitudinous hands of the people? One of the "people?" An "independent?" Not on your life! Isaac Stephenson, at whose seat the blow was aimed, marches back in triumph and leaves the "people" in the woods where they were before. Stephenson had money and he spent it; time, and he used it; a machine, and he greased it; experience, and he made it count. Three others went into the race against "Uncle Ike." They seem to have been all of the same type of progressive as Stephenson. It probably is as well for the State to have him as any of them. They spent $11,000 to $30,000 each in letting the people have their say at the direct primary. But Isaac was a better fisherman for votes and had more bait for the suckers. He spent—no one knows how much. And that all happened in "progressive" Wisconsin, whose delegates all went home from Chicago last June with a great grouch because the Republican convention would not let the Badgers "run the whole show" and nominate La Follette for President.

They are electing many United States Senators in these days. They have the direct primary in Missouri. But the "machine" turned just as smoothly there as at any other time. Mr. Folk stays at home and Bill Stone dons his old toga. We do not think it makes much difference to Missouri or to the rest of the country. Stone is probably just as good as Folk. But the "people" were said to be in a great stew to defeat Stone and elect Folk. The machine is said to belong to Gum Shoe Bill. All we wish to make clear is that the machine knows just as well how to work a primary election as any other kind.

In New York they have the old way still. The Legislature is Republican, and elects one of that party to the Senate, and lo, his name is Elihu Root. So the old way sometimes elects the right man, and up to this writing the new way elects the wrong man.

In fact, the new way makes a close political trust. Only the man of wealth can work the machine under the direct, no-party plan. The trained politician, who knows how, can get elected far more easily than a new man. The man not already conspicuous in politics cannot get his head up out of the mob to be seen at all. The "dominant" parties can knock any "new movement" silly and "hold the reins of government" while the people scatter.

If fruits are any index, the new "direct" notion is a field of tares.

"FISHERMAN'S LUCK."

ROOSEVELT-GILLETT, A CAPITAL COMBINATION.

The demagogic attempt at Sacramento to pass a wrong and useless law, sure to give offense to the government and the people of Japan, and have no practical effect, has been brought to a standstill, where we hope it will remain.

There hardly can be a member of the Legislature so ignorant of the facts as not to know in his heart that this vicious bill is just what we have branded it above. It is a play in politics to the worst elements, and those who propose it would not dare do so if they thought the people generally would be disturbed enough to condemn it.

Thanks to President Roosevelt and Gov. Gillett, the evil thing has been knocked in the head. It was understood days ago that the Governor would veto the bill if it ever was sent to him. That made it reasonably certain it never could be made law. But the passage of it would have had a bad effect and we owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. Roosevelt for bringing down the big stick on the heads of members of the Legislature.

The President and the Governor have acted in concert before, and never to better effect than in this instance.

ONE MAN'S GOOD WORK.

The oil industry of California is about the greatest wealth-producing influence on the Pacific Coast. This year the price of the oil at market points may reach $50,000,000. It cannot be much less. So much of it is used for fuel that it saves the State not less than $100,000,000 in furnishing us with cheap motive power, as will appear below. The wealth produced by the power furnished by the oil amounts to more than the price of the oil and the saving in cost.

This development, which has been so important to Southern California, was originally the inspiration of one man. We say Southern California, because the California oil industry is all south of Fresno and reaches almost to Mexico. That one man was the late K. H. Wade, general manager of the Santa Fé.

Mr. Wade came here nearly twenty years ago from an eastern railroad where coal in the tender cost 70 cents a ton. He found that coal cost the Santa Fé at San Diego at the ship's side $9.50 a ton. It was sensational. This practical man of business cast about for cheaper fuel and learned that crude oil was produced here.

Four years were spent in an inquiry made by our consuls in all parts of the world as to attempts at using oil as fuel. Drawings of appliances were secured, and then machinists were set at work to fit up a locomotive which would burn oil. An engine was sent into Ventura county and after six months' effort and with several thousand dollars spent in experimenting, the mechanics came back with a report of utter failure.

About that time Mr. Wade heard of a man who had just arrived in San Francisco from Peru, where he knew oil was used by a railroad. He secured the services of the new arrival, who had expert knowledge on the subject. In a few weeks an engine was on the road equipped with an oil-burning furnace, which hauled the heaviest load ever taken out of San Bernardino up the Cajon Pass.

Patience and persistence had "turned the trick;" the problem was solved. Oil could be had at such a price that the cost of fuel was reduced from $9.50 a ton for coal to about the cost of coal in the East.

And this patient work done by K. H. Wade gave an immediate impulse to the oil business in Southern California. It was a service done by a quiet business man, who was as lacking in ostentation as he was full of wisdom. His memory merits a monument from the oil men and those who own oil lands.

Were it not for his modesty we might add that all the hard details of the work were carried out by Fred Henderson of the Amalgamated Oil Company.

EXTEND FRANCHISE PERIOD.

For the charter election to be held February 2, "Amendment No. 25" relates to the period for which franchises for street railroads may be granted by the city. Formerly these privileges were given to cover a period of fifty years, and when this term was set it was none too long. Conditions changed, and it was not unreasonable that a shorter term might be proper. But the agitation was taken up too late, and the new rule was made too drastic. When the change was proposed the street car people had already secured privileges for lines throughout nearly all the city where there was population enough to pay for operating cars. To abbreviate greatly the franchise limit was sure to stop road building, redounding to the great inconvenience of citizens whose homes were in the sparsely peopled districts, and checking the improvement of additions which could not secure street car accommodations. Under the leadership of a little clique of Willardite leaguers, demagogues and busybodies, bent on persistent agitation in a crusade against corporations in general, the people were excited into adopting an amendment cutting the life of trolley franchises to twenty-one years.

Since then no car line building has been done unless residents and property holders in roadless districts put their hands into their pockets, and, after paying for the extension, handed it over to the railroad to operate. It was a miserable Populistic craze to "cinch the corporations" which carried that amendment; and the bungling unwisdom of those who stirred up that feeling resulted in making the people build roads and give them to the corporations! Had the agitators been guided by practical wisdom, not prejudice, they would have first reduced the period to forty years, with a provision that after five years or so it would be cut to thirty-five.

The change proposed for the coming charter election means an extension in the life period of franchises from twenty-one to thirty-five years, with a further wise provision that if this term seems too short to invite a road into any unpromising district the people may, by a two-thirds vote at an election, authorize the granting of a franchise for even a longer period. Experience is a teacher whose lessons are always good. Under unwise leadership and a howl of Populistic antagonism to corporations the people were carried away. They have seen their folly. Many who live remote from the center of the city have been put to inconvenience for years because they could not get a car near their domiciles. Owners of new subdivisions have been unable to dispose of property from lack of street car service. And while the people have suffered, the corporations have not been cinched. The Times pleaded the cause of the people when the life period of franchises was cut short, pointing out what the disastrous result would be. We plead the cause of the people now, urging that the term may be extended. We were falsely charged with bias against the "people's rights" then, and may be charged with bias today. The falsehood failed to hurt us then and we do not fear it now. Wisdom is always justified in time.

We are glad to note that some of those who raised the loudest cry for the twenty-one-year period are not opposing the extension to thirty-five years. Wisdom is justified even in the eyes of those who have it not.

We believe that this people of Los Angeles, free from the violent anti-corporation crusade, will now, led by their own good sense, give their neighbors, friends and fellow citizens generally a chance to get street car service which they so much need. That was and is our interest in the matter then, now and at all times. We are concerned in no street car corporation, nor in any lot subdivision. We are concerned in the convenience of the people wherever they dwell, and in the development of the city in whatever direction you turn. We believe in giving equal rights and privileges to all, and we know the great mass of our people feel the same way unless dust is thrown in their eyes.

Thinking in this way, we confidently hope that the vote in favor of extending the life period of charters for new street car lines will carry by a very large majority.

In the charter election, the two most important questions are this railroad amendment and "No. 2" (proposing a radical change in the city government by electing an all-at-large Council.) We advise all fair-minded voters influenced by a desire for the best interests of the city to vote "No" on that Councilmanic amendment; and on this matter of business common sense—the amendment to extend the term for which franchises may be granted in order that those of our fellow citizens who live far from the city center may have street car service ("No. 25")—we say, vote "Yes."

In voting for the franchise extension you vote to extend the area in which people may live without inconvenience. Thus you keep down the cost of building sites and rents, enabling the poor man to save in one way or the other. If that is not worth striving for, then we are wrong.

Jupiter culminates at the moment of new moon over the Turkish lands, omening new things for the rule of Mohammed. Over England, too, the ruler of the ascendant in square to Saturn, threatening commercial and industrial disaster. There is a sign of "hungry armaments."

Political disclosures will disturb the United States. There is, however, a promising and brilliant sign over the "commerce and toil" of nations.

This day there should be responsive feelings between persons. The period should be good for asking favors, seeking employment, exchanging, trading.

Jupiter's position is highly favorable to buying in the twenty-four hours, particularly articles of wear or use.

A good time to open offices or new stores, to undertake new enterprises or enlargements.

Changes and voyages are in the lives of men with this birthdate.

Children are born this day under a sign promising an eventful life. Girls may prove to be extravagant. Boys will need to guard against a tendency to quarrel and change without cause.

[From an address of Mr. Dillingham of Vermont in the Senate.]

Politically and socially Senator Proctor belongs to the revolutionary period of thought. As a young man he entertained a profound reverence for the character and wisdom of men who framed the constitution and for the provisions of that wonderful document. No one realized more clearly than he the necessity for a strong central government, clearly enumerated and delegated powers, but no one opposed more resolutely any tendency on the part to encroach upon the reserved rights of the States. These were, in his judgment, the limitation upon which our liberties were established, upon which their preservation depends. In the operation of the general government he had always in mind the admirable system of checks and balances contained in the Constitution to preserve the independence of each of its coördinate branches. He resented with indignation any attempted encroachment of one upon either of the others. I have always in mind Washington's injunction:

"Let there be no change by usurpation, for though it may in one instance be the instrument of good, is the ordinary weapon by which free governments are destroyed."

He agreed, also, with John Stuart Mill that "Evil for evil, a good despotism is a good thing; all advanced in civilization is more dangerous than a bad one, for it is more relaxing and enervating to the thoughts, feelings and energies of the people."

He was so strongly impressed with the temptation which comes to occupants of the executive chair to make a selfish use of the power to attach to that position when seeking a renomination and to the dangers attending this that as long ago as 1897 he introduced a joint resolution providing that the Constitution be so amended that the President shall hold office for six years and shall not be eligible for reelection. This resolution he supported in a speech rich in reason and full of commanding force.

So the sentence was carried into effect in the usual manner.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Art of another species, and decidedly of another tempo, is promised in the ragtime piano contest, scheduled for Friday night, at Simpson Auditorium.

We have had poesy by so-and-so, technique by what's-his-name and pianistic orchestration by Herr has-been, but a rag-time piano contest never yet.

The thing will be done in a regulation ring, the contest will be a go by rounds, and the winner will take all, though he will be expected to accept a note. They are now trying to find the judges, them as want to be judges they won't have, and competent judges who will accept and who are eligible are hard to recover.

"The only real judge," said one of the contestants, "is a colored man. A colored man knows rag-time better than any white man that ever lived. But if we have colored judges, then some vanquished white man will get sore—and there you are!"

The principals in the main event will be Ed Barnes of New York and Phil Stebbins of England, both holders of sightly honors in their syncopated art. Other participants will be Joe Murphy of Los Angeles and Bud Whitcombe of Buffalo.

Two preliminaries will precede the big go. These are a series of contests in "coon-shouting," and another series in buck and wing dancing.

Cash and medal prizes will be awarded for all events.

If the leading attraction becomes sanguinary, the police will interfere.

Charles York, formerly manager of the Los Angeles Theater here, and more recently in general charge of John Cort's Southern California interests, received word yesterday of his appointment as manager of the new Colonial Theater of Salt Lake. This new playhouse is described as one of the finest of the new western theater buildings. Mr. York will enter upon his duties immediately.

William Shakespeare, the famous London teacher of singing, is at the Alexandria with his wife. Mr. Shakespeare is a mature, but by no means old man, in the generally accepted meaning of "old," and his trip here is in the nature of an extended and leisurely vacation rather than a retirement. He will proceed slowly through this country, and perhaps others, before returning to his London studio.

During the past few years Mr. Shakespeare has done much composing.

M. and Mme. Planel, who have been here some little time, will shortly return to Paris, M. Planel having been brought hereon this trip by extensive property interests in San Francisco.

He has just completed his "Golden Gate" march, which is dedicated to California Parlor, No. 1, N.S. and D. G.W.

Florence Roberts, who will arrive at the Majestic in about ten days, has a play dealing with the English divorce laws.

It has problems, as might be imagined, but one at least seems new. This develops when a celebrated surgeon is called upon to perform a delicate operation upon the husband of the woman he loves and who loves him, his hesitation to bungle being increased by the fact that he believes his patient to be a brute. This possibility of making refined murder is the crucial point in the play.

Miss Roberts is the woman in question, Thurlow Bergen is the surgeon, and Arthur Forrest the husband.

Ernest Shafer, impresario for Mary Shaw's company until that organization of art stranded on a material desert, has obtained Alfred Allen's Town Topics prize play, "Chivalry," and will present it at the Mason Opera-house at an early date.

The title has been changed to "The Master Power," and the company will number twenty-five. An extensive scenic equipment is being built for the piece.

Harry Alexander, head of the Lambardi company, writes that they have had fair success on the northern tour so far, though most decidedly unaccustomed to rain by Southern California weather. Torrential rains, delaying of railroad traffic and submerging the streets making pedestrianism almost impossible, have been some of the unpleasant operatic accompaniments.

Two ticket windows are now required at the Orpheum, and if the Road Show had ten acts instead of eight, they might be compelled to establish a ticket annex across the street.

Henry Sonnenberg dispensed locations over the top of his desk yesterday, the same being backed up against the open door of his private office, admitting the box office.

Manager Crawford of the Auditorium will entertain the Mercy and Help for Children Society tonight. The hearts of many little folks are beating in expectation of seeing Cinderella and her magic pumpkin.

Charles Farwell Edson, assisted by Miss M. Hennion Robinson, pianist, gave a concert at Simpson Auditorium after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the children of the grade schools.

Mr. Edson's programme included Grieg's "Best I've None by Night or Day," Arne's "The Lass With the Delicate Air," Homer's "To Russia," Nevin's "Oh, That We Two Were Maying," German's "Rolling Down to Rio," Armorer's Song, from "Robin Hood," and a number of other selections. Mrs. Robinson played the Rubinstein "Scarf Dance," and Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," and "Consolation."

Saturday evening Miss Jessie Weimer entertained at the Gamut Club with an enjoyable musicale given by her pupils. Mrs. H. J. Barton, Mrs. Gazzolo-Swanson, Miss Drusie Rector and Miss Dorothy Smart, assisted by Miss Isabelle Jones, pianist, and Miss Dorothy Crall, violinist.

FIRE AT ORPHANAGE.

By the burning of a large cottage at the Salvation Army orphanage, Los Angeles Springs, Cal., on Sunday morning last, thirty boys were thrown out of a home and all their clothing destroyed. Among them were some of the boys from this city, and Maj. Bosh is appealing to the public to help rebuild the cottage and supply new for the boys. They are in need of outer clothing, underwear, overalls, shoes, bedding and cash. All donations should be sent to Maj. John Bosh, No. 509 San Fernando building, Los Angeles.

Wool Remnants at Half

Wool goods just as usable to you as though we had full bolts; but to us they are only nuisances, to be gotten out of the way at any cost. Not that they are unsalable because they're old style; simply because they are all in short lengths:

In some pieces there will be sufficient goods to make up a whole suit; others contain enough for a skirt, still others are in waist lengths only, and enough for children's dresses, etc., black, cream, fancy goods, light weight mixtures, suitings—in short, remnants from the entire stock, all at just half price. And every day we add new pieces as we measure goods for inventory-time, and cull out all the short lengths. Choose any at ..... Half

Suits to Order $35.00

Nearly every express is bringing us advance styles in wool materials for Spring and early Summer selling, and already our tailors' shears are busy cutting out stylish made-to-measure suits from Spring plates of the most authentic character:

From newly-arrived serges in fancy weave—three shades of blue, brown, tan, black, smoke, taupe, etc., and from other stylish materials, we will make to your measure, suits complete, lining coats with good satin, guaranteeing perfect fitting and workmanship, for as little as $35.00

Included in these materials are grays, champagne, pearl gray, gray green and blue gray mixtures, all very popular this spring.

Snowy Muslinwear Sharply Reduced

We can save you much of the usual cost of muslinwear during these Semi-Annual Sales, because for months previous we are buying here and there the very best values we can secure, and at lower prices than usual, because mills are at their "slack" season:

All-Linen Handkerchiefs Are Inexpensive Here

We carry a number of different lines of pure linen handkerchiefs, some of them being possibly less expensive than you'd ever suppose you could secure real linen for:

At five cents, fifty cents a dozen; at ten cents, dollar a dozen; at fifteen cents, two for twenty-five cents, and so on, all grades which you'll not be ashamed to carry; soft, sheer and fine.

Certain broken lines of initialed handkerchiefs, in heavy or sheer linen, crossbar, plain, plaid, etc., regularly thirty-five cents, we shall close out at 25c

Scallop embroidered Swiss handkerchiefs, used for decorating purposes during the holidays, regularly 25c, now 15c, two for 25c; tumbled, but not injured in the least.

Babies' Dresses $2.50 Values to $6.00

Of course you expect a reason for such a price-cut as that; here it is—these dainty dresses and skirts have become soiled, some of them, and somewhat crushed from packing, and we will not sell them as perfect goods in a stock from which the most critical women select their babies' outfits:

However, a trip to the laundry will make any one of them good as new; in many instances, simply running an iron over them will make them fresh.

Sizes for infants and children up to three years old; some very handsome French hand-made long slips among them; made from Paris mull and fine nainsook, all lace sewed on by hand; dainty embroidering, etc., values included up to six dollars and even higher, today on sale at $2.50

WORDS OF PRAISE.

After the experience of a severe cold which came near developing into Pneumonia, I have been cured with one 25 cent bottle of your Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The first dose relieved the soreness of my throat. To any it is a wonderful remedy in getting it very loose; I can never say enough in praise of your wonderful medicine, and consider your little booklet that was thrown to my door a friend in need. You may use this letter if you like, for it will always be a pleasure to recommend your Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey.

Sincerely, MRS. I. G. LOZIER.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

MRS. WILLIA I A. SPAULDING entertained with a tea Tuesday at No. 1700 Harvard boulevard, in honor of the announcement of the engagement of Miss Edith Jordan, a popular teacher in the Polytechnic High School of this city, to Edward Berwick, Jr., of Monterey. Miss Jordan is the only daughter of David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University. The announcement will be of wide interest, as both young people are well known in Los Angeles.

The tea given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. J. Wesley Sprague at her home, No. 1804 Fourth avenue, West Adams Heights, introducing her young sister, Miss Clara Park, was among the week's most brilliant functions. A canopy of pale lavender tulle and clusters of purple violets formed attractive decorations in the reception-room. The hostess wore a gown of lavender silk, matching the tulle. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. G. Alexander Robrick, Mrs. Catesby Thom and Mrs. J. R. Lewis. Tea was served in the patio, which had been altered and made to represent a Japanese tea garden. Quantities of cherry blossoms and Japanese plants were artistically combined to carry out this idea. The tea urns were presided over by Miss Margaret Seymour, Miss Helen Bosbyshell and Miss Hortense Barnhart Jones, while in the den a "Turkish maiden," attired in Oriental costume, poured coffee. The other rooms were made fragrant with tea roses, which half concealed many festooned yellow silk butterflies. An interesting musical programme was presented.

musical luncheon yesterday in honor of Mrs. J. H. Hampson of Mexico City. Mrs. Estelle C. Dreyfus and Miss Kavanaugh played several interesting musical selections. Plates were laid for Mrs. A. B. McCutcheon, Mrs. A. C. Bilicke, Mrs. W. J. Davis, Mrs. C. E. Payne, Mrs. C. R. Hudson of Mexico City, Mrs. J. S. Chapman, Mrs. J. Crampton Anderson, Mrs. Charles Modini-Wood, Mrs. E. P. Johnson, Jr., Mrs. J. E. Betnold, Mrs. Dreyfus and Miss Kavanaugh.

Bishop at Wedding.

Miss Antoinette Larronde, daughter of Mrs. Juana Larronde of North Hope street, was married yesterday morning at St. Vibiania's Cathedral to James J. Watson. The service was read by Rt. Rev. Bishop Conaty, assisted by Mgr. Harnett.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Sturgeon of No. 293 North Chicago street were given a surprise Tuesday evening by their niece, Miss Rosa Brown. A few guests were invited in celebration of the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon.

Miss Clara Park,

who was formally introduced to society yesterday afternoon at a fashionable reception given by her sister, Mrs. J. Wesley Sprague.

Marshal's Engagement.

Miss Margaret Smith and her betrothed, Leo Youngworth, United States Marshal, have chosen Wednesday, February 24, for the date of their wedding. The service will be held in the evening at Christ Episcopal Church. Miss Helen Herr of Butler, Pa., has been asked to assist as maid of honor. The maids will be Miss Myra Smith, cousin of the bride; Miss Frankie Wiles, Miss Vinette Morris and Miss Aura Gray. Richard Jeffries will be best man. The ushers will be Louis Swede, Louis Hauser, Leo Gibson and Oscar Brode. Mr. Brode will entertain with a theater party Friday evening in honor of the members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Thresher Entertains.

Mrs. George P. Thresher of No. 37 Westmoreland Place yesterday afternoon was hostess at a large bridge party. Her home was decorated with quantities of red geraniums and wild mustard. The hostess was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Mrs. Maude Thresher Webb, Miss Florence Thresher, Miss Helen Thresher and the Misses Ethelwyn Walker and Semone Ruch. Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald, who has just returned from an extended trip, was present as special guest.

Farewell Dinner.

Miss Nina Jones of Hotel Van Nuys will entertain with a dinner party the evening of February 1, in compliment to Miss Marion Macneil, who will leave later in the month for a trip abroad.

Birthday Party.

In celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. J. M. Wright of No. 125 East Thirty-third street, a number of friends gathered at her home Tuesday evening. They gave her a beautiful cut glass punch bowl as a birthday gift. Those present were Mr. and F. A. Langdon, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Count, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Cornfield, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. William Guernsey, Mr. and Mrs. F. Edwin Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. Eldon Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Count, Mrs. R. E. Rainey, Mrs. Cora Brown, and Francis G. Haley.

From Porterville.

Mrs. Horace V. Tanner of Porterville is a guest at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. Heavenston of No. 1262 West Twenty-fourth street.

Quiet Wedding.

A wedding of interest to a large circle of friends was solemnized quietly yesterday afternoon at the rectory of Rev. Baker P. Lee of Christ Episcopal Church, when Miss Elizabeth Judd became the bride of Edmond Robert Gregory. The only guests present were the bride's mother, Mrs. Judd, Mrs. Ida Hiller and the bridegroom's brother, H. D. Gregory of Santa Barbara. Miss Judd wore a becoming suit of blue broadcloth.

Musical Luncheon.

Mrs. Edward L. Doheny of Chester Place charmingly entertained with a

MAGIC CITY GROWS APACE.

Bright Lights Flashed on Auto Show Room.

Setting for Motor Gems Is Almost Ready.

Glass and Gold Signs to Be Strung Over Booths.

The magic city of motordom in the Hamburger building is growing into the proportions of a great automobile show. Though it will be necessary to keep every decorator working until the moment the show opens at 8 o'clock Saturday night, the exhibit is expected to be in place at that hour. The effect already is pleasing, and when the green carpet is laid today it will be beautiful.

From early morning until late at night the show builders must work. There are a score of dealers who are anxious to get on the floor and arrange their exhibits, and a score of others are worrying for fear they will not have a chance to put the finishing touches to their booths before Saturday evening.

The committee promises to have the booths prepared in such manner that it will only be necessary to roll the cars to their places to complete the show. The setting for the stylish cars will be in place by Friday night, and the cars will be brought in Saturday morning, while the last touches are being made.

Automobile row will shut up shop during show week. Cars will be sold on the floor during the day, and demonstrations will be given. All the sales force will be drawn from the town agencies and centered at the show.

NO DEAD HEADS.

The committee yesterday wrestled with the question of passes. After only a few minutes deliberation it was evident that the affair will not be a paper show. It will be hard to get into the big show room without paying. The committe even went so far as to define the status of newspaper men as those actively engaged in newspaper work.

Heretofore the question of passes has been acute, and it has been necessary to hand out quantities of paper. As a result undesirable citizens have gained admission to the show and have monopolized the good things. This year the committee declares it will not spend $15,000 to allow idlers to take advantage of all the hard work that has already been done.

Handsome signs are being hung over every booth. These face on the wide aisles, and are all uniform. They are of glass, with gold lettering. There will be little besides the motor cars in the booths.

The men who are handling the machinery of the show must think quickly for the remaining three days. Decisions must be snappy and to the point, as every minute counts. With only two weeks to arrange the background for the cars, it has been necessary to work night and day to make the affair a success. The dealers expect to come out more than even, but many thousands of persons must be attracted in order to reap any returns from the large outlay.

Last night the lights were turned on in one corner of the showroom, and the effect was startling. With 12,000 lamps glowing in welcome the show will be dazzlingly bright. The lamps will be frosted to subdue the glare.

The great shell over the main entrance was finished yesterday. It will be trimmed to represent the interior of an abalone shell, and these lights will also be subdued.

There is not a poor piece of space on the entire floor. Cars will shine forth everywhere, and there are no dark corners. The building is specially adapted to the needs of an automobile show, and every exhibitor is pleased.

CRACKERS CRACKLE SOFTLY.

Chinese New Year Celebration Very Quiet Compared With Those When Lid Was Off.

In the drizzling rain the residents of the Los Angeles Chinese quarter celebrated the opening services of their new year last night. Shortly before midnight the Chinese new year was ushered in with the explosion of hundreds of firecrackers and the burning of much punk and incense.

But the festival is not as it was. The residents of Chinatown are unwilling to pay large sums of money for religious ceremonies. Not many years ago the Chinese celebrations in Los Angeles were the most artistic of any of the services held in the Chinese quarters of the various cities.

That day is past. When the lid went down on Chinatown it closed on the superstitions of the Chinese. Superstitions are expensive and the wily Celestials are not paying for any luxuries this weather. Before gambling and the opium trade were suppressed money was plentiful. The Chinese who conducted the big fantan and lottery games were superstitious. They played on luck and as they robbed their customers when possible they were only too willing to give large sums for the celebration of oriental feasts. The priests of the temples could collect almost any amount from the gamblers.

The Chinese now in Los Angeles have ceased to celebrate because they cannot afford it, and it really does not interest them. Their new year's service is along more refined lines than in former years. They are giving banquets for their friends and passing the compliments of the season and the inauguration of the reign of the new Emperor.

But the banging of tom-toms, the screech of the horns and the rattle of the cocoanut drums is stilled. Chinatown has become Americanized and the legends of the land of the dragon have almost been forgotten.

BROWN WAS NOT HERE.

Earl Rogers, who is assisting in the defense of Patrick Calhoun, returned to Los Angeles for a visit of one day to defend the boy, Cecil Mitchell, who shot his sister's lover. Mr. Rogers says the Calhoun case will drag a long time before a jury is selected. He also states that the recently-published account of the supposed secret visit of Luther Brown to this city was not correct. Rogers says Brown was in San Francisco on the day he was described as being in this city in the interests of the race-track men. He states that Brown is taking no part in the race-track fight.

Anty Drudge's Horrible Dream.

Anty Drudge—"Mercy sakes! ! ! ! I'm glad there's no danger of that dream ever coming true. I dreamed there was no such soap as Fels-Naptha and I had to wash clothes in the old way of boiling in hot water with ordinary laundry soap and hard-rubbing. Nothing could be more awful."

Fels-Naptha has changed everything on washday.

Instead of a hot fire, little or no fire.

Instead of boiling, just a short soaking in cool or lukewarm water.

Instead of steam and smell through the house, no steam nor odor at all.

Instead of all day over the wash, a half day.

Instead of hard-rubbing, only a little rubbing.

Yes, Fels-Naptha has completely changed washday!

Fels-Naptha is imitated but not duplicated. You are sure of the genuine if you insist on the red and green wrapper.

Wilmington Holds up Banning Improvements.

Pacific Electric Franchise Is Essential Thereto.

Plans Impracticable Without Town's Assistance.

The quibbling over the franchise for the Pacific Electric Railway by the Wilmington Board of Trustees is very discouraging to the Banning Company, whose plans for an expenditure of a quarter of a million in improvements around Mormon Island are held up. The cooperation of the Pacific Electric is essential to success of the plans for the handling of the passengers to and from Catalina.

Some time ago the Banning Company asked for two franchises for the Espee and the Pacific Electric, as a part of its improvement project. The Trustees asked that the application be made by the roads themselves. This was done. The board on Monday night granted the franchise to the Southern Pacific, but failed to act on the Pacific Electric's. The Espee's franchise was for a steam line with the privilege of using electricity, and is identical to that asked by the Pacific Electric, except as to route. The franchise passed at its first reading last Monday night.

The electric asks permission to cross certain unimportant streets that intersect their private right of way, already purchased. Many establishments are ready to locate here if the proper transportation facilities are assured.

Rapid progress is being made on the line around the bay. A large outfit is at work, and a mile of track laid. The people of Wilmington want this line to be kept off the street entirely, if possible, and if that is impracticable, the road widened and straightened. A representative of the Pacific Electric has offered if the time for completion is extended, to get a private right of way and meet the wishes of the people in this respect, but if this is not done the company will necessarily have to lay along the street in order to save the franchise.

CAPITAL FOR MALIBU.

The rumor that the Malibu ranch railroad has obtained new capital and will be rushed more energetically, is again abroad. It is impossible to get any statement from the Rindge estate, and none who have heard the report have learned anything definite. The idea that the Western Pacific is in some way interested has been prevalent here since work started. The logical purchaser is the Los Angeles-Pacific, whose terminal will be the road's southern end, unless all signs fail. The road's most obvious extension is up the coast, as here is an absolutely exclusive territory, and by way of Hueneme it would have, with the Espee, a through line to the north. President Clark, however, says there is no such move contemplated.

RAILROAD NOTES.

E. S. Clark, division passenger agent of the Santa Fe at Wichita, Kansas, has had his jurisdiction extended to take in portions of Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

E. E. Wells, general manager of the Salt Lake Route, has returned home from Salt Lake City.

W. R. Parsons has been appointed general passenger agent of Morgan's Louisiana and Texas Railway, at New Orleans.

Two special cars bearing Texas' delegation to the stockmen's convention will arrive here the evening of the 23d inst., from Dallas, Fort Worth and other points. Another with Colorado delegates will meet Los Angeles the 23d inst., over the Salt Lake, to attend the meeting of the National Association of Live-stock men.

W. W. Thompson, general western agent of the Rock Island at San Francisco, is in the city for a few days.

J. Adams, Pacific Coast agent of the Nickel Plate lines at San Francisco, is in Los Angeles.

Unifying Methods.

Maj. C. Hine, a special representative of the Harriman lines, arrived here yesterday on an inspection trip. He is completing an examination of all the lines of the system, and reorganizing the various departments, so that all may be brought into harmony, and all useless work and unnecessary correspondence between the different lines eliminated. Maj. Hine is assisted in his examination by local officials, and when the reorganization is completed the roads comprised in the Harriman lines will be operated under one system.

Feat Crowd of Curious, Armed With Old Shoes and Rice, at Santa Ana.

So bashful were two Los Angeles girls who were married at Santa Ana yesterday that, accompanied by their newly-made husbands, they climbed through one of the windows at the courthouse to escape a curious crowd. They found their carriages waiting for them gaily decorated with old shoes. When the tip went forth among the employés and deputies at the Orange County Courthouse that marriage licenses had been granted to Loman W. Hixon of Los Angeles and Blanche E. Perry of Pasadena, and to Duval E. Perry and Mrs. Elsie Austin, both of whom live in Los Angeles, there was much gossip.

Hixon and Mrs. Austin are brother and sister, and the hint of the double marriage was enough to excite curiosity. Consequently, when the two couples were ushered into the presence of Justice of the Peace Edward Smith-they learned that they would have something of an ordeal to pass through when they left the room. Old shoes and rice are plentiful in Santa Ana, and the brides had heard of the fact. Anyhow, they declined to be fussed at, and refused to leave the room.

Then one of the quartette proposed a means of escape. There was the window. Why not fly through that? The idea was acted upon promptly, to the chagrin of the waiting watchers in the hall.

Avid Crowd of Curious, Armed With Old Shoes and Rice, at Santa Ana.

A bashful pair were two Los Angeles people who were married at Santa Ana yesterday that, accompanied by their friends, they climbed into one of the windows at the depot to escape a curious crowd. Several couples were waiting for trains, and found their marriages duly celebrated with old shoes.

When the ill-fated bunch arrived from the north and started for the Orange County Courthouse that marriage licenses had been granted to Loman W. Austin of Los Angeles and Blanche E. Austin of Pasadena, and to Duval E. Austin and Mrs. Elsie Austin, both of Long Beach, there was a merry time in Los Angeles, there was a merry time in the party.

Loman and Mrs. Austin are brothers and sister, and the fact of the double marriage was enough to excite curiosity. Consequently, when the two couples were ushered into the presence of Justice of the Peace Edward Smith-Head they knew that they would have the ordeal of an ordeal to pass through when they left the room.

Rice and rice are plentiful in the room, and the brides had heard of the old custom. Anyhow, they declined to be married at, and refused to leave the room.

One of the quartette proposed a plan of escape. There was the window. Why not fly through that? The idea was acted upon promptly, to the surprise of the waiting watchers in the

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

A friend of mine has a husband with a perfect passion for patents. I never go there but she displays some new device for household purposes, for he is forever bringing home patent parers, dish driers, dusters and whatnot. The worst of it is, he insists on trying them himself and we women all know that one might almost as well have an elephant in the kitchen as a man. One day he brought home a patent pan lifter, warranted to lift hot pots or pans from the oven and not to bend under the heaviest weight. His wife dutifully tried the thing and burned her hand so that she was crippled for a week. Her husband insisted that it was because she did not handle the device correctly and, in attempting to demonstrate it himself, succeeded in turning bottom side up on the clean kitchen floor a pan roast, and the hot grease spattered all over everything, including the pet cat and Tom's foot.

The latest thing this well-meaning man sprung on his wife was a patent potato parer, apple corer, vegetable slicer, fish scaler and cabbage cutter combined. He saw them demonstrated downtown and thought they were the greatest ever, so he paid the price and brought one home. He rushed into the kitchen just as lunch was ready to go hot to the table, and enthusiastically exclaimed: "Here, little girl, I've found just the thing this time, you bet. Get out the basket of potatoes and I'll show you how it works."

Despairingly the little wife put the fritters in the oven and shoved the cocoa kettle back on the stove, for she knew by the gleam in his eye that the demonstration fever was on. Tom removed his cuffs, rolled up his sleeves and attacked a potato with the new parer. The man downtown had run it so smoothly, but the thing halted and jerked, and backed up in Tom's inexperienced fingers, and finally began to peel his hand instead of the potato. When I happened in half an hour later the two were just sitting soberly down to lunch, Tom's hand adorned with one of his wife's best handkerchiefs, and a slightly subdued look on his face. After he had gone to the office, she unburdened her soul, and together we laid a plan for Mr. Tom.

Next day she burst into his office at his busiest hour, her face radiant, and exclaimed: "Just see, dear, what I've found for you. It's the cleverest yet—a patent letter-press. It copies just as exact as can be, and so cheap, and only half the trouble of that old one," with a contemptuous glance toward its corner. "Don't take up any room, hardly," she rattled on. "Just let me show you how it works," and she cleared a space on the crowded desk, laid the thing down and began to demonstrate. It took her full half an hour, and in the meantime the stenographer waited, several business men cooled their heels in the outer office, the morning mail piled up and, in fact, by the time the little wife and her patent finally disappeared that office was thoroughly demoralized—but Tom had had his lesson. He no more interferes in domestic matters, and his wife has a clear field of operation.

Ribbon Flowers.

Hats for the late winter and early spring show smart novelties made of ribbon, silk and velvet in the way of flowers. A large, full-blown rose may be fashioned from soft, supple satin ribbon with charming effect. Among these silk and velvet trimming novelties Vogue says that large clover blossoms in the soft, natural tint of pink and cyclamen shades form a chic and very new style of trimming. Silk carnations, too, in flaming scarlet, primrose, salmon pink and white, are an exclusive novelty, as are also sprays of goldenrod and mimosa in the natural golden yellow, with dull green foliage. A black velvet hat was made very smart by a wreath of water lilies in deep copper brown and somber green velvet, arranged about the low, wide crown. This fresh fad for silken flowers affords opportunity for clever fingers of ingenious girls who fashion their own headgear.

The Easter Bride.

"Just the thing for a bride," exclaimed a woman yesterday as she gazed, entranced, at a wonderful combination of filmy lace, dainty embroidery, chiffon and soft silk displayed in the window of a leading Broadway store. Prospective Easter brides are now thinking and planning for the trousseau. Needless to say, a preference is shown for the graceful and elegant Empire modes. Long sleeves and high-necked guimpes of exquisite lace are very conspicuous, real laces being used in every instance where the bride-to-be is so fortunate as to own them. The going-away gown most in favor, says a fashion authority, is built on Directoire lines, taupe and smoke-gray being first choice. The gowns are made with trailing skirts wherever possible. Advance fashions for spring and summer show a decided tendency toward open and collarless necks and evening waists place in evidence elbow and short sleeves. There is no gainsaying the fact that short sleeves, their grace enhanced by the long glove, rippling to the elbow and above, are prettier for evening wear than the tight, wrist-length sleeves that have been declared modish. The short glove is actually hideous for evening wear and long sleeves never convey the idea of full dress, no matter how elaborately made nor of what sheer material.

Gores Galore.

What do you think of a twenty-one gored skirt? Well, they're here. I saw one yesterday in the window of an exclusive Broadway shop. The striking feature of this many-pieced model was that each gore as it slanted out from the knees displayed a plaid stripe so that the effect was much the same as that of the pleated skirts I told you of the other day, so stitched as to let the plaid stripes show below the knee. The models I saw were in gray and white. The upper part of the gores in plain gray and the lower slant running into a gray and white check.

A Valentine Party.

Give the children a Valentine party. Make it a jolly, informal little affair easily planned and carried out. Select dainty, inexpensive valentines for invitations and enclose them in heart-shaped envelopes. To entertain the little people, begin with a spirited march which will bring out all the shy ones and get them acquainted. Distribute among the girls folly caps with jingling bells, and give the boys heart-shaped badges pierced by golden arrows, the little ones finding partners by matching the color of cap and badge. Arrange through the rooms a number of small valentines, all hung in plain sight, but taking care to place them inconspicuously, and let the children hunt them, rewarding the most successful with a box of bonbons. In the dining-room arrange a Valentine pie, on the same principle as the Jack Horner pie which all children delight in at Christmas time. Fill your biggest bread pan with little, inexpensive gifts wrapped in tissue paper and securely tied with narrow baby ribbon, leaving a long end on each package. Cover the pan with crepe paper finished with a wide frill and through the cover draw the ends of ribbon attached to the packages. Give each child a ribbon and at a given signal let them all pull. Sandwiches, little iced cakes, cocoa, and dainty dishes of peppermints will make a nice little lunch and give a festive air to the table if prettily arranged.

Fashions Burlesqued.

The Humorists' Exhibition in Paris each year represents to fashion what Weber & Fields did to the stage when it burlesqued all the popular plays put on in Gotham. The purpose of this Parisian exhibition is to burlesque the fashionable modes of the moment. As may be imagined the present season offers excellent opportunity. Mme. Lafitte-Destrat, who made herself famous in Paris years ago by her dolls cleverly posed and gowned in droll imitation of well-known public women, had at the recent exhibition, a stand of dolls dressed in the latest fashions. Vogue says of them:

They trip along, these wonderfully fashioned dolls, absolutely like their prototypes. There is the elegant woman as she steps from her carriage, her skirts held high, revealing the lace stockings and the pretty shoes. Of the same type is one gowned for a short stroll on the Champs Elysées, her winding skirt impeding her steps. There is the skater, smartly gowned in the latest word of fashion, and the little sewing girl, chic in half shabby finery, reading her paper as she trips along with a bandbox on her arm. Wonderfully true to life! A crowd surrounds the stand that holds them.

Fashion's Fancies.

Some of the newest cloth coats affect the Directoire mode in that they have an apparent opening down the side, fastened up with buttons and buttonholes.

A new shaped early Victorian scarf is of net, bordered with satin rouleaux and a satin hem; a scarf that takes a very winsome curve about the shoulders.

New foulards in all-over scroll patterns come in all the popular shades and many new tones, such as simoon, ashes of roses, dark canard blue, wisteria, etc.

Skirts of evening gowns are, in the main, very plain, barring a band of some kind at the hem of the thinnest ones to drag them downward into desired lines.

The newest yoke is made of tucked chiffon, in the color of the gown, underlaid with gold or silver tissue, and the sleeves are often of the same color.

Coin-spotted French Chaille with flower or Persian borders, comes in a variety of colors on a light ground, and is among the new materials for spring.

The Deutsche Bank of Berlin has sold $4,000,000 worth of bonds of the Western Maryland Railway Company to a syndicate headed by Blair & Co., the New York bankers.

HUDDEL

Don't Let Prices Persuade You

When you are going to have dental work done, don't let the question of price decide the whole matter. In dentistry it's much better, in the long run, to pay a fair and reasonable fee than to pay a price so low that it is utterly impossible for the dentist to give you good materials and lasting work. Indeed, the very first argument that the cheap-price advertiser uses is: "Why, yes, we can, of course, do your dental work at that price, but it's not the kind of work you want in YOUR mouth." Such decoy methods of getting you to visit us have never been used.

CAN'T BE SPARED.

Government Officials Whom Taft Will Retain—Have Proved Indispensable to Government—Regardless of Party, They Go on.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Jan. 16.—Officials may come and officials may go, but a few officials, like Tennyson's brook, may go on forever in office, without Mr. Taft's hindrance, at least. These few officials are the men who cannot be spared as long as lasts their zeal for work. Which way they have voted, for what party they have worked in the past, for what candidate they have whooped and hurrahed and thrown up their hats does not matter a jot to the President-elect. They are simply invaluable, and it would be a hard rake and scrape to find others just as good. That is all. No one understands it so well as does Mr. Taft himself, who knows his Washington better than any other President-elect since John Quincy Adams.

WILL BEAT CABINET RECORD.

During the campaign it was rumored that Mr. Bryan, if elected, would invite James Wilson of Iowa to retain his seat in the Cabinet as Secretary of Agriculture. This may or may not have been true. The point no less remains that James Wilson is one of those men who cannot be spared and who may remain in the next Cabinet so long as his health lasts. On the last day of the present year—December 31, 1909—he will have broken the record for Cabinet service, now held by Albert Gallatin, the great financier. Gallatin was commissioned Secretary of the Treasury, May 14, 1801, and vacated that office February 9, 1814, having served twelve years eight months and twenty-six days. He was the adviser of two Presidents, Jefferson and Madison, while James Wilson will have been the adviser of three, McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. On the date when this article is published, Mr. Wilson will have been in the Cabinet eleven years ten months and nineteen days.

He has been continuously in public life for forty-five years, having served eight years in his State Legislature, where he was Speaker; six years in Congress, and the remainder of his time, up to his Cabinet service, in various State offices. He was in Congress four years while Grant was President, and during two years of Arthur's administration. However highly he might have distinguished himself in these days, however, he never could hope to be President, since he was born in Scotland, from which country he emigrated when 17. When he breaks the Cabinet record he will be in the 75th year of his youth.

Another noted official who cannot be spared is Alvey Augustus Adee, who has been Assistant Secretary of State for twenty-seven years. Indeed, he has been continuously connected with the diplomatic service and State Department for thirty-nine years. He was the son of a naval surgeon of Astoria, N. Y., and when he was 27 President Grant appointed him Secretary of Legation at Madrid, where, as Charge d'Affaires at different times, he early felt the responsibilities of a diplomatic career. After remaining at Madrid seven years he came back to the State Department as a clerk when President Hayes came in, but in less than a year Secretary Evarts had noted his skill and had appointed him chief of the diplomatic bureau. Four years later Arthur made him Third Assistant Secretary of State. That his career had thus been started by Republican Presidents made no difference to Mr. Cleveland, who promoted him to the Second Assistant Secretaryship, which he has retained under Harrison, then Cleveland again, then McKinley and Roosevelt. He can remain under Taft as long as he will. Indeed, it would be considered little short of a calamity should he retire. Being but 66, he will probably remain the oracle of the State Department for at least a decade more.

It is "Ask Adee" nine cases out of ten when things get into a tangle at our foreign office. He knows by heart the peculiar form of addressing every sovereign on earth, whether as "his most catholic majesty," "his most Christian majesty," or what. He has at tongue's end the yard-long list of titles of every monarch of christendom or heathendom. He tells the President where distinguished foreigners in Washington should be placed at table or in what order they should be received with respect to home officials, and this function has resulted in his being dubbed "etiquette tutor of the Presidents."

He can play the diplomatic chess game blindfolded or on a dozen boards at a time, and what he doesn't know about the rules is not worth knowing. Indeed, he probably knows even all that isn't worth knowing. Like the late P. D. Armour, he rejuvenates his mind with tea. Annually he bicycles through some part of Europe for a month at a stretch, making snapshots as he goes. He also delights in making photographs of his colleagues at their desks.

AN INDISPENSABLE DIPLOMAT.

Another of our diplomats who has been promoted under both Republican and Democratic administrations is Henry White, now Ambassador to France. It was rumored the other day that he was the only one of our present Ambassadors whom Mr. Taft would retain. However true this may be, like Mr. Adee, entered the "can't be spared" class at an early age and there is little doubt that he will remain in our diplomatic service for many years to come. Arthur sent him to Vienna as secretary of legation in 1883, and he had been there but a year when sent to London as second secretary. Here he made himself so useful that, in spite of his being the appointee of a Republican President, Cleveland retained him and promoted him to first secretary. From this time he repeatedly acted as charge d'affaires in the absence of Minister by Cleveland did not, in turn, cause Harrison to overlook his special abilities. However, he was not reappointed during Cleveland's second term, but McKinley was glad to send him back as chief assistant to John Hay, when the latter was Ambassador to London.

Indeed, so tactfully had Mr. and Mrs. White comported themselves in London that they had become intimates of the then Prince and Princess of Wales, and when these royalties ascended their thrones America had at court a man and woman who could chum with their majesties. This was what America wanted, and Roosevelt retained Mr. White until 1905, when he promoted him to Ambassador and sent him first to Rome and later to France, where he is now. It is rumored that Mr. Taft will take advantage of Mr. White's personal friendship with King Edward and send him to London, which is considered the highest diplomatic berth in the gift of our government.

FORTY-SEVEN YEARS' SERVICE.

Quite as indispensable to the government during these two generations has been Dr. Sumner Increase Kimball, general superintendent of the life-saving service, who has been continuously connected with the Federal service for forty-seven years. He was born in Maine, where he was graduated from Bowdoin five years ahead of the late Speaker Reed. Like the great Speaker, he also became a lawyer, served his apprenticeship in the Maine Legislature, but left it a decade before Reed entered. He came to Washington at the beginning of the war as a clerk in the second Auditor's office. In eight years he became chief clerk of that office, and a year more found him chief of the revenue marine, now the revenue cutter service, although still in his thirties. The life-saving service was then under the revenue marine, and young Kimball at once set to work to develop it. Its humane necessity so impressed him that he aided in having it made a separate service, and his name was sent to the Senate as its first chief in 1878, while Hayes was President.

So well was he known to our lawmakers, even then, that the Senate confirmed him without referring his name to committee, and he has served as the head of the service for thirty-one years, without a break, under eight Presidents and two Democratic administrations. In 1893 Congress rewarded his services by an increase in salary, "while the position is held by the incumbent," as it was stipulated. So highly has he been trusted by the secretaries of the Treasury that frequently he has been asked to act as Comptroller, Registrar or Socilitor. He has also represented the government at conferences abroad. Last October he and his wife entertained many of the high government officials at their golden wedding anniversary, a conspicuous figure at which gathering was their son, E. F. Kimball, superintendent of the money-order service of the Postoffice Department. Dr. Kimball is hale and hearty at 74. He has personally known all the factors in our government prominent during and since the Civil War period. The life-saving service without him would be as "Hamlet without the Dane," for it has known no other head. He has made it what it is, and will undoubtedly be retained in offices as long as he retains his zeal for work.

In the White House itself Mr. Taft will find a veteran official who cannot be spared as long as he retains his present robust health. This is Maj. Charles D. A. Loeffler, U.S.A., widely known as "doorkeeper to the Presidents." Going on fifty-one years ago the then youthful Loeffler at Baltimore enlisted in a cavalry regiment, in which Robert E. Lee was lieutenant-colonel, and Fitzhugh Lee was second lieutenant. With this regiment Loeffler got into the thick of Indian fighting, and showed his courage on many occasions, particularly upon a notable one, when he aided in saving the life of Fitzhugh Lee, who as long as he lieved thereafter was one of the pluckly soldier's warm friends. Indeed, Gen. Fitzhugh Lee always visited at the White House to see Maj. Loeffler when in Washington.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, Loeffler, now a sergeant, was ordered to Washington, where he was kept on special scout duty until the close of the struggle, when Secretary Stanton appointed him chief of the Executive Mansion. Later he was with Gen. Schofield, and when Grant was inaugurated he was told to report for duty at the White House. He was posted at the door of Grant's office, and has thus guarded every President until this day. When Mr. Taft is inaugurated, Maj. Loeffler will celebrate his fortieth year in White House duty. In 1878 Hayes gave him the commission of captain in the regular army, and he was later promoted to major. And even when he was placed on the retired list he was deemed as indispensable to the White House, where he will undoubtedly remain as long as his present youthful vigor lasts. Last July, when he celebrated the semi-centennial of his service to the government, President Roosevelt sent Maj. Loeffler a letter of congratulation.

In the Senate, we find there also another notable example of the man who can't be spared. January 18, 1878—thirty-one years ago, almost to the day—Alonzo H. Stewart, an 11-year-old Iowa lad, was appointed a page in the Senate by Senator Wright of that State. Mr. Allison, also of Iowa, took a great fancy to the bright lad, and he became this Senator's protegé after Wright had retired. From page he became chief of pages, and for years was the assistant to the venerable Bassett, who for sixty-two years was an employé of the upper house. And when Mr. Bassett died Stewart succeeded him as "assistant doorkeeper," an office which has long existed as a misnomer, for, in the first place, there never has been an actual chief doorkeeper, and the assistant doorkeeper does not tend door. He is actually the Republican "whip" of the Senate, and the general factotum of the Republican side, and it would require the entire space of this article to define his other duties.

He has served under twelve presiding officers of the Senate, Republican and Democratic, and early in his career he improved his spare moments by studying law with certain members of Congress. Some time ago he made an argument before the Supreme Court of the United States, of whose bar he is a member. He could doubtless earn four times his present salary if he went into private practice. But the Senate simply cannot spare him. And, besides, he is now generally believed to be a reincarnation of the venerable Bassett, who was homesick each day the Senate was not in session.

GOV. KIBBEY READS MESSAGE TO ARIZONA LEGISLATURE.

Almost Assured Admission of Territory to Union Within Immediate Future Cause for Congratulation. Non-Stringent Anti-Gambling Laws Recommended.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 19.—This afternoon, before a joint session of the legislative houses, Gov. Kibbey read his biennial message to the Legislature. It was of unusual length and will given close attention, as embodying many suggestions of practical benefit to the Territory.

In his introduction, the Governor said: "I think we may now congratulate ourselves upon the almost assured admission of our Territory to the rights of a single State within the immediate future. I feel confident that the session of your body is the last Arizona Territorial Legislative Assembly that will ever convene. While I feel there can be no possible doubt of the almost unanimous desire of the people of the Territory for admission at the earliest possible moment, and while I think there is little doubt in the minds of Congress and of the people of the country at large of the earnestness of that desire, I think that a formal expression of that wish by your body, so recently from the people by their chosen representatives, would be both proper and wise.

"The near approach of the consummation of our hopes and preparations for statehood, I feel sure, must impress us all with the responsibilities that rest upon us, which, while not new are brought more clearly within our view, and which ought to impel us and inspire us to the fullest and most conscientious discharge of the duties devolving upon us at this juncture."

He therefore urged that especial care be taken now in all matters of public policy.

RAPID DEVELOPMENT.

The condition of the Territory generally was declared good, with rapid development of all resources. The population was estimated at 200,000, steadily increasing through immigration of a very desirable class of citizens.

Recommendation was made that the stringent anti-gambling laws be repealed and that all liquor vendors close their places at midnight and Sunday.

Attention upon tubercular sufferers is a matter which should be turned over to the several county boards of health, who, also, should be given additional powers in regard to protection against the importation of insect pests.

The Territory's financial condition is declared better than ever before, every obligation promptly met. It is suggested that some provision be made for establishment of sinking fund for the payment of the $3,000,000 debt of the Territory and its counties. While the Territorial tax rate has been cut 25 cents, extraordinary building and improvement expenses amounting to $404,000 have been, or are being provided for within the regular limit of the Territory, including the building a new penitentiary at Florence, at about $222,000 for schoolhouse improvements at the normal school, at university and the insane asylum.

During the past two years, through the failure of only one bank failed, that a national bank. In the Territory are now two Territorial banks and three national banks, with aggregate deposits of about $14,000,000. Certain changes in incorporation laws are suggested and provision made for a franchise tax.

NEW PENITENTIARY.

Especial reference was made to the new Territorial penitentiary, which is being economically built by the labor of the convicts themselves. The insane asylum at Benson was considered badly located. The building in which it is housed was ill designed, unsafe and even dangerous to use. New buildings are being erected at the Territorial Insane Asylum.

Recommendation was given to the report of Public Examiner Foster, whose methods have resulted in the saving of many thousand dollars to the counties and Territory.

The report of the Arizona ranger force is recommended, as of benefit to the Territory at large. The National Guard, the Territory pays for (two years, in addition to $10,000 received from the general government.) There are ten companies, of notable efficiency.

The Territorial Fair Commission should be increased to five members. An appropriation has been expended on the grounds since 1905. The Governor believes the expenditures have been justified by the results.

The matter of good roads was dwelt upon briefly, and it was declared that a great part of the moneys expended on roads in the various counties has been almost wasted.

Secretly Married.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carter, who eloped to Santa Ana. She was Miss Florence E. Sain and he is a young cavalryman just returned from the Philippines.

HE MAKES A RAID.

And Young Cavalryman Comes Off With Bride, Whose Mother Doesn't Know She's Married.

Charles E. Carter, recently home from the Philippines, where he served as a member of Troop H, Third United States Cavalry, conducted a successful raid on a Boston-street residence on Monday, and came off with a handsome young bride.

His sweetheart, Miss Florence E. Sain, living with her mother, at No. 912 Boston street, had loyally waited for his return from the Far East, and they had intended to be married sometime hence. On Monday they left the young lady's home, telling her mother they were going for a car ride—and they did. They went to Santa Ana, secured a marriage license, were united in the holy bonds, and immediately returned. That evening they went to the theater and got home in good time, and the unsuspecting mother did not know last night that her daughter had given her the slip.

In a few days the groom will start for the Antelope Valley with his father, J. H. Carter of Lancaster, who is now in this city superintending the construction of a new invention for the drilling of oil wells. After two months he will return to Los Angeles, and it was the intention not to make public the marriage until then.

Mrs. Carter will remain with her mother during the two months of her husband's absence, and they will thereafter make their home at Lancaster, where the latter will be in charge of his father's business.

The bride is a handsome little blonde, a niece of Fred. Durlin, Deputy United States Marshal, and the groom is a grandson of ex-Senator B. F. Carter of Wisconsin. They are each 25 years of age, and Mrs. Sain will no doubt freely forgive this morning.

HIS SEAT DANGEROUS.

Unknown Man Rests on Track Until Train Hits Him—Dies in Hospital.

An unidentified man about 50 years old was struck and fatally injured by inbound Southern Pacific train No. 7 near Pomona early last night. He was brought to Los Angeles and died in the Receiving Hospital at 8:30 o'clock.

According to Engineer T. Norton, the man was sitting on the end of a tie, and did not move, although the whistle was blown several times. It is his belief that the man was deaf.

The man wore ordinary clothes and is believed to be an orange picker. He was about five feet seven inches in height and wore a full beard that was peppered with gray.

STRANDED, THEN LIBELED.

Salvage Claim of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars Pressed Against the Steamship Cecil.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company libeled the ship Cecil at San Pedro yesterday, in connection with an admiralty suit in the United States District Court, to collect $25,000 claimed as salvage. The libel states that the Curacao, south bound, saw the Cecil in distress near Magdalena Bay, January 11. Her master, R. J. Paulson, steamed close to the Cecil and agreed to tow the vessel from the strand, where it grounded, to safe anchorage. It is alleged that Jacob Olsen, master of the Cecil, agreed to pay a salvage fee of $25,000. The vessel is valued at $100,000, and the cargo at $200,000. It is consigned to W. R. Grace & Co. of San Francisco. Gibson, Trask, Dunn & Crutcher represent the Pacific Coast Steamship Company.

In discussing the accident, Capt. Olsen of the Cecil, said yesterday:

"When I reached the southerly entrance to Magdalena Bay at 5 o'clock in the morning of January 12, the fog was exceptionally thick and in addition an unusually strong tide current was running. I estimated the velocity of the current at three miles an hour. A little later we struck a sloping sand-spit on Santa Margarita Island. I tried to get the vessel off but could not budge her, so I dispatched a ship's boat with some of the officers and crew to Magdalena to telegraph to San Francisco for assistance. After a long hard pull of thirty-seven miles they arrived safely only to find there was no cable office at Magdalena. I kept my distress signals blowing, which fortunately were heard by the Curacao and she pulled the Cecil off without much difficulty. I do not think the vessel is injured to any extent."

The Cecil is a steel vessel of 2483 tons and is owned by Jacob Christensen of Bergen, Norway. She was built in 1901 at Newcastle-on-Tyne and cost over $200,000. She is 350 feet in length, forty-nine feet breadth and twenty-seven feet of hold. She carries a crew of thirty-one officers and men.

POWDER PLANT EXPLODES.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—An explosion in the mixing building of the Dupont powder plant at Gibbstown, on the New Jersey side of the Delaware River, twenty miles south of here today, injured twelve men, one seriously, and destroyed several small corrugated iron buildings. The explosion was felt within a radius of thirty miles.

Official notice has reached the apostolic delegate, Mgr. Falconio, that Mgr. Jean Baptiste Pitaval, has been nominated Archbishop of Santa Fé, to succeed the late Rt. Rev. Peter Bourgade.

MIX FOR RHEUMATISM

The following is a never failing remedy for rheumatism, and if followed up it will effect a complete cure of the very worst cases: "Mix half pint of good whiskey with one ounce of Toris compound and add one ounce syrup of Sarsaparilla compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and at bed time." The ingredients can be procured at any drug store and easily mixed at home.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — MRS. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Torturous, Nerve-Racking

Rheumatism

Cured Forever Without Drugs

You can't cure rheumatism with drugs. There's no use trying. Drugs, or, rather, poisons, will stop the pain for a while by stupefying the nerves, but that does not remove the cause, so the pain comes back.

You know that rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. There's only one thing on earth that can get at this uric acid and drive it out of your system. That's electricity. It soaks into every vein and tissue of the body, and drives the poisonous uric acid through the circulation, back to the kidneys, which filter the blood of all impurities.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt has cured the worst cases of rheumatism after drugs and other methods had failed. When electricity goes into the body rheumatism must go out.

There's a whole lot to know about applying electricity so that it will cure. We've spent a good many years learning how to use it successfully, and we give our patients the benefit of our knowledge.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is the only thorough, modern electric belt. It has all necessary attachments. It does not burn or shock. It soothes the nerves and enriches the blood. It makes strong men out of weaklings and cures disease by removing the cause.

Read these cures:

"I was cured of rheumatism by your belt. GEO. M. BRIGGS, Santa Paula, Cal."

"Your belt cured my sciatica. W. F. C. LOHR, 427 E St., San Bdno., Cal."

"I was cured of lumbago through your belt. J. S. LEWIS, Colton, Cal."

Free To You

We want every rheumatic man or woman that is taking drugs to call or send for our large, illustrated book, which tells how we cure with electricity. This book contains much valuable information regarding rheumatism and other ailments, and gives prices of treatment. We'll mail this book to any address free, if you will send us this coupon.

Free test of Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt if you call. Consultation free. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mon., Sat. eves till 8. Sunday, 10 to 12.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA.

YEARS CROWNED WITH HONORS.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED IN NOVEL WAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Ulrich Surprised by Fifty Friends—Prominent Elk Meets With Misfortune—City Auditor Won't Let Council Give Financial Aid to Hospital.

Office of The Times, No. 28 E. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Jan. 20.—Surrounded by fifty friends from their former home, Peoria, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Ulrich, who for the past four years have lived at No. 936 East Villa street, this city, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, last night. Although Mr. Ulrich is 73 years of age, and his wife 70, both are in excellent health.

Yesterday afternoon they were lured away from the house by the promise of a drive, when they returned they found fifty friends seated at the table in the dining-room, ready to enjoy a feast served by a Los Angeles caterer.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Ulrich, of Pasadena, who were pleasantly surprised by friends upon the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Among those present were: Mrs. G. A. Lutz, Valentine Lutz, Arthur Lutz, Oneta Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Studer, Bernard Studer, Mrs. C. Houser, Miss Margaret Houser, Katherine Houser, Cleo Houser, Mrs. Faulker, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Katherine Holmes, Henry Heinert, Mrs. Bafrenscheen, George Bowles, Mrs. Anna Bockman, Mrs. Denismore, Mrs. W. P. Springer, Mrs. Lillian, Mr. and Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Vickery, Miss Mable Fisher, Mrs. Raab, Mrs. Mattie Whitmpt, Mrs. John Korbal, Miss Annie Witteman, Mrs. Louisa George, Miss Julia Arbetier, Miss Lena Belstring, Mrs. Anna Loiffelbein, Mrs. Nancy Noel, Miss Mable Noel, Mr. and Mrs. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Kanne.

"I'm in California for a few weeks recreation," said John W. Gates, the New York capitalist, yesterday afternoon, on arriving in Pasadena. He refused to be interviewed. He is the guest of his son, Charles Gates, who is spending the winter here.

DOCTOR'S RIBS BROKEN.

Troubles are multiplying for Dr. Charles H. Ward of this city, who is the deputy district grand exalted ruler of the Elks. A few days ago, his mother, who is 97 years old, fell and one of her legs was broken. On Monday, near Fresno, Dr. Ward had two ribs broken when he fell while entering his berth on the train. In addition to this, he caught a severe cold at Fresno and his physician fears that he may be suffering from pneumonia. This gives the local lodge double cause for concern, for the annual harvest festival is at hand. Dr. Ward has been very active in bringing the California lodges together to aid Los Angeles in preparing for the annual meeting of the grand lodge in that city in July.

HOSPITAL'S PLIGHT.

Although the County Assessor reduced the assessment on the Pasadena Hospital, the city legally cannot aid the institution in a financial way, according to the advice of City Attorney Wood, and a demand for $506, signed by the Council, and tendered to the Pasadena Hospital for taxes, has been held up by City Auditor Kellogg, who has referred the matter back to the Council, of which four members are in favor of giving the money, but Councilmen Root and Crandal are not. Mayor Earley backs the Auditor in his stand.

As the taxes come due on Saturday, the directors of the hospital are in a sad predicament, as there is no money in the treasury.

TRADE BOARD LUNCHEON.

At noon, today, members of the Board of Trade will gather at the Hotel Raymond for a luncheon, after which Hon. Edward A. Armstrong will talk on "Pasadena's Capital." Special cars will leave Colorado street at 11:55 a.m. for the hotel.

FINE HOME SOLD.

One of the biggest realty deals of the week was consummated yesterday when Mrs. H. A. Glazier of Albany, N. Y., purchased a nine-room residence from Dane F. Kinsell of Los Angeles, through the agency of G. L. Mathews and George B. Lyon of this city. The consideration is believed to be approximately $16,000.

Jacob Riis will lecture at the First Congregational Church, tonight, under the auspices of the Men's Club of the church.

February 16 has been fixed as the date of the minstrel show of the Men's Club of All Saint's Episcopal Church. Messrs. F. Shail Hallett, Arthur Wyatt and N. L. Chapin have the affair in charge.

Yesterday, Justice Klamroth sentenced Fred Healey to six months in the County Jail for stealing a bicycle.

Arrivals at Hotel Green include Simeon Mandel of Chicago, and his son Leonard Mandel; Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Hixon of La Crosse; Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Carpenter of Manchester, N. H.; Mrs. F. S. Reade of Chicago, Miss Helen Reeve and Mrs. K. B. Lee, Newark, N. J.; Mrs. George O. Tenny, Miss Adela Tenny, Richmond, Va.; Cecil Barrett, New York; Julius Mack and wife, Toledo, O.; G. T. Lapsley, Cambridge; Miss Marcia Hertel, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Levy, San Francisco; Louis Feder, New York; Robert Troescher, New York.

At the Maryland are Trahue Van Culin, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Johnson, London, England; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnes, Duluth; Miss A. K. Lewis, Cincinnati; Mrs. W. St. John Jones, Misses Jones, Cincinnati; J. B. Monnette, Fresno.

BRIDGE PARTY.

GLENDORA.

GLENDORA, Jan. 18.—The directors of the First National Bank and the First Savings Bank met yesterday and elected these officers: President, W. L. Wiley; first vice-president, C. S. Whitcomb; second vice-president, F. N. Hawes; cashier, H. C. Wentworth. Mr. Whitcomb, who had been president for two years, was obliged to retire on account of ill-health. The new president was formerly cashier of the Merchants' National Bank of Peoria, Ill.

The "Old Glory Circle" of the Ladies of the G.A.R. gave a banquet at the operahouse last night. Both Union veterans and Confederate soldiers were guests. Mrs. L. N. Snydom was toastmistress. C. H. Converse responded to the toast, "Our Flag;" Rev. O. A. Elliott, "Boys of '61," and C. N. Nye to "Reminiscences of the War."

The veterans, at the close of the banquet, organized a G.A.R. Post and instructed Comrade Wamsley to secure the necessary charter.

DECIDED.

PLAIN SPEECH BY GOVERNOR.

ALL ANTI-VACCINATION BILLS WILL BE VETOED.

President of Long Beach School Board and Superintendent Get Little Satisfaction at Sacramento. State Cases not to Be Tried in Police Courts—Coming Dinners.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 20.—President Hatch and School Superintendent Graham returned today from Sacramento, where they went in the interest of the anti-vaccination measure. They had an interview with Gov. Gillett and were told that he would veto all anti-vaccination bills passed during his administration, and that, with the State Board of Health, he felt that by its defiance, the Long Beach school board was the leader in the fight against the compulsory law.

Realizing from the interview with the Governor that an anti-vaccination law is a lost hope, a bill has been prepared providing that all cities with a clean bill of health may be relieved from the compulsory section of the law, at the discretion of the State Board of Health.

RULING AFFECTS POLICE.

In an opinion on the disposition of State cases by the police, concerning which there was a complaint made to the Police Commission some time ago, City Attorney Long has ruled that there should be no compensation paid by Justices to the police department for use in any fund and that the misdemeanor cases that can be prosecuted as State offenses should be taken to the Justices and not the police courts. The commission took the opinion under advisement.

William Phillips died this morning at his home on East Seventh street. He was a native of England and 76 years of age. He leaves a widow.

The Long Beach Building and Loan Association has elected these officers: Llewellyn Bixby, president; G. A. Mohrenstecher and Richard Loynes, vice-presidents; P. E. Hatch, treasurer; W. S. Stevens, secretary; George H. Bixby and J. E. Shrewsbury, additional directors.

BUSINESS MEN'S FEASTS.

Two banquets are in prospect for the business men of the city during next month. The realty men will feast on January 26 and will listen to an address by Capt. Amos Fries on "Our Water Front and the City's Interest Therein." On February 22 will take place the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce. The principal speaker is not yet selected.

Harry Miller, Carl Scioben and Ed Carron, the sailors who stole a slot machine from the Salt Lake depot at West Long Beach Sunday, and dumped it in the bay, were arrested this morning, and fined $10 each.

Will Parsons, Will Robertson and Hal Hawies, accused of rape on a thirteen-year-old girl now in the care of the Juvenile Court, were arrested today on complaint of Probation Officer Dodds, and taken to Los Angeles. Two others, brothers, named Lloyd, were taken into custody yesterday.

BAND IN PROSPECT.

Prospects are good for the reëstablishment of a municipal band, but it will be an American band, and not an Italian one. Prof. Wiley yesterday submitted a proposition to the Chamber of Commerce to maintain from March 1 a band of from twenty to twenty-five pieces and finance it himself, provided the Council makes an appropriation of $100 a month and gives him the use of the auditorium, which, however, will not be used for dances. In return for this, there will be six daily concerts every week and the band will make trips through the State to advertise Long Beach. The chamber will ask the Council for the appropriation at the next meeting.

TO BURY WAR AX.

Mass Meeting at Santa Monica to Settle Car Service Problem Amicably. Tax Resisted.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 20.—Citizens, property owners and tax payers are going to take a hand in the electric railway fight. They are going to endeavor to assist the Council and the trolley magnates to arrive at some satisfactory conclusion and bury the war ax. Under the auspices of the Board of Trade, a mass meeting has been called for Friday night at the City Hall. It is believed by the public in general that it is not yet too late for diplomacy to prevent a long-drawn-out legal tangle and restore to the city an electric car service that will give satisfaction to the residents of all sections of the bay.

Other matters to be discussed at this meeting are the liquor license question, the gambling ordinance and the vocation tax. The latter business men are preparing to resist. They say it is unjust in that the city does not collect from all. They believe the ordinance unconstitutional.

Santa Monica today forwarded $200 as her contribution for the relief of the earthquake sufferers in Italy. This sum was raised in a few days through the efforts of a local committee consisting of E. Gamberi, G. B. Snyder and J. B. Procter.

COMPLAINTS.

BOARD'S ACTION NOT POPULAR.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE THREATENS TO SUE TRUSTEES.

Redondo Controversy Over Sewer Connections Will Probably Be Taken Into Court—Ordinance Provides for Exorbitant Charges, Is Alleged—Mason Honored.

REDONDO, Jan. 20.—After several weeks delay, for the purpose (as stated by some of the members) of giving the Citizen's League an opportunity to show that the charges for sewer connection are exorbitant, the Trustees, at an adjourned meeting last night, passed a second plumbing and sewer connection ordinance. This provides for a charge of $5.50 for a permit and $20 for doing the work, giving to the city a monopoly of the business of making sewer connections and charging all property owners alike, notwithstanding the fact that the actual cost will vary, on account of location, from $2 to $40.

Members of the Citizen's League state that they will take the controversy into the courts on the ground that the permit fee is exorbitant, and far in excess of the cost of issuing the permit and inspecting the work; and, second, that the city has no power to assume the monopoly of making private connections with the sewer, or of charging more than the actual cost of making this connection.

The attitude of the Trustees is based upon the theory that the cost of connecting with the new outfall sewer should be a flat rate, the same to all, and upon the further theory that in this way only can the laboring men of Redondo have the chance to do the work at a fair remuneration.

There is a wide difference of opinion as to the actual cost. Several offers have been made to do the work at a flat rate of 35 cents per foot. The members of the board state that the work cannot be done for less than 50 cents per foot.

MASON SURPRISED.

P. S. Venable, last evening, on the occasion of his forty-seventh birthday, was surprised by fellow members of the Masonic Club. Called up on the 'phone about 7 o'clock, he was requested to go to the club rooms and take part in a game of whist. On his arrival, he found the entrance closed and the lights out. Somewhat astonished, he unlocked the door and switched on the lights. He beheld in the room his fellow members, and hearty congratulations were the order.

At 10 o'clock, Mr. Venable was escorted home, to find his house at Catalina and Diamond streets brightly lighted and filled with ladies. The guests, thirty-three in number, sat down to a banquet table, lighted by forty-seven candles, and bearing a huge birthday cake.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cavanah, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hinman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson, Mr and Mrs. W. J. COLLEGE MAN REINSTATED.

Faculty Restores to Membership in Pomona College One of Eleven Students Suspended.

CLAREMONT, Jan. 20.—Louie Kepner of Lemon, one of the eleven students recently suspended from Pomona College for participation in the "tubbing" of one of the instructors at the beginning of the Christmas holidays, has been reinstated by a special vote of the faculty. Kepner filed an individual petition for reinstatement, in accordance with the decree given out at the time of suspension.

The favorable action of the faculty was taken when it appeared, on statement of the participants, that Kepner took no actual part in any of the proceedings, but was merely a spectator of the "fun."

The undergraduates are particularly pleased with his reinstatement, as with the exception of Davenport, he was the most prominent athlete among those suspended. Student opinion regarded the first faculty action as very severe.

Kepner is not only a promising track candidate, being fast in the short and middle distances, but is one of the most valuable members of the basketball team, in which he has been playing center.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, Jan. 20.—At the East Side Improvement Association's meeting at the Episcopal parish house last evening, the subject for discussion was the need of a grammar school on the East Side of town. It was decided to hold a meeting at the High School Tuesday evening, to which all residents are invited.

The new officers of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church are: President, Beatrice Duff; vice-president, Edwin Lawyer; treasurer, Stella Weiman; secretary, Eunice Atkinson; chairmen, missionary, C. Alfred Eggleston; lookout, Muriel Fisher and Lesley Burt; prayer meeting, Susan Burt; social, Lloyd Casper and Alva Gardiner; sunshine and calling, Anna Miller; music, Alfreda Pearson.

Great success is attending the revival services in the Methodist Church which Frank Mathis and W. D. Pardun of Clarion, Iowa, are conducting, and which will continue until the end of the month. A special feature of each evening is the singing, led by Mr. Pardun.

Mrs. E. E. Walcott and her granddaughter, Eva May Walcott, are guests of friends in Orange.

A. J. Smith of Appleton, Wis., is the guest of relatives in this city.

The South Pasadena High School basketball team will play Throop High School boys Thursday afternoon on the Throop court.

Under the auspices of the Eastern Star, a recital will be given by Miss Mabel Tanner in the High School auditorium, Friday evening.

Mrs. G. J. Klein of Oakland, who has been the house guest of Mrs. Carrie Mead of Lyndon street, has returned to her home.

INGLEWOOD.

INGLEWOOD, Jan. 20.—At the annual meeting of the Board of Trade, Secretary T. E. Stevenson reported a membership of seventy-five. Since its organization, last March, this organization has done much for the advancement of Inglewood. The new directors are Rev. T. E. Stevenson, Dr. B. F. Eshelman, L. E. Calkins, Dr. H. A. Putnam, F. R. Weaver, C. H. Brown, H. W. Hunt, W. S. Magee, H. H. Zilligitt, A. O. Wright and W. L. Woodworth. The officers are: President, A. O. Wright; vice-president, F. R. Weaver; secretary, T. E. Stevenson; treasurer, H. H. Zilligitt.

The High School baseball team will play the Redondo High's team on Saturday afternoon.

The revival meetings at the Presbyterian Church, presided over by Rev. L. F. Laverty, have been very successful. Twenty-seven persons took communion, Sunday, as a result of his efforts.

Rev. A. W. Halsey of New York City, delivered a very interesting address on "The World-wide Work of Missions," at the Presbyterian Church, Monday evening.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Anent Buildings.

The Ruskin Art Club has accepted an invitation from the Friday Morning Club to occupy a room in the beautiful new home to be reared by the latter organization at Adams and Hoover streets.

This was decided yesterday at the Ruskin Art meeting. The room designed for its use is to be on the second floor in a particularly picturesque situation; and having easy access to the splendid art gallery, which will be a part of the structure. Arrangements for al fresco and other entertainments will be afforded. It seems particularly fitting that these two clubs should be together, even though the Ruskin Art will only lease its quarters from the sister organization.

Better Garbage Collection.

The women of the Cosmos Club have taken up the old fight for a better and more efficient collection of garbage. Mrs. J. G. MacLean, chairman of the Civic Committee, was chairman of the first Garbage Committee of the Los Angeles Civic Association, and labored valiently in the good cause for several years. Now she is in the lead again, and even courts the name which she bore of old, "The Garbage Lady." The committee presented the following petition to the Board of Public Works:

"Whereas, the women of Los Angeles have appealed to your honorable body on different occasions for five years urging the abatement of the distressing conditions existing regarding garbage collections; and

"Whereas, two years ago your honorable body did faithfully promise to remedy this evil by having the garbage collector go to the back door of every residence, carrying a city receptacle, into which they would empty the refuse from the householder's garbage vessel, and which promise has not been faithfully fulfilled therefore, we, the Cosmos Club, by its Civic Committee most urgently request that your honorable body now remedy the evil and abate the public nuisance which has so long disgraced our beautiful city, and fulfill the promise made two years ago by collecting all garbage from the rear of every residence in our city."

The petition was presented by the chairman, and the committee members, Mrs. W. O. Toliver, Charles Stanbury and John Hess. The Board of Public Works heartily indorsed the petition, and the committee will petition the Mayor and the City Council to grant such added funds as will enable the board to carry out the plans outlined.

Ruskin Art.

"The History of American House Building" was especially interesting at the Ruskin Art Club yesterday, the programme being led by Mrs. I. L. Hibbard and Mrs. J. B. Owens. Mrs. Morris Albee read a bright paper on "The Beginning of a National School," in which she urged that a house should be given a home atmosphere to be really beautiful and propriate, citing as examples the old early colonial homes of New England. Mrs. W. J. Saunders gave an interesting paper on the "Colonial Houses of Virginia and Maryland," precipitating a lively discussion.

Miss Frances Clarke gave an account of the houses of Connecticut, the noted old place structures of Philadelphia and of Washington, and Mrs. C. E. Day closed the programme with "The Reign of Terror in the '60's," which saw the worst and the best of American architecture.

George Junior Politics.

The Los Angeles Political Equality League has invited William R. George of the George Junior Republic to give an account, at the meeting on January 29, of the working of equal suffrage in the miniature republic which he founded. The girls in the George Junior and in the California branch of the George Junior have the ballot in their hands, and the working of equal rights to both sexes has been marked by rarely successful government, according to Mr. George.

BRIDEGROOM BEATEN.

M. D. Roderick Says He Was Attacked by Relatives Because He Loved Christian Girl.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because he became engaged to Mrs. Blanche Hahney, a pretty young Christian widow of McKinley, Pa., against the wishes of his family, who are orthodox Jews, Michael D. Roderick, an attorney, with offices in the Hartford building, says he was beaten into insensibility by two detectives, Tuesday evening, and that his life has been threatened.

Roderick, who is a brother of Ike Roderick, bondsman at the Harrison street station and a First Ward Democratic leader, today swore out warrants for his brother, Solomon Roderick, and his brother-in-law, Harry Linden, on the charge of assault.

Attorney Roderick, in his complaint, said he was seated alone in his office Tuesday evening, when his brother and brother-in-law entered, and, without a word, his brother-in-law pressed a revolver to his temple and said: "If you marry that Christian woman I will kill you."

When he remonstrated with them he said both his brother and other relatives attacked him first with their fists, and then with the butt end of the revolver. They did not cease their attack, he said, until he was unconscious, and the threats of unfriendly tenants drove them from the building.

The young attorney says that regardless of the outcome, he will be married to Mrs. Hahney, probably next June.

FAMOUS SUIT AT LAST ENDS

Pietra Case Settled by Compromise.

Twenty-five Thousand Given Common Law Wife.

Court Refuses to Recognize Lawyers' Claims.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Crow, in the Superior Court today, allowed the compromise of the suit of Mrs. Domingo Schiappa-Pietra against heirs of Leopoldo Schiappa-Pietra estate in Ventura county for $25,000. The estate is valued at from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The plaintiff, who claims to be the common law wife of Frederico Schiappa-Pietra, who owned the estate and who was a brother of Leopoldo, sued for half.

In considering the details of the compromise, which involves five children, each of whom is to get $25,000, Judge Crow discovered that the plaintiff had several months previous to the suit sought to have her declared incompetent and subject to guardianship, and to obtain agreements. One was with Attorney B. F. Thomas, allowing him one-half of her undivided interest in her share of the estate; another with Frank J. Maguire, allowing a commission of 10 per cent.; a third with José G. Moraga, netting him 5 per cent. for him.

It is all appearing from said instruments that they were made within a few months prior to the time when said Domingo Schiappa-Pietra adjudged to be an incompetent, from an examination of the said Mrs. Schiappa-Pietra in open court at the time, who was adjudged to be an incompetent, and in view of her advanced age, and the testimony offered herein showing that she never had any business responsibility or experience whatever; and from these agreements amount to more than one-half of the amount of the said Domingo Schiappa-Pietra may gain by reason of the said compromise; and for the further reason that if this petition is not granted as prayed for, it would result in a judicial determination of the validity of these agreements, without evidence than the agreements themselves, the court declines to allow the guardian to pay the moneys called for in said agreements, and orders them."

WARSHIP TESTS OIL.

Use of oil as fuel for warships tested today, in a test made by the Cheyenne over a measured course of 6 miles. She made eleven knots, burning about seven barrels an hour. This is only half the coal consumption for the same task. Later on in the test, this morning, said to be the best ever made by a vessel of the Cheyenne's class, Mrs. Cook was invited to see the gradual disappearance of the United States oil burners.

The Cheyenne took about 16,000 gallons of oil at Port Los Angeles, and her experience will indicate that oil will be about as expensive as coal; that it is dirtier and requires a smaller force to handle than coal. Moreover, it takes more room, so that a vessel can carry only enough oil in the tanks to replace the coal in her bunkers."

LOS ANGELES COUPLES.

AUTOS FOR BIG CELEBRATION.

EVERY CAR IN TOWN TAKEN FOR SIGHTSEERS.

Huge Conduit Which Will Supply San Diego With Drinking Water from the Mountains Is to Be Opened by Mayor and Officials of City Tomorrow.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 20.—For the purpose of conveying citizens to the Dulzura conduit, a part of the city's water system, every automobile available has been chartered by the Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the dedication ceremonies will be held next Friday.

The exercises will consist of addresses by Mayor Forward, G. Aubrey Davison, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and officers of the California Mountain Water Company. The distance from the city to Barrett's dam, where the celebration is to take place, is thirty-two miles, and the automobile excursion will be a spectacle in itself. Fully 200 machines will be on the road. Work on the conduit was begun in August, 1907. It is thirteen miles long. The carrying capacity is estimated at 40,000,000 gallons a day.

The conduit has two sources, one in Pine Creek and the other in the Cottonwood. A flume empties into the conduit on the southwest side of Pine Creek. From this point extending on the line of conduit, tunnels and flumes supported by bridges, passes the Barrett dam site and follows the route of Cottonwood Creek in a southerly direction. This will empty the water into Jamul Creek bed, and thence to the Lower Otay dam.

The tunnels are eighteen in number and were constructed in granite at a cost of $13 a foot.

The haulage of building material made up a large item of the expense of constructing the conduit, as can be judged from the fact that it cost $2.75 a barrel to take cement from San Diego to the Barrett dam. This made the cost of each barrel of cement used about $7.

The water system of which this conduit is so important a part will make available for San Diego water from more than 350 square miles of mountain water area. This area lies in elevations from 400 to 6000 feet above sea level.

In the mountain water shed of San Diego county the annual rainfall is greater than in any portion of the State south of the Tehachepi. A good portion of the shed is covered with snow a few months in winter. The amount of clear mountain water that is to be caught annually in the Cottonwood and Pine Creek sheds portion of the water system, including the new conduit, Barrett's dam and Morena reservoir, for the year 1907 was 30,360,000 gallons, or enough to supply a city more than seven times the size of San Diego.

THREE BRANCH JAILS.

Riverside Supervisors Order Them Built at Hemet, Banning and Desert Point.

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 20.—The erection of three branch county jails was ordered by the Supervisors today. These will be located at Hemet, Banning and some point on the desert—either Coachella or Indio. As they will be used only for the temporary detention of prisoners until they can be taken to the county seat, the jails will be inexpensively built, and will contain a single steel cell each.

That work will be resumed soon on the electric line between Riverside and Colton is promised by W. E. Dunn, attorney for the Huntington interests, in a letter which has been received by Mayor Evans. Mr. Dunn states that the company will double track on First street within three months, and hopes to do it considerably sooner. The greater part of the work of building the line has already been done, but operations were stopped some months ago because of the uncertainty of money and materials.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Riverside Mutual Investment Company held its annual business meeting last evening, electing as officers: Myron M. Millice, president; O. J. Palmer, vice-president, and Theodore D. Hurd, secretary and treasurer. The company is composed of business and professional men of the city who organized to make mutual investments in Riverside property. Directors are C. P. Hebert, George F. Mott, O. J. Palmer, R. H. Jessup, J. C. Harding, B. F. Velzy, J. A. Simms, Myron M. Millice, Theodore D. Hurd, S. J. Castleman, P. K. Frankenheimer, F. A. Gardener, I. S. Logan and F. T. Morrison.

Harwood Hall, superintendent of Sherman Institute, has been called to Washington, D. C., to confer with officials in regard to Indian work. He left, with his wife, this morning for the East. The call came from Commissioner Leupp, who is especially interested in Mr. Hall's management of the Sherman Indian school.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Della Smith, a pretty Santa Fé Springs girl, just out of her teens, and Claud Fells of Los Angeles, took place quietly this morning in the Courthouse. Police Judge G. A. French performed the ceremony.

SAN BERNARDINO.

HANGING DATE IS AGAIN FIXED.

DEPUTY SHERIFF'S MURDERER MUST MOUNT GALLOWS.

Appeal to Supreme Court in Case of Negro Unsuccessful—Carefully Guarded Last Attempt at Lynching Be Made—Electric Company Sues Colton—New Lawyers.

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 20.—Edward Silver, for the second time in eighteen months, today heard his death sentence pronounced for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff William Smithson, at Daggett. Silver's return to San Bernardino from prison was known to hardly more than a dozen people here, his presence being kept quiet to prevent any attempt at lynching.

The accused was first sentenced to be hanged on February 14, but his attorneys, John Pitts and Charles S. Darden of Los Angeles, retained by wealthy negroes of that city, were able to delay the execution by appeals to the Supreme Court. But now the Governor is the only one who stands between the prisoner and the gallows.

Neither of the attorneys for the accused appeared in court today, though Silver had a brief conference with Attorney Darden in the Arcade depot at Los Angeles this forenoon. The passing of sentence was very informal. Judge Bledsoe fixed the time of execution as between the hours of sunrise and noon, on February 19.

COLTON SUED.

The Home Gas and Electric Company of Redlands, this forenoon, commenced an action against the city of Colton to recover damages in the sum of $50,000, growing out of the municipality's refusal to permit the company to build an electric pole line through the city to the Colton substation for the delivery of power under a five years' contract entered into between the town and Seth Hartley, which Hartley had assigned to the plaintiff. The Trustees of the town rescinded the Hartly contract and made the award to the Edison Power Company. At the time this action was taken, City Attorney M. O. Hert told the board that it would result in a suit.

Under Sheriff McNabb, E. V. Surr, Revs T. M. Price of Highland, and F. T. Botes of Rialto, returned today from Los Angeles, where they were admitted to the bar after passing a rigid examination before the Appellate Court.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

George Everett Trefry, nineteen-year-old son of a wealthy Redlands family, was found dead in a local rooming-house this forenoon, from the effects of morphine poisoning. The suspicion is that he was a victim of foul play. Coroner Van Wie is making an investigation.

BEE GUARDIAN.

The bee-keepers of Southern California have started a movement requesting the Legislature to pass a bill providing for the appointment of a State bee inspector to take charge of an investigation of diseases, and foes of the bees "passing into the State, and from one county to another."

It is proposed to secure an annual appropriation of $2500 to carry on the work under the inspector. The belief is expressed that under the supervision contemplated bee culture will assume a prominent place in every county, and become less uncertain.

"FINDS" A DIAMOND.

Thomas McFarlane, a well-known local mining man, returned this morning from an absence of six months on the desert, and is exhibiting a rough diamond, which he declares he found while prospecting in the Death Valley country. The specimen was sent to a Tiffany expert, who was inspecting a gem mine owned by the company near Ludlow. He at once pronounced it a genuine stone, offered McFarlane $100 for the specimen and told the mining man he could count on receiving at least $75 for every specimen of the kind he found. McFarlane spent some weeks in the vicinity of the discovery, and got together many specimens.

SUES COPPER KING.

The C. J. Kubach Company of Los Angeles has brought a lien suit against W. C. Greene, the late Cananea copper king, to recover a balance of $21,210.70, alleged to be due on labor and materials furnished for Greene's residence at Redlands. The original contract figures were $103,526.60, the contract being on the structural iron and steel work.

SCHOOLS ARE CROWDED.

Ventura Needs Another Building. Best Raising Profitable—More Bonds Sold.

VENTURA, Jan. 20.—In the past year the attendance at the schools in this city has increased from 400 to 500. The buildings are crowded to such an extent that two of the primary teachers have ninety pupils. At a meeting of the school board, last night, three propositions were taken into consideration, as follows: The calling of half-day sessions, the engaging of a new teacher and the segregation of the grades. It was decided to engage another teacher in the primary department and to divide the ninety pupils in that department among three teachers. It will be necessary to use the small room in the Plaza school now devoted to sloyd work, until a new schoolhouse is erected.

The residence of Harry Gatchell of Saticoy was entirely destroyed by fire Monday night, with all the household goods and wearing apparel of the family. The fire was caused by the overturning of a lamp. Mr. Gatchell had just made the last payment on his home.

William Elijah Beason, 36, and Virgie Victoria Estes, 20, were united in marriage today by Justice Ortega. The couple came from Los Angeles but will make their home in Fresno.

PROFITS FROM BEETS.

Maj. Driffill of the Oxnard sugar factory has compiled figures which show that Ventura county land owners who put their lands into beets made an average net profit of $32.42 per acre the past season. There were 11,767 acres of land planted to beets, which returned more than a quarter of a million dollars without the worry of crop movement. This profit was realized on land which, before the establishment of the sugar factory, was not worth more than $10 to $20 per acre. It is stated that because of the uncertainty of bean movement after the crop is harvested there will be many acres turned to beets. The coming season it is estimated there will be fully 16,000 acres put into beets in this county. Of this amount, over half has already been planted.

At the meeting of the Trustees last night an additional $23,000 worth of 5 per cent. bonds were sold. Bidding was lively. The bonds were sold to William R. Staats Company of Pasadena at a premium of $2563, the bid being unconditional. Other bidders were G. G. Blymyer of San Francisco, who bid $2478; N. W. Halsey, San Francisco, bid $2366; J. H. Adams Company, Los Angeles, bid $2103; Bank of Ventura bid $2042 and Levy Bank of Oxnard bid $1308.

The city has paid the bill of $305.55, expense of the two detectives who rounded up a big "blind pig" in this city a few days ago. Yesterday this particular "blind pig" paid a fine of $450.

Not a lemon or orange tree in the county was touched by frost during the recent cold spell.

The Native Daughters' Improvement Club at its last meeting elected the following officers: Miss Minnie Daly, president; Mrs. Gandolfo, vice-president; Miss Maud McGonigle, secretary, and Miss Helen Nidever, treasurer.

SANTA ANA.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 20.—A thirty-head ditch leading from the Santiago Creek at a point below the County Park to the reservoir of the Serrano Water Company and the John T. Carpenter Water Co., supplying water to Villa Park and El Modena ranchers, was completed yesterday. The water companies own the reservoir site and land adjoining. The reservoir has covered about five acres. By spreading the water brought in by the new ditch the area may be increased to twenty-five or thirty acres.

Navel orange nursery stock in this county has been cleared out, and agents are searching in vain for more. Large shipments have been made to Fresno and Imperial counties. Trees two years out of the seed bed brought 90 cents and $1 apiece.

The Oceanside High School girls' basketball team was defeated here, yesterday afternoon, by the Santa Ana High School team by a score of 19 to 10. This morning the Oceanside girls played the Orange Union High's team at Orange and won, 25 to 19. Santa Ana now has two games from Oceanside, while Orange and Oceanside have a game each.

ORANGE.

ORANGE, Jan. 20.—Tomorrow is the day set by the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company to determine whether the capital stock shall be raised from $100,000 to $500,000. The directors want to carry on extensive water development work, but cannot raise the money while the capitalization is as low as it is. There is opposition to the measure. Both sides have been gathering proxies. The company irrigates 17,000 acres and stock goes with the land.

WOMAN HELD FOR SHOOTING.

Traveling Man's Wife Who Killed Wealthy Pork Packer Pleads Accident.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Otto Lauberg, the wife of a traveling salesman, living with their daughter, aged 11, at the fashionable Charlemont Hotel here, is held by the prosecuting attorney, although the Coroner's jury today found that she accidentally shot and killed Edward Gerber, a wealthy pork packer, who leaves a widow and daughter aged 13.

The shooting was done in the room of Miss Ethel Stewart's house, a rooming house at No. 1100A Market street, over a saloon, last night. Mrs. Lauberg gave her name as Badele St. Clair when arrested.

She testified she had turned the revolver on herself and snapped the trigger three times before turning the gun on Gerber, and then when she pulled the trigger, the fatal shot was fired unintentionally.

Miss Stewart corroborated her testimony. The police discovered Mrs. Lauberg's true name at the Charlemont Hotel. She testified she had known Gerber since she was a little girl, having lived near his packinghouse.

PRESIDENT GOING TO BERLIN.

Mr. Roosevelt Has Agreed to Address University Students in May, 1910.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN (Germany) Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The announcement that President Roosevelt has accepted the invitation to deliver an address before the students of the University of Berlin in May, 1910, following his return from Africa, is being discussed with lively interest.

The report is hailed with satisfaction by educational authorities.

Inquiries at the university develop the fact that the manner in which the invitation was extended makes a departure from precedent and in itself constitutes a conspicuous honor to the recipient. The invitation was sent him direct by the rector of the University of Berlin, which thus pays him honor purely in his capacity as a private personage of distinguished achievement.

Having fallen five stories yesterday while superintending the construction of a ten-story building in Houston, Tex., Jack Fois, formerly of Louisville, Ky., died early yesterday morning.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Possible rain kept many of the producers from bringing their products to the market and as a result, there was not too much fresh fruit and vegetables on hand. Buyers were slow and cautious, so that the higher receipts were quite sufficient to supply the demand. Strawberries of the first spring picking were offered at 15 cents a basket. Many of the old strawberries were sold at 5 and 7 cents. Montebello is sending a few fine raspberries regularly, and they still stick at from 20 to 25 cents a basket and are very firm at that figure. The fact that the season for cranberries is about over does not matter as the consumer is concerned, has brought the berries down a trifle. The dealers who hold the bulk of the cranberries went into a combine when the season opened and have been very successful in keeping prices up throughout the entire period for them. The present price is $14.00 a barrel. Last year at this time they were selling for $2.50 less, with about the same quantity of barrels on hand.

Egg prices are the same. Receipts reported by express were 113 cases. There were other arrivals of about the same number of cases, and this helped to keep the market at the present level. Eastern fresh sold on the street at the same figure as local case count. There were no arrivals of any kind from the East.

Arrivals of butter from single sources were 17,867 pounds. At the higher price, retail business shows some curtailment and the present receipts are entirely adequate to fill the demand. Cubes and prints added to the local production by several large creameries is filling any deficit of outside butter which may occur. Cheese was reported in fairly large quantities. Prices on cheese are showing considerable firmness, sympathy with butter being the cause.

Potato receipts over a single railroad were 1603 sacks. All varieties are on the rise, showing slowly toward higher figures. Highlands are perhaps in best demand. Local potatoes are already coming in better and continue to sell at $1 per 100 lbs. Onions were more firm and all first-class stock brings $2 a hundred. Several dealers are attempting to sell above that figure, but so far the price remains unchanged.

Sweet potato arrivals were 236 sacks. There were few spuds good enough to trade up to the extra fancy quality and as a result the market fluctuated considerably.

Apples are gradually going higher, but not nearly as rapidly as some of the dealers would have them advance. The demand at the continued low figures for this season has caused the stock to move regularly and in greater quantities than last year when they were bringing almost twice as much. Red Pearmains are being offered at $1.25, at which price best belleflowers are also moving. Smith Ciders have gone up 25 cents.

Fish were a little more plentiful, but only two or three varieties were able to fill their respective call. Rabbits were also a trifle more, while poultry receipts seem to be almost completely discontinued.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

UNION OIL IS IN SPOTLIGHT.

WEAKNESS OF ISSUES CLAIMS MARKET ATTENTION.

Ring of Local Exchange Buzzes With Rumors Concerning the Stock—Profit-taking Carries Down the Price—General Trading Is Active, but Soft in Places.

Trading was active on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, although the market for several of the leaders was very soft. Demand for other issues resulted in the list closing with fractional advances in these stocks.

The Union Oil issues claimed a good deal of attention because of their evident weakness, many rumors floating around the ring regarding the stock. Profit taking has carried down the price on Union and the affiliated issues.

Union sold down to 100.37½@101.50 at the close. Sales prices were ranged between 102.12½ and 102.60. The close shows loses of 2 1-8 and 2⅛ respectively, compared with the closing quotations of the preceding session.

Union Provident also suffered in the profit taking movement, selling between 100.12½ and 99.87½ on sales of 45 shares. It closed at 99.00@99.87½, off 1 3-4 and 1 5-8, respectively.

United Petroleum was quoted at 102.50@105.50, off ¼ and 1⅝, respectively. None of the latter was sold.

Associated Oil was a leader in the trading, and sold slightly above Tuesday's closing. It was quoted at 36.75@36.87½, up 1-8 in the bid. Sales amounted to 90 shares and prices ranged between 36.50 and 36.75.

Ten shares of Amalgamated Oil were sold at $5.00, and this stock closed with a loss of 7 1-2 points from the bid at $5.00@100.00. Olinda Land stock was handled at 22½, and closed at 21 7-8@23.

Globe Oil was another very active issue during the session. It sold at between 19 1-8 and 20, and was quoted at 19 3-8@20, at the close, a rise of 7-8 and 3-4, respectively, compared with the preceding day's close. Sales amounted to 3500 shares. There are attempts to account for this demand. It is asserted the dividend will be increased this next period on account of the lease recently made showing up well. If the dividend rate is not increased may be declared, as the company is said to have a considerable surplus in the treasury.

Ten shares of German-American Savings Bank were sold at 318.00 on the floor, and sales of thirty shares additional were reported off board at 316.50. The stock closed in demand at 317.00@321.50, up 7 points in the bid, and off 2½ in the asking price. Broadway Bank and Trust closed with a 1-point rise in the bid at 129.00, and none offered. Other banks were practically unchanged.

Continued inquiry for Home Telephone preferred resulted in a fractional advance in the stock, and a small gain in the bid in the asking price. It closed without sales at 58.62½@60.00, up 1-8 and ½, respectively. Home common was off ⅛ at 24.87½@25.00, without change in the asked price, being quoted at 24.25@25.50.

One $1000 first mortgage bond of the Home Telephone Company was sold at 90.00 on the stock board. The stock closed at 89@93, off ¼ and up 1½ points, respectively. Other bonds were firm and unchanged.

Trading among the mining stocks was light. One hundred Giroux Copper sold at 8.50. Searchlight Parallel was handled at 2 on the floor. Crescent Leather sold at 11.62½, and Grandby Consolidated at 105.00. Consolidated Mines was traded in at 1 3-4@1¾, buyer sixty days, and 1 7-8 regular. Johnnie Consolidated sold at 1 7-8 and Nevada Consolidated at 31.87½.

Albert Searl, who has been in the brokerage business for some time, has purchased a seat on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

MINING MARKET DRAGS.

Prices on Los Angeles-Nevada Exchange Show Few Changes from Tuesday's Trading.

Little of interest occurred during the sessions on the Los Angeles-Nevada Exchange yesterday. The mining market dragged along at nearly unchanged quotations. The Goldfield leaders show little change and scarcely any activity. The trading in the cheaper price stocks was at about the same prices as on Tuesday's session.

Goldfield Consolidated was handled at between 7.80 and 8.00, and 1100 shares sold. It closed at 8.00 bid, showing a 5-point advance over the closing bid of Tuesday. None was offered.

Tonopah closed at 4.45 bid, but without trading of any sort. The bid was 5 points above that of Tuesday. It was not offered. Daisy sold between 6.87½ and 7.00, 1000 shares changing hands. It was quoted at 6.62½, the bid showing a 2-point advance over the previous closing bid.

Combination Fraction was quoted at 1.18 @1.22 at the close after sales of 1200 shares on the morning call at between 1.19 and 1.21.

There was some fight trading among the Tonopahs. Jim Butler sold at 16½, Montana at 5.87½ and Tonopah Extension at .50.

California Hills wobbled about between 6¾ and 4¾, and closed at 5½@5¾ with sales at 5¾ on the informal. A total of 27,000 shares changed hands during the day.

Duplex Contact sold at 2¾ and Adams changed hands at 3. Lige Harris was handled at 4.00 for a thousand shares, while Searchlight Parallel sold at 3. Alliance was in demand at one cent and sales were reported at that price. It was quoted at 0.90@10.00 a thousand.

There was some trading in Globe Oil at 19, and Mexican Petroleum Common sold at 18 to the extent of 30 shares.

FIELD WON BY THE MIGHTY PEN.

OUR AMERICAN NOVELISTS SUIT AUSTRALIA BEST.

Not Only Is English Colony Buying American Books in Preference to Stories That Come from Mother Country, but She Is Buying English Books from American Publishers.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Dec. 30.—English publishers are getting more and more worried about Australia, which, so far as books are concerned, has become an American colony—rather more so than Canada. It seems that the dwellers in the antipodes are taking to American books instead of to those which come from England. The reason for this is said to be found in the fact that English authors go in too much for moralizing and character analysis; whereas Americans go in for action—quick and lots of it. Books which sell by the thousands in America meet with hearty welcome in Australia; those which set England on fire seldom raise even a spark in the British colony. In fact, most Australian newspapers have taken to criticising the English novel severely—even the most successful books of the season—and even questioning the intelligence of the British reader. In Australia, for instance, Marie Corelli is not at all popular; while Mrs. Humphry Ward is.

What hurts most is that American publishers have actually offered to contract with English authors to include the Australian rights with the American rights, and to pay better for the Australian rights than the English publisher often does. It's hard enough to have American authors swallowing the Australian market without having American publishers, by means of more attractive bindings and greater enterprise, beating the English publisher in his own colony with his own English authors. This is what happened long ago in Canada and nearly all of the big English authors now sell their Canadian rights to the American publisher instead of to the English publisher, thus getting not only larger sums per volume in Canada, but selling more volumes. There are rumors afloat, however, that something sensational is going to happen soon in the English publishing world—something little short of a revolution.

Buying books to match the color of the wall-paper is becoming customary nowadays. Most people thought this was some novelist's little joke at first; but publishers are considering it seriously. Books are purchased in large sets simply for decorative effect. For instance, it has been found that sets of Dickens, Thackeray, Lytton and others, when bound in green or bright blue sell much more readily than when bound in colors which do not match household color schemes.

Not only must the modern bookbinding permit of artistic handling, but there must be certain bindings for certain rooms. It will not do at all to have blue bindings in the dining-room. Here the books must be mostly red, well splashed with gold. They go better with the dining-room chairs. If your drawing-room is furnished in old gold, saffron books blend well with the drapery; and so on. In a library which has heavy paneling, or much woodwork, with dark chairs and curtains, books must be more or less sombre in "tone."

It has been suggested that, if decoration is all that is needed, books should be mere dummies. But this is denounced as heresy. Not only must books nowadays be genuine, but the pages must be cut; and some people even go so far as to have certain passages marked—whether they have read them or not. There is a species of literary "snobbery" which pretends to prefer books to motor cars; and the devotees of this fake "cult" will never admit that they have not read any mortal book you happen to mention. On this point they might be reminded of an interesting story recently told concerning the librarian of the city of Paris. As everyone knows, the Paris library is one of the finest in the world. Someone asked the librarian if he had ever heard of a certain book. He frankly admitted his ignorance. Whereupon his questioner expressed great surprise that a man with 2,000,000 books under his charge should not have been acquainted with a really well-known book. "You should not be at all surprised," said the librarian, "for there are more than a million books which everybody ought to read; whereas the average life allows us, at best, to read but 10,000 of them. This leaves an enormous balance unread, and, therefore, no one should hesitate to declare his ignorance of any book, however famous it might be."

The literary snob, however, will never own up; and even if titles are invented purposely to trap him, he naively tells you he has read books that have never been written. Anthony Hope, on this point, recently said: "I know it needs a little courage to own you have not read 'Paradise Lost,' but he advises his readers to be frank about their ignorance.

Literary treasures are always turning up in unexpected quarters in London. Some of the first editions of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam were recently found in an old book-shop. Though originally sold for 2 cents, they brought $300. They belonged to the Quaritch edition of 1859. Edward Fitzgerald had a lot of these first editions "cleared out" at 2 cents, and now and then one of them turns up, always to command a good stiff price from a book-lover. So far, the original firm of Quaritch has bought most of them back.

There is a queer little literary society in London which calls itself the "Pseudonyms." It is a secret organization; but not at all dangerous. The "Sudoes," as, of course, they have been nicknamed, meet weekly in one or other of the restaurants in London's Latin quarter—around Soho Square—and discuss various subjects of a bookish interest. The members air their views freely, and it rather adds to the fun of an evening if the views expressed are somewhat dogmatic. New authors are ruthlessly dealt with; but not necessarily because of their newness. Meritorious books are treated fairly, but "trash" gets more than its deserts. If some authors could listen to the discussions of their works which take place at the meetings of the "Pseudonyms" it would certainly act as a damper to further literary effort. Several librarians attend these meetings, and you often see there influential literary and artistic personalities, who, however, would not have it known to the outside world that they belong to such a society. The debates and "book dissections" take place behind closed doors, and everything is done "under the rose." Once invited to attend one of the dinners given by this little club, you are forever after expected to hold your peace as to what takes place. Strange to say, this little literary society is beginning to wield considerable influence in various directions. The founders have resolved to keep the society quite separate from all other similar undertakings, and persistently refuse to "affiliate" with them.
